All The Children Are On Their Best Behaviour Expecting a Visit From Santa Pals—Shall They Be Disappointed?

"But just 'fore Christmas I'm as good as I kin be." So wrote James Whitcomb Riley of the children of his day, and they are the same today. In anticipation of Christmas most children are on their best behaviour. Would it not be a black-burning shame if this outward and visible indication of the faith within them went for naught? Here they are all looking forward to the greatest day in the year in their brief life when Santa Claus will bring them something they have longed and, perhaps, prayed for. Will they be disappointed?

Meagre News Of Premiers' Parley Released To Press

Dominion-Provincial Conference Committees In Session Yesterday.

(C. P. By Guardian's Special Wire) OTTAWA, Dec. 11—No new schemes will be considered under the Natural Products Marketing Act, and schemes already in operation will not be further expanded, it was announced today to the Dominion-Provincial committee of agriculture by its chairman, Hon. James G. Gardiner, Minister of Agriculture. A sub-committee was appointed to prepare a resolution on farm credits and debt adjustments. The Natural Products Marketing Act passed in 1934, has been operating in practically every part of Canada and is now among the half dozen statutes referred to the supreme court of Canada for decision as to their constitutional validity. Five of the six conference committees were in session today and all reported progress but there was no indication they had reached the stage where they would wish to report back to a plenary session of the conference. The original agenda and program called for committee sessions until Friday. Finance Minister Charles Dunning, chairman of the committee on finance, published report that Premier Mitchell Hepburn of Ontario had proposed a straight interest reduction to a maximum of three percent throughout the Dominion. Mr. Dunning said that "naturally the discussion covered a wide range of problems and was free and unfettered. Any tentative proposals made by a province are regarded by the conference as confidential." Today's developments brought only two positive announcements in the meagre summaries prepared for the press. These were the resolution adopted by the committee on constitutional amendments instructing the Secretary of State (Hon. Fernand Rinfret) to convene a committee of appropriate officials, Dominion and provincial, to draft a uniform companies act applicable throughout Canada, and appointment of the sub-committee on farm credits and debts. It is understood the committee on the British North America Act is considering chiefly the need of amending the constitution and the procedure to be adopted in obtaining amendments. It is not expected the committee will deal definitely with any particular amendments that might be deemed desirable. Some discussion has taken place as to the limitations that should be placed on whatever amending powers are to be sought. Unification of all highway regulations, motor vehicle laws and rules governing the use of buses and trucks, occupied the committee on tourist and transportation questions. A sub-committee appointed to deal with this question reported this afternoon and was instructed to go further into the question. Sub-committees appointed to deal with the trans-Canada highway, tourist traffic and national parks, reported to the main committee today and their recommendations were being considered. Discussions in the committee on agriculture and marketing were confined almost entirely to the Farmers Creditors' Arrangement Act and the Natural Products Marketing Act, both of which were part of the Bennett government's reform program, and both now before the supreme court for a test of their constitutional validity. While these acts are in the courts no new operations are being entered into with respect to marketing, and no new regulations are made concerning existing schemes. The committee headed by Hon. Norman McL. Rogers, Minister of Labor, continued its work on unemployment and social services.

Made Furthest Trip North Of Any White Woman

Visiting Province To Study Fox Industry, Miss Langberg Has Had Thrilling Experiences In Greenland.

Wishing to study silver fox ranching at first hand—in Prince Edward Island, birthplace of the industry—Miss Emmy Langberg of Copenhagen, Denmark, distinguished Greenland explorer, journalist and authority on Eskimo traditions and customs, arrived in Charlottetown by plane from Moncton yesterday afternoon, and plans remaining a few days in the course of a tour which will cover a considerable part of the North American continent. Miss Langberg was secretary to the late Knud Rasmussen, Danish explorer, and with him travelled to within six degrees of the North Pole—the farthest northern journey ever made by a white woman. The trip was made in 1928, with a party of five sailors and Rasmussen, in a ninety-ton boat to visit the most northerly tribe of Eskimos in the world. The journey took them to the northern tip of Greenland. "The Eskimo women there had never seen a white woman," Miss Langberg said in an interview with a Guardian representative last night. "They had heard I was coming. It is amazing how rumors spread in Greenland! So they came paddling in their kayaks from miles around to see me. They couldn't believe I was a real woman. They had to touch me, to make sure. Then they told Knud Rasmussen that I was all right, but my clothes were terrible, and they sat right down and made me a new outfit." The "outfit" was made of the finest furs Miss Langberg had ever seen. The trousers were of white and blue fox, and the jacket was of sealskin. It was such a beautiful suit that subsequently she presented it to the National Museum of Copenhagen. This was but one of many northern journeys Miss Langberg made, including six trips to Greenland and a sledge journey to Lapland. During her Greenland travels she learned to shoot walrus, to hunt for bears, and to paddle a kayak. She slept in the Eskimo huts, on a communal platform along with everyone else. The Eskimos named her Imuk, which means milk, because she was so fair. Miss Langberg accompanied her Excellency, the American Minister to Denmark, on her recent trip to New York. Associated with the Danish-American Society, she is studying photography and motion pictures as well as fur farming, and has a unique experience in

