WEDDING BELLS.—Some weeks ago, an event of interest to many in these parts took place in Montreal, when Mr. John W. MacLeod M.A., B. Sc., of the Greenwood Coal Company, Thornburn, N. S., was united in marriage to Miss Margaret M. Ross, daughter of Dr. A. and Mrs. Ross, Charlottetown. The ceremony was performed in the church of St. Andrew and St. Paul by Rev. D. J. Fraser, D. D., principal of the Presbyterian College, Montreal, in the presence of immediate friends and relatives, among whom were Capt. Jas. D. MacLeod, M.C., brother of the groom and Malcolm Ross, Medical student at McGill University, brother of the bride; Profs. D. A. Murray, Ph. D., W. D. Tait, Ph. D., Charles Sullivan, Ph. D., H. M. McKay, Prof. McGill University, Prof. Cyrus and Mrs. McMillan, Rev. Dr. Geo. Adams, A. R. McBean, M. A., and Mr. and Mrs. Ross Cameron, Miss Ross, before her marriage was Superintendent of the Ross Memorial Hospital R. V. H., Montreal. The happy couple spent some time visiting points of interest in Canada before leaving on the 23rd Nov., for a trip to England.

S. D. U. DEBATE.—One of the best debates of the year was that which took place on Wednesday, Nov. 28th. The subject "Resolved that the mind of woman has had a greater influence on civilization and happiness than that of man," was one which gave a wide field for argument. Great credit is due the speakers on both sides and especially the leaders. The eloquent manner in which the speeches were delivered would add to the reputation of some of our most noted orators. Nothing was left undone or unsaid by either side that might help to win the decision of the judges. These worthy men unflinchingly gave their decision in favour of the affirmative, but we are led to believe that they were somewhat prejudiced to that side of the question. The critic wishes to announce that donkey of which he spoke has returned. The following are the speakers:—Pro. E. Doyle, T. McAvinn, R. O'Neill, V. Murphy, J. McMillan, Con. Aubin Gallant, H. Griffin, D. McInerney, J. McCabe, J. Sullivan, Critic Mullally.

Bank of Montreal

saw starting forth in life as juniors in our service. They grew to manhood and rose to positions of promise and responsibility under my own eye. Then came the call of our mother and in the hour of deadly peril; and answering with a last hand-grasp within these walls, they went forth purposefully, firm of step and erect of head, to defend with their lives the honour of the Empire they loved so well.

"We shall see their faces no more. In the service of their King and Country they endured the sharpness of death, and now sleep their eternal sleep thousands of miles from their native land!

"I cannot recall such names as Jellott Barker, Geoffrey Sheffield, Archibald Fraser and John Vessey without a lump in my throat. I mention these four only because I knew them from their boyhood. In the words of His Majesty King George, 'Were I to mention all who are deserving of praise there would be no exception for our whole contingent is illustrious!'

"Their spirits are surely with us here to-day at this unveiling. Their names are not merely graven on the walls of the atrium of this cherished edifice but will live on woven into the traditions of this bank and into the history of their country."

Sir Vincent Meredith then unveiled the memorial and while the gathering remained in silence as a tribute to the fallen, the great white figure stood out in the subdued light in towering relief against the sombre and lofty columns by which it is surrounded.

THE MONUMENT

When it was first decided to erect a memorial in the Head Office of the Bank, an international competition was instituted, sculptors being invited to submit designs suitable to the perpetuation of the memory of the many men of the Bank who made the last great sacrifice in the cause of liberty and civilization. The terms of the competition called for the figure of a soldier typifying all who had fallen. Such a figure, designed for enlargement in bronze, was produced by the winning sculptor, James Earl Fraser, and is the figure which is to be unveiled at Winnipeg. During a visit to the Bank, an inspection of the entrance hall, with its majestic columns of dark granite, giving the place a dignity and atmosphere seldom associated with a commercial structure, was an inspiration to the sculptor. In addition to the figure of a soldier in bronze, Mr. Fraser conceived a figure in pure white marble—a figure emblematic not of death, but of Victory. So splendidly appropriate was the design of this figure that the Committee unanimously accepted it. It was also decided to erect the soldier figure in bronze in front of the chief Branch of the Bank in the West at Winnipeg.

The figure of Victory is nine feet in height, sculptured in white Serezza marble, and it stands upon a pedestal of Botticino marble eight feet high, so that the total height is seventeen feet. The base of the pedestal is decorated on all four sides with fables in very low relief, with fastoons of laurel hanging between them. On the side facing the entrance to the Bank is incised the word "Patria," followed by the wording: "To the Memory of our men who fell in the Great War." The figure of Victory stands with her arms folded over a sword covered with palms, which with the draperies, the corselet and helmet, are all brought into an impressive unity. The figure gives an impression of steadfast serenity, yet its features are farmed by a touch of human sympathy that in a subtle

IN MEMORIAM

MR. NICHOLAS WHITE.
Following an operation in the New England Baptist Hospital, on Nov. 27, 1923, he passed to his eternal rest Nicholas White, aged 68, leaving to mourn an only daughter, Mrs. Charles Hennessy, of Boston, Mass., who arrived in the city (accompanied by her husband) Friday evening, bringing her father's remains; also a sister, Miss White of Charlottetown; two half-sisters, Miss Ellen Crockett, of Halifax, and Miss Boswall, of Boston, Mass.

Mr. White was a life-long member of the Methodist church, and for forty years on the staff of the Charlottetown Post Office. His funeral took place on Saturday from the residence of Mr. James Pancher, Hillsboro street, the Rev. M. W. Ryan officiating. Notwithstanding the unpleasant weather, a large number of friends followed his remains to their last resting place in the People's cemetery to await the resurrection of the just.

My Experience is that DR. CALDWELL'S LAXATIVE SYRUP PEPSIN Is just what you need

This Will Make Digestion Easy

WHAT the dyspeptic needs is not soda and charcoal and breath perfume, but a medicine that will help his bowels to move regularly, for dyspepsia and constipation are allied. If you will take Dr. Caldwell's Laxative Syrup Pepsin systematically as the directions on the package call for you will soon digest your food properly and pass it out normally, and heartburn, belching, dizziness, nervousness and bloating will vanish. In time you can dispense with all medicines as Laxative Syrup Pepsin will have exercised the intestinal and stomach muscles so they act for themselves. Mr. E. N. Goggin, 338 St. Patrick St., Ottawa, Ont., writes: "I have used Dr. Caldwell's Laxative Syrup Pepsin for several years, and I can say that it has cured my chronic constipation, and I have never had a headache since I began to use it."

World Acclaims Success

Dr. Caldwell's Laxative Syrup Pepsin is the prescription of a well-known physician of that name who practiced successfully for 47 years. It has been on the market 30 years and is today the largest selling liquid laxative in the world. Thousands of families have it in their medicine chest ready when any member shows signs of dyspepsia, constipation, torpid liver, sour stomach, biliousness, coated tongue, offensive breath, headaches and such ailments that indicate deranged stomach and bowels. Many serious diseases are prevented by this timely aid.

Formula Plainly Stated

Have no hesitancy giving Dr. Caldwell's Laxative Syrup Pepsin to anyone young or old. It is a mild, gentle laxative free from narcotics. It will not cramp or gripe. The formula is on the package, a compound of Egyptian senna with pepsin and simple aromatics. A bottle can be had at any drug store and averages less than a cent a dose. Economical for families and fully guaranteed. You will find it a great improvement in taste and action over castor oil, or "candy cathartics" made from coal-tar that cause skin diseases, colic, that loosens the teeth, salts in water or powder that concentrate the blood and dry the skin.
