Another Forward Step By Lambros Brothers

Those who are reading the "signs of the times" see in the near future a commercial and industrial awakening in Canada, in every section of it, and are making their preparations accordingly. It is pleasing to find that in Charlottetown as well as elsewhere the men of vision are awakening to the new possibilities and are laying their plans to meet them.

Saturday, a representative of the Guardian had the pleasure of seeing in operation a new mechanical device, new here but in general use in the larger cities of the United States, for repairing boots and shoes. This device has just been installed bby the Lambros Brothers in connection with their well known shoe shine parlors on Sunnyside. The machine or rather the system of machines is called "The Goodyear Welt Shoe repairing system." It is operated by electricity and consists of a Goodyear stitcher which stitches a sole or half sole on to a boot or shoe in a couple of minutes, boring through several thicknesses of leather and stitching with strong waxed thread evenly and artistically. The boot goes from this machine to a trimmer, thence to a scourer, a polisher a colouring machine, black, tan, grey etc., a duster—and to the waiting customer. A pair of boots or shoes can be soled or half-soled with leather, neolin or rubber in from ten to thirty minutes; that is, a customer from the country can have his boots repaired while he waits. The repairing is not a hasty, slipshod process. The stitcher is the same as is used in the larger factories for making new boots and the work is as well done as material can do it.

Mr. Joseph Lambros, the senior member of the firm has worked for several years in one of the large boot and shoe factories in the United States and thoroughly understands the work, from repairing up to the making of the finest boots and shoes. The Lambros Brothers have leased the Kozey Korner property and purpose shortly to remove their plant into these more commodious quarters. Here they will have a cosy lady's parlour where their lady customers can wait for any repairs they wish to have made. This move on the part of these enterprising young men is opportune and timely. The prices at which boots and shoes are being purchased today necessitates care of the old ones and it is safe to predict that for years to come there will be a larger business than ever before in repairing The Lambros Brothers have wisely taken time by the forelock and are ready for the larger business that is coming. To these young men is due the establishment in Charlottetown of its first up to date shoe shine and their attractive stand on Sunnyside is one of the most popular places of business in the city. To this they have added a hat cleaning establishment which also proved a great success. Their latest venture, the boot and shoe repairing by up to date machinery is also bound to be a great success and its inauguration fits in with the need of the times and, above all fulfils the most pressing of modern conditions, namely, time saving.

The enterprise of these young men who came here only a few years ago as strangers, deserves every encouragement. They are setting the pace in industrial development and there is no doubt that the repairing plant now established will ere long develop into a full grown and up to date boot and shoe factory, one of the great needs of the province. Success to the new industry! It deserves country wide patronage and support.