King George Will Again Broadcast Greetings

(C. P. By Guardian's Special Wire) OTTAWA, Dec. 12.—In the presence of his family at the country home in Sandringham, King George again will broadcast a Christmas message to a listening Empire. This year His Majesty will be introduced by a small girl before a microphone in far away New Zealand. The Empire broadcast will be heard in Canada from 9:30 to 10:00 a. m. on Christmas Day over the Canadian Radio Commission's national network. Canada's part in it will fall to an Ottawa family, who will send greetings to relatives in England, Ireland and Australia and tell how they are spending the day. Other "sound pictures" of this kind will come from England, Ireland, Scotland and Wales, alternating with South Africa, India, Australia and New Zealand, where the little girl will be allowed to sit up well after midnight—it is early forenoon in Canada and afternoon at Sandringham—to introduce the King.

DISORDERS CONTINUE IN CAIRO

Present Administration To Be Replaced by Anti-British Government.

(By Gayle Talbot, Associated Press Foreign Staff) (A. P. By Guardian's Special Wire) CAIRO, Dec. 11—New street riots flared in Cairo tonight, unquenched by announcement that the cabinet of Premier Tewfik Nassim Pasha had acceded to Nationalist demands and decided to resign. Crowds smashed 10 street cars, burning two of them, stoned a gas station, wrecked street lamps in a fresh outbreak of the anti-British disorders which have claimed eight lives in recent weeks. King Fuad, ruler of this nominally independent kingdom, was thought to have no alternative but to supplant the present administration with a united and aggressive anti-British government. Nassim and his ministers will submit their resignations tomorrow. The King, who is confined to his palace by ill health, was expected to take a day or two to announce his decision, but it was understood he would accept. The Premier, after his cabinet had decided to resign, visited the home of former Premier Nahas Pasha, chief of the Wafd (Nationalist) party for a council of peace. He was accompanied by Mohammed Mahmud Pasha, Liberal constitutional leader. The thirtysix bitter political opponents have drawn up plans for a United front on resisting British influences in Egypt. Earlier Nassim emerged from conference with Sir Miles Lampson, the British High Commissioner, to report that Great Britain would not permit Egypt to return immediately to constitutional government. The Premier has headed a stop-gap government, representing no party, since the constitution was suspended a year ago.

League Nettled

The League was nettled because it was ignored by France and Great Britain, which did not send Geneva a text of the African peace proposals. Officials pointed out that Sir Samuel Hoare, British Foreign Secretary, in a speech here said when peace suggestions took concrete form Britain and France "would take the earliest opportunity to place them before the council." The League had asked these two powers to continue peace negotiations. An Italian spokesman, while refraining from forecasting Italy's reply to a new peace offer, said naturally he anticipated that for the moment no date would be fixed for an oil sanctions.

Sanctions Functioning

The League's general staff on sanctions completed a report tonight indicating that sanctions are functioning remarkably well. The committee of 18 will meet tomorrow to discuss this report, while awaiting the peace replies from Mussolini and Emperor, Haile Selassie. Although the oil sanction is scheduled for discussion then, apparently no action will be taken until the Anglo-French peace formula situation is ironed out. "The nations have already notified the League they are ready to add oil, coal, iron and steel to the list of sanctions against Italy. They are Austria, Rumania, Argentina, Irak, Finland, New Zealand, The Netherlands, Siam, India, and Czechoslovakia. The menacing situation in Egypt and a desire by Britain and France to reestablish quickly the stress front they formed with Italy were described in League circles as the outstanding reasons why London and Paris quickly drafted a new Italo-Ethiopian peace plan.

LONG SOUGHT PAIR ARRESTED

Held In Labatt Kidnapping Case. (A. P. By Guardian's Special Wire) OTTAWA, Ill., Dec. 11.—A trap set by U. S. Justice Department agents snapped shut today on two alleged kidnapers of John S. Labatt, wealthy Canadian brewer, ending a 14-month hunt over most of North America. The pair were nabbed after a lively street chase in downtown Ottawa. Their arrest was officially confirmed later by J. Edgar Hoover, head of the Justice Department's bureau of investigation in Washington.

