

GREAT BRITAIN WARSHIP BUILDER

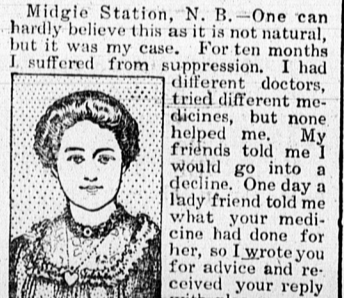

Dreadnoughts For Turkey, Brazil and Japan—Minor Vessels Built For Other Powers—Aid Also Given in Reorganizing Foreign Navies

WASHINGTON, June 24.—There are many ways of classifying the 102 ships of the dreadnought type now built or building, or to be laid down during the present year, but perhaps the following is the most striking: Thirty-two have been or are being built in Britain for the British navy. Eight have been or are to be built in Britain for foreign fleets. Seventeen under construction in foreign dockyards are being built under the direction of British shipbuilding firms or with the assistance of British workmen or manufacturers. Forty-five have been or are being built in foreign yards with British help. These facts are a remarkable testimony to the efficiency and reputation of the British shipbuilding industry. There are now thirteen powers which have entered the dreadnought race, and of the twelve foreign nations four (Germany, the United States, France and Austria) are going ahead on their own resources. Of the remaining eight, six have sought British assistance, and only the Argentine, unable to build her own dreadnoughts, has gone elsewhere for them, and even she has other craft in England. The first foreign power to come to England for dreadnoughts was Brazil. Two ships of 19,250 tons—the Minas Geraes and Sao Paulo—have already been completed for this nation, and a third, the record-breaking Rio de Janeiro, of 22,000 tons, is now under construction at Elswick. This ship will carry, it is stated, twelve 14.3-inch guns, and fourteen of 6-inch calibre, making her far and away the most powerful warship at any rate, on paper, ever built. Brazil also ordered two scout-cruisers, and ten destroyers in England, and all these have been completed and delivered. Japan was the next power to order a British-built dreadnought, and the case is of particular interest because, since the beginning of the war with Russia, all Japan's warships, with the exception of a couple of submarines, have been built in native yards. In the case of the first two ships so built (the armored cruisers Tsukuba and Oshima, the first ships of their class to carry twelve-inch guns) the result was fairly satisfactory; but with the rather larger and much more powerful vessels Ibuki and Kurama, things did not go so well, for the first was three and the other five years under construction. Two battleships were also tried. The first of the 19,250-ton Satsuma, was laid down in May, 1905, and completed in the spring of last year, while the Aki, 600 tons larger, was begun in March, 1905, and not completed until April of this year, thus taking six years to build. Still, the Japanese authorities were not entirely disheartened by these experiences, and they are now engaged in building two 20,800-ton dreadnoughts battleships, the Kawachi and Settsu. These were to have been completed by the end of this year, but only one so far is launched. Both of the vessels are being equipped with British-made guns, and with armor manufactured by an Anglo-Japanese syndicate. Their offensive and defensive powers will, therefore, be almost wholly British. Last year, however, Vice Admiral Saito, the Japanese minister of marine, admitted that it was, as yet, hopeless to expect Japanese yards to turn out ships so expeditiously and efficiently as British builders could; the result being that a contract was placed with Messrs. Vickers for a battle cruiser of the Lion type, which was laid down in January. Turkey next appeared on the scene, and the history of the placing of contracts for two 17,750-ton dreadnoughts with Sir W. G. Armstrong, Whitworth & Co., followed. The following is a striking summary of the manner in which Great Britain is associated with the building of foreign fleets: Argentina—Four destroyers are under construction at Birkenhead. Brazil—Two dreadnoughts and twelve other ships recently built in England, and a third dreadnought now under construction. Ten petty officers have been borrowed from the British navy to assist in training the personnel. Chile—Two destroyers have just been ordered and orders for two dreadnoughts are expected shortly to follow. A British lieutenant has been lent. China—A 2,500-ton cruiser is being built at Barrow. Greece—Reorganization of navy being carried out by a British staff under Rear Admiral Tunell. Holland—Destroyers building at Flushing under direction and from the designs of Messrs. Yarrow. Italy—Armor and ordnance of four new dreadnoughts being supplied by British firms having works in Italy. Japan—Fleet already contains eleven British-built armored ships. A battle-cruiser is being built at Barrow and two dreadnoughts building in Japan will be equipped with armor and ordnance manufactured by a British firm. Portugal—Several new ships to be built in England. Russia—Four dreadnoughts in the Baltic building under British supervision. Two dreadnoughts to be built in the Black Sea by a British firm and two others with the help of British artisans. Spain—Three dreadnoughts and a number of smaller vessels being built by a group of British firms. Dockyards being modernized by a British firm. Turkey—Reorganization of navy being carried out by a British staff under Rear Admiral H. P. Williams. Two dreadnoughts recently ordered in England. AFTER DOCTOR'S FAILED

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Cured Her.

