THE CHURCH A SURE SAFE GUARD IN LIFE

Trials accord their country, devoted lovers accord each other—that devoted soldiers accord their superiors. Not every man can render Him the same sacrifice.
Can I ever forget Thee, O Christ? Thou hast come as a lover into my life when with yearning heart I was in search of some one to understand and love me as none seemed able to do. Thou hast come as a friend to me when I was friendless, without companionship or sympathetic counsel to inspire, to guide, to guard me.
Thou hast come to me as a Pilot when my fragile boat was set adrift upon life's swift running sea and no one was at the helm, and without. Thee destruction was swift and certain. Thou hast come to me as a Saviour when sin let its stain upon my life and there was none to blot it out and make me whole again but Thyself. Thou hast come to me as a Deliverer to break the shackles of unruly ambitions, misgoverned tempers, and unhalloved desires, so that I have learned somewhat of the heart meaning of the songs, "He breaks the power of cancelled sin. He sets the prisoner free." Thou hast come to me in the gloomy glades of my Gethsemanes when the cup has been so bitter until I have recognized that in that cup was my Father's will, and Thou didst help me to say, "Thy will be done."

Thou has comforted and counselled, steadied and strengthened me on my way to Calgary, whither I have gone falteringly, yet willingly, that I might share the fellowship of Thy sufferings, and had it not been for Thee I could not have "endured the cross nor despised the shame." Thou hast been in all to me. How, then, can I ever forget Thee?
And can I forget Thy Church, O Christ? I would never have known Thee at all had it not been for Thy Church. Through her my salvation, my education, my consolation, my inspiration have come, and I can never do without her ministry. Let me adopt the prayer of another, and let me remind myself that all these ambitions for Christ which I crave are to be fulfilled through Thy Church. "I should like to be rich for thee," I would have diamonds from the mine and pearls from the ocean—to give Thy hungry bread. I should like to be famous for Thee; I would be a leader of all fashions if could lead Thy wanderer home. I should like to be gifted for Thee; I should covet being a great novelist if I could paint Thine image in a humane soul. I should like to be joyous for Thee; it is when my heart is gladdest that I minister most to Thy sons or sorrow. Thou art my field of enterprise; O Christ, I would sing for Thee; I would work for Thee; I would weep; I would husband Thy orphans; I would overflow for Thine orphans; I would prosper for thy Poor I would be crowned with glory and honor for the comforting of Thy brother's pain.
I would serve thee in Thy Church until every talent shall have been invested and every ransomed power shall have been exhausted; and whenever and wherever death shall overtake me, let my last thoughts be of Thee, and as Thou dost look into my face, and I look into Thine, let it be my joy to say with my last breath: "I've not forgot; I've not forgot!"

CUT THIS OUT AND PASTE IT UP.

Almost every day The Guardian receives orders by mail to insert news matter of an advertising nature. In most of these cases the senders, who are frequently not known to any member of the staff and who have no account in the advertising department, write "Please insert the following and oblige," thus apparently implying that they think the items will be inserted free. Only a few weeks ago a reader wrote asking that his advertisement of Farm for Sale be inserted free from day to day until he cancelled it, as he is a subscriber to The Guardian. In this connection it may be said that the subscription price is not sufficient to even pay the actual cost of paper, ink, presswork, mailing, nookkeeping and other expenses of the Circulation department proper, and thus subscribers have no privileges of free advertising and are on the same footing as non-subscribers. Seldom ever does the sender state whether the item is to appear in the Morning Daily or the Rural Daily, whether for one or more times in either Daily, or in both, whether as a display advertisement, announcement, business local, classified ad or otherwise. When for church or charitable purposes they seldom ever say so, or do not enclose sufficient money to pay for same all of which will be returned by first mail in the event of the item not being chargeable; or if returned at once, there being a greater discount for cash with order for advertising of churches & than for regular business. In all such cases the Advertising department communicates with the sender as quickly as possible by mail or phone, often paying the messenger service to get them to the telephone if not too far distant, thus saving all possible time. People write this office to know if News, Letters to Editor, etc., are charged for, and to all such there is but one reply—all items etc of a money making nature, even though they be somewhat of a news nature, are chargeable. For instance, the advance notice or notices of a concert, lecture, pie social, picnic, etc., are chargeable if an admission fee, silver collection, sale of pies or sale of food or refreshments, etc. Advance notices of purely religious services, even tho a silver collection is to be taken up, are not chargeable. The particulars of any of the above, after they have been held, are, however, news and thus not chargeable. The news of any past, present or future business, which is still being conducted, is chargeable, if it is apparent that the object is to make the business more widely known and thus increase it. Verses accompanying death notices are also chargeable. Even items which are actual news and not chargeable for but once in either Morning Daily or Rural Daily or both are chargeable for more than one insertion, as they are thus not news.