Postponement Of Oil Embargo Is Seen.

LEAGUE NETTLED Council Slighted In Anglo-French Move, Claim

(By Joseph E. Sharkey, Associated Press Foreign Staff) GENEVA, Dec. 11—An implacable stand against any big concessions to Italy at the expense of Ethiopia's sovereignty took form tonight among smaller powers of the League of Nations. It came on the eve of a session of a committee meeting to consider an oil embargo against Premier Mussolini's nations. Russians, Turks, Bulgarians, Finns, Czechoslovakians and delegates from the Scandinavian countries were said to be among those expressing opposition to any sacrifice of Ethiopia or League principles. One delegate said the Little Entente and the Balkan Entente would certainly protest if there is any flagrant disregard of the League covenant—which the smaller powers regard as insurance against aggression upon them.

Rift Reported Between Hoare And Eden

By Charles Nuttner, Associated Press Staff Writer (By Guardian's Special Wire) LONDON, Dec. 11.—Great Britain tonight looked to Geneva for action on a new Anglo-French peace plan while an under-current of press and popular disapproval persisted. Anthony Eden, Minister of League Affairs, departed for the headquarters of the League of Nations amid a cloud of rumors. With him were sanctions experts, who, it was understood, had been instructed to withhold British support for the projected oil embargo against Italy until the peace plan is threshed out. An indication of the feeling against the peace plan was the announcement that five Conservatives and two National Liberals would bring up a resolution condemning "any peace plan which makes large concessions to Italy." Reports were rife of a serious rift between Sir Samuel Hoare, the Foreign Secretary, and Eden. It was rumored the latter was going to Geneva in a new role—that of an observer, instead of in his former part as a driving force behind sanctions. It was Sir Samuel who with Premier Laval of France, formulated the new peace plan.

Peace Scheme Is Rejected By Ethiopia.

TAKE FIRM STAND "No Premium For The Italian Aggressor" (By Edward Kennedy) Copyright 1935 By The Associated Press) PARIS, Dec. 11.—Ethiopia answered a French appeal for a "conciliatory spirit" tonight with flat resistance to any "premium for the Italian aggressor." Wolde Mariam, the Ethiopian Minister to Paris, delivered his kingdom's reply after a conference with Premier Laval. The French Premier, working at top speed to smooth the way for the new Anglo-French peace terms, already was reported assured the proposals have "every chance" of Italian acceptance. Emperor Haile Selassie's envoy, in a formal statement, declared his nation had been "the victim of an unjustified aggression, solemnly condemned by unanimous vote of the council and assembly of the League of Nations."

U.S. GROWERS PROTECTED UNDER QUOTA

Potato Import Quota Divided Among 17 Nations. WASHINGTON, Dec. 11.—The agricultural adjustment administration announced today 2,777,000 bushels of potatoes may be imported to the United States in the year which began Dec. 1, without payment of the new Potato Act's 45-cent tax. This quota, divided among 17 nations, is intended to protect American growers. The regular tariff of 75 cents a bushel must be paid on table potatoes within the quota. For each bushel imported in excess of the quota, the additional charge of 45 cents will be imposed. A reduction in the 75-cent tariff on certified seed potatoes was made in the recent Canadian trade agreement. A similar quota was established for this type. Canada will supply the bulk of the imported tax-free potatoes with an allotment of 2,682,067 bushels based on its six-year average of 2,750,180 bushels.

Local Man Arrested In Amherst

AMHERST, N. S., Dec. 11.—Edward Perry of Charlottetown, arrested on a charge of creating a disturbance and being under the influence of intoxicating liquor, was released from county jail today, having served his term of one week. He immediately called on Chief of Police Weatherbee, thanking him for taking him in charge.

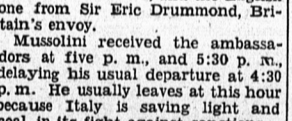

Shun Plan

Hence, he continued, "in these conditions the Ethiopian Government is firmly determined to hold at a distance any proposals which, under a direct or indirect form, would accord a premium to the Italian aggressor." Similarly, Mariam added, Ethiopia must shun any plan which would not meet the fundamental principles of the League, "particularly the principle of the territorial and political integrity of Ethiopia, and would tend to bring pressure to bear on a feeble state in order to lead it to submit to the domination of a powerful nation."