Middle Station, N. B.—One can hardly believe this as it is not natural, but it was my case. For ten months I suffered from suppression. I had different doctors, tried different medicines, but none helped me. My friends told me I would go into a decline. One day a lady friend told me what your medicine had done for her, so I wrote you for advice and received your reply with pleasure. I started taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and at the second bottle showed improvement. Now I am regular and never was so well in my life, thanks to Mrs. Pinkham's medicine. Please publish my letter for the benefit of others.—MRS. JOSIAH W. HICKS, Middle Station, N. B. Indian Head, Sask.—Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is indeed a boon to women. My health is better now than it has been in my five years of married life and I thank you for your good advice and medicine have done me. I had spent hundreds of dollars on doctors without receiving any benefit.—MRS. FRANK COOPER, Box 448, Indian Head, Saskatchewan. The most successful remedy in this country for the cure of all forms of female complaints is Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

SUPREME COURT

through ill health of Mr. Justice Hodgson and wish to congratulate Mr. Justice Hazard at his elevation to the high and important position of Master of the Rolls and Assistant Judge.
Horace Haszard
Foreman.
On behalf of self and fellows.
June 27, 1911.
His Lordship, after congratulating the Grand Jury for the satisfactory and expeditious manner in which they had completed their work, relieved them from further attendance. The following cases were disposed of yesterday afternoon:
Thomas Pineau vs. Henry B. Dorion, absent debtor, verdict for $35. McLean K. C. for plaintiff.
N. Rattenbury, Ltd., vs. Benj. McLean. Action for debt. Verdict for $49.32. G. Duffy for plaintiff's attorney, J. J. Johnston, K.C., for defendant.
Page Wire Fence Co., of Ontario vs. John F. Hayes. Action for debt. Verdict for $63.72. W. E. Bentley for plaintiff, Neil McLeod, K.C., for defendant.
James H. Reddy vs. Joseph McDonald, Archibald McDonald and Otis H. Seary. Action on note. Verdict for $18.15. John S. McDonald plaintiff's attorney, A. S. Saunders and Geo. W. McPhee for defendants.
The case of McCallum vs Carr will come up this morning at eleven o'clock.
Supreme Court opened yesterday morning, the Chief, Mr. Justice Fitzgerald and Mr. Justice Hazard on the Bench.
The Commission from the Governor General appointing Hon. Mr. Haszard, Master of the Rolls and Justice of the Supreme Court was read by the Prothonotary Mr. Morson. The following address from the Law Society was read by the President Aeneas A. McDonald.
To the Honourable Francis Longworth Haszard, Justice of the Supreme Court of Prince Edward Island.
The members of the Bar desire to offer Your Lordship their felicitations and hearty congratulations on your appointment to the high and honorable position of Master of the Rolls and Justice of the Supreme Court of this Province.
We desire to express to you the high appreciation in which you were held by your associates while a member of the Bar, and the fairness and courtesy which marked your intercourse among your fellow practitioners.
We fully believe that these good qualities will distinguish your occupancy of the Bench, and we earnestly wish for you a long and successful judicial career.
AENEAS McDONALD,
President of the Law Society
Of Prince Edward Island.
C. R. SMALLWOOD,
Vice-President of the Law Society of Prince Edward Island.
W. E. BENTLEY,
Secretary Treasurer.
Mr. Justice Haszard replied in fitting terms.
The following composed the Grand Jury: Horace Haszard (foreman) George H. McGuigan, Hunter River, Robert Reid, Craupaud, W. W. Stanley, city, James M. McPhee, Clifton, Hugh McLeod, Oyster Bed Bridge, Richard M. Johnson, city, Kelly, Fort Augustus, D. A. Bruce, city, Murdoch W. McLeod, Kinross, John Myers, Hampton, William C. Len, North Wiltshire, Archibald McNeill, Brookfield, Herbert Lewis, Little York; George R. McNeill, Cavendish, John Hooper, North Milton, Austin McNeill, Stanley Bridge, George S. McLeod, Hunter River, T. B. Riley, city, John J. McCarthy, Johnston's River, William Pierce, Brackley Point Road, James St. C. Moore, Eldon.
The Chief Justice in his address to the Grand Jury said, that after sitting for a couple of weeks at the Court in Summerside, where a number of persons had been tried charged with high crimes and misdemeanors, it was a relief to preside at a Court where the criminal list, though not altogether blank, does not contain many very serious offenses. He referred first to the case against John Hughes and Allan McDonald, charged with stealing $500 from Albert Dunphy on March 14th. He reviewed the evidence that would be presented in connection with the case which His Lordship said appeared to be very strong. The other case to come before them was that of Joseph Cameron and Henry Walsh, charged with stealing what one might not expect to find in Charlottetown three bottles of whiskey from a warehouse occupied by Owen Trainor. In referring to the fact that there were three drunks in the jail he remarked that there are now more low drinking dens in this city than there should be. The judge went to their rooms to consider the cases before them.
The following cases were added to the docket which closed yesterday:
JURY CASES.
George W. Gardner, vs. Hugh Monaghan, action of debt. Shaw for plaintiff. Gaudet for defendant.
Catherine E. Chandler vs. Daniel McDonald action of trespass, Gaudet for plaintiff, Johnston for defendant.
Sharples Separator Co., vs. P. J. Murphy, action of debt. L. G. Haszard for plaintiff. D. McKinnon for defendant.
NON-JURY CASES.
Thomas Pineau vs. Henry B. Dorion, absent debtor, McLean, K. C. for plaintiff.
Neil A. Gillis vs. William Dredland action for trespass, L. G. Haszard for plaintiff, Aeneas A. McDonald for defendant.

