

CHAPPED HANDS Heal Faster!

WITH THIS EFFECTIVE MEDICATED CREAM

Here's Nurses' Secret of Quick, Soothing Relief—Try It Yourself

Are your hands red, rough, chapped? Don't think "nothing will help!" Actual tests with the Medicated Skin Cream, Noxzema, show that it helps heal even badly chapped hands faster. That's because Noxzema is not merely a cream, but a medicated formula. It not only brings quick, soothing relief, but helps heal the tiny cracks. Nurses were among the first to discover Noxzema. Try it for your cracked, chapped hands! It's graceless... non-sticky. Get Noxzema today at any drug or dept. store. 174, 394, 594.

ELLEN'S DIARY

By An Island Farmers Wife

(Continued from Page 2)

that, no really wears them for a familiar query: "Now where did I leave my gloves?"

But his socks that are "on his mind" now, from the room above which he has reached this minute he calls "Luna, put a pair of socks where I can get them in the morning." I must do that at once and at once, but not always, I remember that James likes his socks when when he slips them on in the morning!

Until tomorrow — Diary — Good-night.

Mounthatten Congratulated

(By The Canadian Press)
LONDON, Jan. 24.—Prime Minister Churchill telegraphed Admiral Lord Louis Mountbatten tonight in behalf of the British Government "most warm congratulations on reopening the land route to China in fulfillment of the first part of a directive given you at Quebec."

The message continued:
"That this should already have been achieved in spite of the many disappointments you have sustained in the delay of reinforcements which you were promised, reflects the greatest credit on yourself, all your commanders in the field and above all, upon the well-trained troops of the 14th Army, gallantly sustained as they have been by the R.A.F. and the 15th Corps."

"The ready assistance in all possible ways of United States forces and, also, of Chinese forces—as it has been throughout by you."

MONTAGUE SCHOOL

Report of Montague school for December:
Grade X-1. Gerald Lannan; 2. Bill MacIntyre; 3. Dick MacLean; 4. Grade IX-1. Jessie Hutchison; 2. Hazel Yeck; 3. Ann Matheson; teacher, Ann Matheson.
Grade VII-1. Anna MacLaren; 2. Martha MacGowan; 3. Katherine MacLean.
Grade VI-1. Rudy Hamilton; 2. Laura Higginbotham; 3. Ardeth MacKenzie.
Rena Reid, teacher.
Grade VI-1. Violet Hutchison; 2. Barbara Brock; 3. Joan Johnston.
Grade V-1. Muriel Pearson; 2. Ruth Murphy; 3. Stephen Hession.
Mrs. Minnie MacDonald, teacher.
Grade IV-1. Elvree Beck; 2. Flora MacTier; 3. Gordon MacNeil.
Grade III-1. David Stewart; 2. Ruby MacPhee; 3. Janet Vandierne.
Mrs. Elsie Waterworth, teacher.
Grade II-1. Norma Hickey and Joan Rowell; 2. Joan Rowell; 3. Albert Murphy and Olga Hennigar.
Grade I—No exams.
Mary Gill, teacher.

A Name to Remember!

RED ROSE TEA

"is good tea"

RED ROSE Orange Pekoe Tea

is extra good!

Lady Astor Defends Sending Women in Uniform Overseas

LONDON, Jan. 24.—(AP)—Lady Astor today made a strong statement in the House of Commons in support of the overseas assignment of members of the Auxiliary Territorial Service with the assertion that many of the girls would be safer in uniform abroad than in ordinary civilian clothes at home.

The Labor faction, led by men, protested vigorously against compulsory sending of girls overseas, citing the temptations they face in addition to the danger from enemy action.

The 65-year-old Astor, a member of the House for a quarter of a century, indicated the protests as an insult to women.

And before the fight was over, she, the war, morals, Russia and Foreign Secretary, led a "scam" in a debate that kept the House in an uproar for four hours.

At the height of the session, War Secretary Sir James Grigg pleaded that the girls were needed to replace men for the front lines in Britain's campaign to retake lost fighting men.

Sir James said some of the members of parliament were being unnecessarily fearful as to the moral dangers and remarked "these girls have not their heads screwed on all right."

Governmentally whether it was the Government or the House of Commons from the speaker for order name as Lady Astor and Aneurin Bevan, Labor's most virulent speaker, swapped oral punches.

"The Labor party has been saying for years equality among the sexes and you don't mean it," she said, accusing Mr. Bevan of being a "humbler."

