One of the best entertainments ever listened to in York Hall was given by members of 20th Century Division S. O. T. on Wednesday evening last. The program, which consisted of choruses, readings, duets, dialogues, etc., was so well rendered that it is hardly fair to particularize, but the rendering of the "Gypsy's Warning" by Miss Ruby West, assisted by Miss Mair and Messrs. Crockett and Vessy, was in itself well worth the admission charged. During the intermission a number of boxes of home-made candy were auctioned by Mr. Brodie and purchased at fancy prices by the young men, who, judging from the expression of their faces, were well pleased with their purchases. While preparations were being made for the second part of the program, Capt. Hardy entertained the audience with several gramophone selections. During the evening the organ was presided over by Miss Ruby West, assisted by Miss Mahel Dennis. At the close of the program Col. Crockett, in a neat and witty speech, extended the thanks of the Division to all present, who helped to make the concert a success. Hoping that the members will see fit to repeat this entertainment at some future date and wishing them every success in the temperance work, I remain, one who was entertained.

The congregation of Strathallan has lost one of its oldest and most respected members in the person of Mrs. Kenneth McDonald of Hopetown. The deceased was born in Inverness-shire, Scotland, in the year 1829. She emigrated, with her parents and the rest of the family, to this Island in the year 1839. She finished her earthly career at Hopetown on Sabbath, 24th April, 1910, in the 81st year of her age. Her husband predeceased her many years ago and left her with a large young family, but she was truly a mother in Israel and trained up her respectable family in the fear of the Lord and left them all as members of the orthodox of the church. Some years ago she passed through the deep and dark waters of bereavement by the death of a married daughter and a single, grown-up son, to whom she was very much attached. She is survived by two sons and five daughters, namely: Daniel, Alexander, Mrs. Melnis of Hopetown, Mrs. McDonald of Hopetown Road, Mrs. Angus McDonald of Springfield, Mrs. Hugh McLeod of Bradshaw, and Mrs. Goss of New Bedford, Mass; also two brothers, the well known John Ban McKenzie and Donean of Hartsville, two sisters, Mrs. Swan of Elliott Station and Mrs. Collins of Springfield. The late Mrs. McDonald was a quiet, unassuming nature and very much liked as far as she was known. The funeral, which took place on Tuesday, April 26th, was very largely attended. People came from far and near to pay the last tribute of respect to the memory of the just. Rev. John Gillis conducted the funeral services at the house and at the grave.

OTTAWA, May 4—While repairing a steam pipe above a fuse mixer in the Perleat Brick Works at Billings Bridge, Ottawa, Alonzo Wilson, an engineer, of Cantley, was cut to pieces and died instantly at noon today. One of the steam pipes was leaking and while the big mixer was undergoing repairs, Wilson was working at the leak. He went back to the engine room and the men making the repairs did not see him jump onto the machine and stand on the knives. When the machine was nearly finished, one of the men named Duncan, wishing to tighten some bolts, threw in the clutch in order that the knives would turn to expose the spot to be repaired. Duncan did not see Wilson and did not give any warning. The big machine commenced to turn, and before Wilson could move, his feet were caught in the knives and he was drawn into the machine and cut to pieces.

KEITH & PROCTOR'S FIFTH AVENUE THEATRE, NEW YORK, WEEK OF MAY 9th, 1910.

For the first time in many weeks a female headliner will not be the star of the bill at the Fifth Avenue Theatre on May 9th. Right merrily did the ladies play their parts, filling the house twice daily and leaving nothing but regret and their season's earnings ended. The past winter season was the most successful in the history of the Fifth Avenue. Vaudeville has two prize producers—producers in the best sense of the term—men who do for the varieties, what Frohman, Savage, Lohler and Billingham do for legitimate, sparing no expense in the matter of talent, costumes or scenery. These two are Joseph Hart and Jesse L. Lasky, and both will provide the big features at the Fifth Avenue during the week of "The Futurity Winner" is now a huse success, and an act always eagerly sought by managers in every city. It is a tabloid comedy-drama of racing interest, as the name implies and a perfect thrill from start to finish. Joseph Hart keeps improving the performance by clever touches of detail and constant attention to the general excellence of the ensemble. The sketch is always played with remarkable skill and deftness, all due to Mr Hart's watchful eye. On the opening night at the Fifth Avenue, a number of leading jockeys, and turfmen will be the guests of the management. Mr Lasky's contribution to the program will be the team of Jesse L. Lasky's Imperial Meritians, an organization of twelve skilled soloists, who will instrumentally realize the harmonic ideals of the maestros of all generations. George's costumes will be an important adjunct to Mr Lasky's offering, also a special scenic embellishment of rare color. To arrange the big headliners will be found demure and quantity Baudie McLean, the chic soubrette who renders her own compositions, good songs delivered by a good singer. It is freely predicted that in a few months, Miss McLean will have all the leading serio-comics looking to their laurels, for the young woman has not only all the qualities which will speedily make her an immense favorite—Flanagan and Edwards, who will appear in "On and Off" made a proposition to the management to pay them off at the rate of a dollar a laugh during the continuance of their act, but the management wisely concluded that $50,000 was too much to pay for the fun-making powers of the two comedians. "On and Off" is a riot, that, all. More hilarity will be occasioned by Charles and Fannie Van in their yell of joy, "A Case of Emergency" while the two Pucks will offer more jestosity, accompanied by songs and dances. The Gash Sisters, marvelous head balancers, will have a sensational place on the bill, and a sensation is bound to be created by Ray no's Bull Dogs, a bunch of wonderful thoroughbred canines. The best of all existing motion pictures will conclude what should be one of the springtime's most alluring bills.

KEITH'S THEATRE, BOSTON.

Jesse Lasky's "Country Club" one of the biggest productions ever presented in vaudeville, with an atmosphere about it which will be particularly attractive at this time of the year, is the feature at Keith's next week.

Another big production is that of Tom Nawn and company, called "When Pat Was King." Mr. Nawn has for years been recognized as one of the greatest of Irish comedians, and in his present sketch written by Anna Marbie he has perhaps the best vehicle he has ever offered the public. It is in two scenes, one showing Pat as a gardener, and another when he becomes King of Ireland and to say that it is a succession of laughs from beginning to end is putting it mildly.

Another feature on the same bill will be Willette Whittaker, the singer and harpist, who has just returned from one of the most successful tours ever enjoyed by an American in Europe. Miss Whittaker has a voice of remarkable power and sweetness and has been particularly fortunate in her songs, which appealed to the English public as something entirely new. Since her return to America she has been a greater favorite than ever. Les Trombetias, a big company of European singers and mimics who have a decidedly novel act, will be seen here for the first time, and other features will be Wilbur Slack and Nella Walker in a sketch; Dorothy's Foodles which will prove a big laugh for the children; Minnie St. Clair, the western girl who has become recognized as one of the leading comedienne of the country; Bellelay and Flanagan in Greitan feats of strength; and Lena Zanzer and company in acrobatic stunts.