Doctor Told Her She Did Not Have A Pint Of Good Blood In Her Body.

Mrs. Dosithe P. Cormier, Middle Sackville, N.B., says: "In the spring of 1897 I was all run down, and the doctor told me I had not a pint of good blood in my body. I took different remedies from doctors, but they did not seem to do me any good. After having taken a lot of different kinds of medicine, and they did not seem to benefit me, I was almost in despair and did not know what to do until my husband met a lady and told her about my sickness and she told him to try Burdock Blood Bitters as she had received the greatest benefit from using it. My husband went and bought me a bottle, and after having taken it I felt better, so I kept on using one bottle after another until I had taken six in all and then I was strong and well. I am positive that my being alive to-day is due to the use of Burdock Blood Bitters. One spring since then I was not feeling very well and had a lot of work to do. I would procure a bottle of Burdock Blood Bitters and after I had taken two I was able to do a lot of hard work all the summer, and I never felt better in my life. In the winter of 1906 I had Pneumonia, and it left me with a severe pain in the left side. Every morning when I would get out of bed I had to sit down for a while it was so painful. After I had used one bottle of Burdock Blood Bitters the pain disappeared completely. It has also cured me of bleeding piles. I have received so much benefit from Burdock Blood Bitters that I may publish this as it may help others as it has me."

6 YEAR OLD GIRL Cured of Kidney Trouble.

Mrs. Alex. Moore, of James St., Oxford, N.S., says: "Booth's Kidney Pills cured our little daughter, Christian, age six years, of many symptoms of kidney weakness. She complained of a sore back, the kidney secretions were frequent and uncontrollable, especially at night. Her stomach was weak and her appetite poor. This caused her to have frequent headaches, and the least exertion would tire her. We had tried many remedies, but she did not improve. Finally we learned of Booth's Kidney Pills and procured a box. In a short time she was well and did not complain about her back, the kidney secretions have become normal, and she plays around the house with no apparent fatigue. We always recommend Booth's Kidney Pills."
Booth's Kidney Pills carry a guarantee that if you derive no benefit your money will be refunded. Booth's Kidney Pills are a specific for all diseases of the kidneys and bladder. ARCHBISHOP O'CONNOR SERIOUSLY ILL AGAIN

TORONTO, June 25.—Archbishop Dennis O'Connor is again seriously ill, and his friends have little hope of his recovery. Ever since the retirement of the prelate from active duties as the head of the Toronto diocese he has been very poorly. Since the death of Archbishop McEvoy he rallied some and was able to administer the sacrament confirmation at St. Michael's cathedral and St. Ann's church.

POPE'S GIFTS TO KING GEORGE.

ROME, June 26.—The Pontifical mission to the Court of St. James for the coronation festivities will be headed by Monsignor Granito di Belmonte, late Nuncio at Vienna, who accompanied the mission on the occasion of the Victorian Golden Jubilee, and ten years later on the appointed Pope Leo XIII. at the diamond jubilee in London. The Pope attached special importance to this delicate coronation ceremony since the abolition of the offensive anti-Catholic royal oath. Mgr. Belmonte, who is bringing a distinguished suite with him, will be created a cardinal on his return to Rome. He will be the bearer of an autograph letter and a precious gift from His Holiness to King George.