Retorting sharply Mr. Bevan, a former coal miner, shouted: "On shut up, you cheap Jack."

Mr. Eden, who as leader of the House, joined in the fight a few minutes later when Mr. Bevan many lies in the past week," told the exchanges were drowned out during the uproar.

Lady Astor, in the short-drawn-out debate, said she was in favor of the House's War Credits Bill—the tentative issue on which the debate developed.

Frederick Pethick—Lawrence of Edinburgh, saying he did not want to take a "prudent view," declared: "We all know that conditions and attitudes taken overseas are not precisely the same as at home. There is a good deal of our army, but conditions of war which prevail in the field are not normal conditions in somewhat relaxed when we get into foreign."

Later Mr. Pethick-Lawrence said he was "well aware that the girls themselves are able to take care of themselves as they go on."

Mr. Pethick-Lawrence said he was "well aware that the girls themselves are able to take care of themselves as they go on."

Mr. Pethick-Lawrence said he was "well aware that the girls themselves are able to take care of themselves as they go on."

Mr. Pethick-Lawrence said he was "well aware that the girls themselves are able to take care of themselves as they go on."

Mr. Pethick-Lawrence said he was "well aware that the girls themselves are able to take care of themselves as they go on."

Mr. Pethick-Lawrence said he was "well aware that the girls themselves are able to take care of themselves as they go on."

Mr. Pethick-Lawrence said he was "well aware that the girls themselves are able to take care of themselves as they go on."

Mr. Pethick-Lawrence said he was "well aware that the girls themselves are able to take care of themselves as they go on."

Mr. Pethick-Lawrence said he was "well aware that the girls themselves are able to take care of themselves as they go on."

Mr. Pethick-Lawrence said he was "well aware that the girls themselves are able to take care of themselves as they go on."

Mr. Pethick-Lawrence said he was "well aware that the girls themselves are able to take care of themselves as they go on."

Mr. Pethick-Lawrence said he was "well aware that the girls themselves are able to take care of themselves as they go on."

Mr. Pethick-Lawrence said he was "well aware that the girls themselves are able to take care of themselves as they go on."

Mr. Pethick-Lawrence said he was "well aware that the girls themselves are able to take care of themselves as they go on."

Mr. Pethick-Lawrence said he was "well aware that the girls themselves are able to take care of themselves as they go on."

Mr. Pethick-Lawrence said he was "well aware that the girls themselves are able to take care of themselves as they go on."

Mr. Pethick-Lawrence said he was "well aware that the girls themselves are able to take care of themselves as they go on."

Mr. Pethick-Lawrence said he was "well aware that the girls themselves are able to take care of themselves as they go on."

Mr. Pethick-Lawrence said he was "well aware that the girls themselves are able to take care of themselves as they go on."

NOW RELIEF IN 7 MINUTES FROM HEAD COLDS HEADACHES, GRIPPE

with BUCKLEY'S CAPSULES

Jesse Jones Warns Poor Planning Can Wreck The U. S. A.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 24.—(AP)—Jesse Jones, removed as secretary of commerce in favor of Henry Wallace, warned congress today that "unwise ideas and 'visionary planning'" in that job could wreck the United States.

The hearing itself was on a bill which would give the Federal Reserve Board authority to issue currency in the liberated or enemy countries.

Thus Mr. Roosevelt received substantial backing for the argument he presumably intends to put to other members of the "Big Six" cabinet.

Mr. Jones never mentioned Mr. Wallace's name but he left no doubt of whom he was speaking in his sharply-worded testimony before the Senate Commerce Committee.

President Roosevelt's summary replacement of Mr. Jones as commerce secretary and head of the reconstruction finance corporation to pay a political debt to Mr. Wallace had Washington so steamed up that the huge caucus room was jammed and an overflow crowd hammered hysterically at the door.

The hearing itself was on a bill which would give the Federal Reserve Board authority to issue currency in the liberated or enemy countries.

Thus Mr. Roosevelt received substantial backing for the argument he presumably intends to put to other members of the "Big Six" cabinet.

Mr. Jones never mentioned Mr. Wallace's name but he left no doubt of whom he was speaking in his sharply-worded testimony before the Senate Commerce Committee.

President Roosevelt's summary replacement of Mr. Jones as commerce secretary and head of the reconstruction finance corporation to pay a political debt to Mr. Wallace had Washington so steamed up that the huge caucus room was jammed and an overflow crowd hammered hysterically at the door.