The above facts are given for the purpose of assisting persons who have items, etc., to mail to this office, so that delay and disappointment will be avoided.

OAK LEAF

sired by Oakley Baron 42948, 1 dam by Barney B., 2 dam by Kimbel Morgan. This colt is dark bay, 16 hands, weighs 1220 lbs., with lots of bone and muscle to make the right kind of a horse for all kinds of work. He is an exceptional fast pacer with lots of staying powers which he has proved when he started last season against old tracked horses and staying right there to the finish. This horse will make a short season and then will go in the hands of a trainer and then the public will likely hear from him before the trotting season is over. Oak Leaf will leave Bridgetown on May 9, to Ennis McDonald's, Launching, noon; thence to P. McIntyre's, New Port, for tea; thence to D. McLean's, Cardigan, over night; thence to his owner's stable, where he will remain until Friday, 12th, when he will go to J. A. E. McDonald's, Little Pond, noon; thence to Mr. Jackson's for tea; thence to L. Deagel's, Rollo Bay, over night; thence by Dingwell's Mill to home, where he will remain until the 15th, when he will go through St. Peter's Road and Martindale to M. O'Brien's, Bangor, at noon; thence to Bristol Mills over night; thence to St. Peter's Bay for noon; thence through Cardigan Road and Forest Hill to his owner's stable, where he will remain until the 22nd, when he will go on the Launching route again. This route will be followed fortnightly, health and weather permitting.
Mares at owner's risk.

What Will it be This Year? An Ordinary Crop or A Better One?

Are you satisfied with getting meagre returns for your labor, time and trouble on the farm or will you make sure of a larger and better crop and use these unmixed fertilizers?

There's only one way to make your land produce its maximum yield each year and that is by supplying all the necessary elements of fertilization that the ground requires. And the only way to supply these elements, accurately, scientifically and economically is by using unmixed fertilizers.

Give These Fertilizers A Thorough Test.

Don't take our say—so about the good points of these fertilizers. Put them to practical tests. Make an experiment. We know that the ground treated with these unmixed fertilizers will produce better and greater results than ground treated any other way. We know that once you see these fertilizers you will never go back to any other kind. We know these fertilizers will bring you more money, larger crops and mean less work for you.

Methods of Applying Fertilizers

Fertilizers may be applied by hand or by machine. Some modern grain seeders, potato and corn planters, have attachment for sowing fertilizers. There are now some makes of broadcast fertilizer distributors on the market. Where large quantities of fertilizers have to be applied the machine is a great labor-saver, and by its use a more equal distribution is insured. Generally speaking the broadcasting machine is preferred to the drill or to any of the other mechanical devices referred to.

Broadcasting by hand is easily and simply performed. The sowing "hopper" or basket might be described as a crescent-shaped canvas-covered frame, with waijst and shoulder straps attached. Both hands are used in the operation, and to obtain the proper rhythmical motion it is important to note that the right arm is swung backwards from the hopper as the left foot advances, and vice versa. The length of the stride can be adjusted to the thickness of sowing desired. The breadth of cast is usually about the width of four potato or turnip rows.

Horsemen Attention!

DR. J. WOODBURY'S HORSE LINIMENT & DR. J. WOODBURY'S CONDITION POWDERS will save and preserve the life of your horses. Their use will cure and prevent the disease common to horses, such as, Cough, Colds, Distemper, Glanders, Spavins, Pink Eye, Splints, Curbs, Enlargements, Cracked Hoof, Kidney Trouble, Fevers, Cuts, Sores and will remove bunches of all kinds.

BEFORE USING

Use this preparation thoroughly for all and every disease of the horse for which it is recommended. Criticise it closely. Carefully watch, mark and note its effects, and, honestly judging it on its merits, you will be compelled to endorse it.

This is to certify that I have used Dr. J. Woodbury's Horse Liniment with the very best results for colds, coughs, distemper and all lung diseases. It is the best thing to give horses in the spring to keep them in condition. It purifies the blood, cleanses the lungs from impurities which may exist, and gives the system a healthy action.