The hearing itself was on a bill which would give the Federal Reserve Board authority to issue currency in the liberated or enemy countries.

Thus Mr. Roosevelt received substantial backing for the argument he presumably intends to put to other members of the "Big Six" cabinet.

Mr. Jones never mentioned Mr. Wallace's name but he left no doubt of whom he was speaking in his sharply-worded testimony before the Senate Commerce Committee.

President Roosevelt's summary replacement of Mr. Jones as commerce secretary and head of the reconstruction finance corporation to pay a political debt to Mr. Wallace had Washington so steamed up that the huge caucus room was jammed and an overflow crowd hammered hysterically at the door.

The hearing itself was on a bill which would give the Federal Reserve Board authority to issue currency in the liberated or enemy countries.

Thus Mr. Roosevelt received substantial backing for the argument he presumably intends to put to other members of the "Big Six" cabinet.

Mr. Jones never mentioned Mr. Wallace's name but he left no doubt of whom he was speaking in his sharply-worded testimony before the Senate Commerce Committee.

President Roosevelt's summary replacement of Mr. Jones as commerce secretary and head of the reconstruction finance corporation to pay a political debt to Mr. Wallace had Washington so steamed up that the huge caucus room was jammed and an overflow crowd hammered hysterically at the door.

The hearing itself was on a bill which would give the Federal Reserve Board authority to issue currency in the liberated or enemy countries.

Thus Mr. Roosevelt received substantial backing for the argument he presumably intends to put to other members of the "Big Six" cabinet.

Mr. Jones never mentioned Mr. Wallace's name but he left no doubt of whom he was speaking in his sharply-worded testimony before the Senate Commerce Committee.

President Roosevelt's summary replacement of Mr. Jones as commerce secretary and head of the reconstruction finance corporation to pay a political debt to Mr. Wallace had Washington so steamed up that the huge caucus room was jammed and an overflow crowd hammered hysterically at the door.

The hearing itself was on a bill which would give the Federal Reserve Board authority to issue currency in the liberated or enemy countries.

Thus Mr. Roosevelt received substantial backing for the argument he presumably intends to put to other members of the "Big Six" cabinet.

Mr. Jones never mentioned Mr. Wallace's name but he left no doubt of whom he was speaking in his sharply-worded testimony before the Senate Commerce Committee.

President Roosevelt's summary replacement of Mr. Jones as commerce secretary and head of the reconstruction finance corporation to pay a political debt to Mr. Wallace had Washington so steamed up that the huge caucus room was jammed and an overflow crowd hammered hysterically at the door.

The hearing itself was on a bill which would give the Federal Reserve Board authority to issue currency in the liberated or enemy countries.

Thus Mr. Roosevelt received substantial backing for the argument he presumably intends to put to other members of the "Big Six" cabinet.

Mr. Jones never mentioned Mr. Wallace's name but he left no doubt of whom he was speaking in his sharply-worded testimony before the Senate Commerce Committee.

President Roosevelt's summary replacement of Mr. Jones as commerce secretary and head of the reconstruction finance corporation to pay a political debt to Mr. Wallace had Washington so steamed up that the huge caucus room was jammed and an overflow crowd hammered hysterically at the door.

New Senators Back Start Payments F. D. R. In Plans For Peace Organization For War Veterans

WASHINGTON, Jan. 24.—(AP)—Freshmen senators, seeking to strengthen President Roosevelt's plan to start payments to war veterans, today voted to back the bill.

The 10 new members — 10 Democrats and six Republicans — to the treaty-ratifying body of Congress put down their sentiments in a letter dispatched to Mr. Roosevelt.

They believe, they say, "this Government should use all reasonable means to assure our Allies and other nations of the world that we intend to share in the direction and the responsibility for the settlement of this war and the maintenance of the peace."

They declared, too, for the earliest possible formation of a United States peace organization, to be drafted at Dumbarton Oaks, and for affirmative American participation in all decisions affecting the peace.

The new senators' pronouncement was worked out on their own but they consulted with high-ranking members of the Foreign Relations Committee.

The new senators' pronouncement was worked out on their own but they consulted with high-ranking members of the Foreign Relations Committee.

The new senators' pronouncement was worked out on their own but they consulted with high-ranking members of the Foreign Relations Committee.

The new senators' pronouncement was worked out on their own but they consulted with high-ranking members of the Foreign Relations Committee.

The new senators' pronouncement was worked out on their own but they consulted with high-ranking members of the Foreign Relations Committee.

The new senators' pronouncement was worked out on their own but they consulted with high-ranking members of the Foreign Relations Committee.

The new senators' pronouncement was worked out on their own but they consulted with high-ranking members of the Foreign Relations Committee.

The new senators' pronouncement was worked out on their own but they consulted with high-ranking members of the Foreign Relations Committee.

The new senators' pronouncement was worked out on their own but they consulted with high-ranking members of the Foreign Relations Committee.

The new senators' pronouncement was worked out on their own but they consulted with high-ranking members of the Foreign Relations Committee.

The new senators' pronouncement was worked out on their own but they consulted with high-ranking members of the Foreign Relations Committee.

The new senators' pronouncement was worked out on their own but they consulted with high-ranking members of the Foreign Relations Committee.

The new senators' pronouncement was worked out on their own but they consulted with high-ranking members of the Foreign Relations Committee.

The new senators' pronouncement was worked out on their own but they consulted with high-ranking members of the Foreign Relations Committee.

The new senators' pronouncement was worked out on their own but they consulted with high-ranking members of the Foreign Relations Committee.

The new senators' pronouncement was worked out on their own but they consulted with high-ranking members of the Foreign Relations Committee.

The new senators' pronouncement was worked out on their own but they consulted with high-ranking members of the Foreign Relations Committee.

The new senators' pronouncement was worked out on their own but they consulted with high-ranking members of the Foreign Relations Committee.

The new senators' pronouncement was worked out on their own but they consulted with high-ranking members of the Foreign Relations Committee.

The new senators' pronouncement was worked out on their own but they consulted with high-ranking members of the Foreign Relations Committee.

The new senators' pronouncement was worked out on their own but they consulted with high-ranking members of the Foreign Relations Committee.

The new senators' pronouncement was worked out on their own but they consulted with high-ranking members of the Foreign Relations Committee.

The new senators' pronouncement was worked out on their own but they consulted with high-ranking members of the Foreign Relations Committee.

The new senators' pronouncement was worked out on their own but they consulted with high-ranking members of the Foreign Relations Committee.

The new senators' pronouncement was worked out on their own but they consulted with high-ranking members of the Foreign Relations Committee.

The new senators' pronouncement was worked out on their own but they consulted with high-ranking members of the Foreign Relations Committee.

The new senators' pronouncement was worked out on their own but they consulted with high-ranking members of the Foreign Relations Committee.

Start Payments For War Veterans

OTTAWA, Jan. 24.—(CP)—The big job of paying war veterans began today with total 125,000 discharged service personnel beginning to receive their first $16.95 applications received and $4,250 passed for payment, it was learned tonight.

Breakdown by services:—
Received Passed
Navy 4,000 2,800
Army 75,000 55,000
R.C.A.F. 18,000 6,750
Total 97,000 64,250

The mastering out pay is based on $7.50 for each 30 days service in the western hemisphere, excluding the Aleutians; $5 for each 30 days service overseas or in the Aleutians and seven days pay and allowances for each six months overseas on the Aleutians.

The payments are spread over a period in such a way that a veteran receives each month an amount equivalent to his monthly service pay.

Treasury officials said no total of the amount of the payments had yet been completed.

Based on the gratuity payments are re-establishment credits. These credits are amounts equal to the gratuity, but as they are based on the first payments a veteran will not receive until he has received the second benefit.

The credits can be used to buy or repair a home; to buy furniture and tools; to provide working capital for a business; to pay insurance premiums and to obtain educational or vocational training equipment.

The credits can be used to buy or repair a home; to buy furniture and tools; to provide working capital for a business; to pay insurance premiums and to obtain educational or vocational training equipment.

The credits can be used to buy or repair a home; to buy furniture and tools; to provide working capital for a business; to pay insurance premiums and to obtain educational or vocational training equipment.

The credits can be used to buy or repair a home; to buy furniture and tools; to provide working capital for a business; to pay insurance premiums and to obtain educational or vocational training equipment.

The credits can be used to buy or repair a home; to buy furniture and tools; to provide working capital for a business; to pay insurance premiums and to obtain educational or vocational training equipment.

The credits can be used to buy or repair a home; to buy furniture and tools; to provide working capital for a business; to pay insurance premiums and to obtain educational or vocational training equipment.

The credits can be used to buy or repair a home; to buy furniture and tools; to provide working capital for a business; to pay insurance premiums and to obtain educational or vocational training equipment.

The credits can be used to buy or repair a home; to buy furniture and tools; to provide working capital for a business; to pay insurance premiums and to obtain educational or vocational training equipment.

The credits can be used to buy or repair a home; to buy furniture and tools; to provide working capital for a business; to pay insurance premiums and to obtain educational or vocational training equipment.

The credits can be used to buy or repair a home; to buy furniture and tools; to provide working capital for a business; to pay insurance premiums and to obtain educational or vocational training equipment.

The credits can be used to buy or repair a home; to buy furniture and tools; to provide working capital for a business; to pay insurance premiums and to obtain educational or vocational training equipment.

The credits can be used to buy or repair a home; to buy furniture and tools; to provide working capital for a business; to pay insurance premiums and to obtain educational or vocational training equipment.

The credits can be used to buy or repair a home; to buy furniture and tools; to provide working capital for a business; to pay insurance premiums and to obtain educational or vocational training equipment.

The credits can be used to buy or repair a home; to buy furniture and tools; to provide working capital for a business; to pay insurance premiums and to obtain educational or vocational training equipment.

The credits can be used to buy or repair a home; to buy furniture and tools; to provide working capital for a business; to pay insurance premiums and to obtain educational or vocational training equipment.

The credits can be used to buy or repair a home; to buy furniture and tools; to provide working capital for a business; to pay insurance premiums and to obtain educational or vocational training equipment.

The credits can be used to buy or repair a home; to buy furniture and tools; to provide working capital for a business; to pay insurance premiums and to obtain educational or vocational training equipment.

The credits can be used to buy or repair a home; to buy furniture and tools; to provide working capital for a business; to pay insurance premiums and to obtain educational or vocational training equipment.

The credits can be used to buy or repair a home; to buy furniture and tools; to provide working capital for a business; to pay insurance premiums and to obtain educational or vocational training equipment.

The credits can be used to buy or repair a home; to buy furniture and tools; to provide working capital for a business; to pay insurance premiums and to obtain educational or vocational training equipment.

The credits can be used to buy or repair a home; to buy furniture and tools; to provide working capital for a business; to pay insurance premiums and to obtain educational or vocational training equipment.

The credits can be used to buy or repair a home; to buy furniture and tools; to provide working capital for a business; to pay insurance premiums and to obtain educational or vocational training equipment.

The credits can be used to buy or repair a home; to buy furniture and tools; to provide working capital for a business; to pay insurance premiums and to obtain educational or vocational training equipment.

The credits can be used to buy or repair a home; to buy furniture and tools; to provide working capital for a business; to pay insurance premiums and to obtain educational or vocational training equipment.

The credits can be used to buy or repair a home; to buy furniture and tools; to provide working capital for a business; to pay insurance premiums and to obtain educational or vocational training equipment.

GREENDAL'S WEEK-END SPECIAL

A fine group of Ladies' Winter COATS in untripped tweeds and fur-trimmed models. Some of these Coats with fine squirrel collars, originally sold as high as $34.50. Don't miss your opportunity to make a $16.95 real saving. Special

THE GREENDAL CO. LADIES' WEAR

99 Queen St.

Will By-Election In Grey North Be Called Off?

BY I. NORMAN SMITH, (Ottawa Journal Staff)

OWEN SOUND, Ont., Jan. 23.—The Grey North by-election may be a crazy affair to look at. The Conservative candidate ran in 1939 as a Liberal and tried the last election as a Progressive Liberal. The C.C.F. man calling for socialism is head of Farmer and Bullock Co. Ltd., a large and wealthy Gananoque firm that manufactures wire and sheet metal products—and a man with a $6,700 pension. The Liberal is a respected soldier-scientist, you'd normally tab as a Conservative.

Those three paradoxes tend to confuse things, and I think the good people of Grey North sometimes wonder who's fighting who. Once you get the constants straightened away the question is whether there will be a contest. Mr. King has said over and over that he had counted on an election for General McNaughton, that he didn't want to have a political contest for one seat and shortly after that have a political contest for the whole Commons.

May Call It Off

Mr. King doesn't say these things for nothing. Suppose he gets word from his lieutenants up here that McNaughton is going to be beaten? Rather than suffer the black eye of defeat he might suddenly on the whole thing off, blaming it on the opposition parties for opposing the election. The way to call off a by-election is to call a general election—and there, one of those in the offing anyway. I can get no Liberal lieutenant up here to deny this is a possibility.

It is, I admit, based on the assumption that General McNaughton's chances don't look so good. Well, out of the whole muddle and confusion of Grey North that is one impression quite widely held.

Case In Lead?

A three-cornered fight is never easy to guess, but from a surprising variety of sources, comes the dark word that McNaughton is running a bad third. Two weeks may change this because the Liberal organization has been slow to get going. The fight between former Mayor Case, the Conservative, and the C.C.F.'s candidate, very close, perhaps with the edge in Case.

A three-cornered fight is never easy to guess, but from a surprising variety of sources, comes the dark word that McNaughton is running a bad third. Two weeks may change this because the Liberal organization has been slow to get going. The fight between former Mayor Case, the Conservative, and the C.C.F.'s candidate, very close, perhaps with the edge in Case.

A three-cornered fight is never easy to guess, but from a surprising variety of sources, comes the dark word that McNaughton is running a bad third. Two weeks may change this because the Liberal organization has been slow to get going. The fight between former Mayor Case, the Conservative, and the C.C.F.'s candidate, very close, perhaps with the edge in Case.

A three-cornered fight is never easy to guess, but from a surprising variety of sources, comes the dark word that McNaughton is running a bad third. Two weeks may change this because the Liberal organization has been slow to get going. The fight between former Mayor Case, the Conservative, and the C.C.F.'s candidate, very close, perhaps with the edge in Case.

A three-cornered fight is never easy to guess, but from a surprising variety of sources, comes the dark word that McNaughton is running a bad third. Two weeks may change this because the Liberal organization has been slow to get going. The fight between former Mayor Case, the Conservative, and the C.C.F.'s candidate, very close, perhaps with the edge in Case.

A three-cornered fight is never easy to guess, but from a surprising variety of sources, comes the dark word that McNaughton is running a bad third. Two weeks may change this because the Liberal organization has been slow to get going. The fight between former Mayor Case, the Conservative, and the C.C.F.'s candidate, very close, perhaps with the edge in Case.

A three-cornered fight is never easy to guess, but from a surprising variety of sources, comes the dark word that McNaughton is running a bad third. Two weeks may change this because the Liberal organization has been slow to get going. The fight between former Mayor Case, the Conservative, and the C.C.F.'s candidate, very close, perhaps with the edge in Case.

A three-cornered fight is never easy to guess, but from a surprising variety of sources, comes the dark word that McNaughton is running a bad third. Two weeks may change this because the Liberal organization has been slow to get going. The fight between former Mayor Case, the Conservative, and the C.C.F.'s candidate, very close, perhaps with the edge in Case.

A three-cornered fight is never easy to guess, but from a surprising variety of sources, comes the dark word that McNaughton is running a bad third. Two weeks may change this because the Liberal organization has been slow to get going. The fight between former Mayor Case, the Conservative, and the C.C.F.'s candidate, very close, perhaps with the edge in Case.

A three-cornered fight is never easy to guess, but from a surprising variety of sources, comes the dark word that McNaughton is running a bad third. Two weeks may change this because the Liberal organization has been slow to get going. The fight between former Mayor Case, the Conservative, and the C.C.F.'s candidate, very close, perhaps with the edge in Case.

A three-cornered fight is never easy to guess, but from a surprising variety of sources, comes the dark word that McNaughton is running a bad third. Two weeks may change this because the Liberal organization has been slow to get going. The fight between former Mayor Case, the Conservative, and the C.C.F.'s candidate, very close, perhaps with the edge in Case.

A three-cornered fight is never easy to guess, but from a surprising variety of sources, comes the dark word that McNaughton is running a bad third. Two weeks may change this because the Liberal organization has been slow to get going. The fight between former Mayor Case, the Conservative, and the C.C.F.'s candidate, very close, perhaps with the edge in Case.

A three-cornered fight is never easy to guess, but from a surprising variety of sources, comes the dark word that McNaughton is running a bad third. Two weeks may change this because the Liberal organization has been slow to get going. The fight between former Mayor Case, the Conservative, and the C.C.F.'s candidate, very close, perhaps with the edge in Case.

A three-cornered fight is never easy to guess, but from a surprising variety of sources, comes the dark word that McNaughton is running a bad third. Two weeks may change this because the Liberal organization has been slow to get going. The fight between former Mayor Case, the Conservative, and the C.C.F.'s candidate, very close, perhaps with the edge in Case.