Fire at Crapaud yesterday morning completely destroyed the farm dwelling of Orion Gamble. High wind fanned the flames, believed to have originated from a flue fire.

Mr. Gamble was working in the field when the fire was discovered. Neighbors gathered and assisted in removing furniture from the ground floor. They formed a bucket brigade and succeeded in saving the barns although they were in grave danger for a time.

Only a portion of the furniture on the ground floor was removed. The remainder and all the upstairs furnishings fell prey to the fire which spread rapidly.

There was no official estimate of the loss but it was believed to be in excess of $1,500. It was not known whether there was insurance.

—HOUSE WARMING TO RECTOR AND BRIDE— The people of Port Hill tendered a very warm welcome to Rev. G. Stavert Tanton and his bride when they returned from their honeymoon last week. Members of the congregations of Lot 11 and Ellerslie were also there to welcome the bride and groom. Two well filled purses were presented to the rector from the Port Hill and Freeland parishioners Mr. J. W. Palmer presided and called on Ernest Birch to read an address Mr. Jack Nesbitt made the presentation on behalf of Port Hill Mrs. A.W.H. Needler on behalf of the parishioners made the presentation of a very handsome walnut bed. Many other lovely and valuable gifts were received and which were fittingly acknowledged by the rector. Rev. Dr. Walsh a native of Port Hill gave a short address A delicious lunch was served by the ladies at the conclusion of the evening.

A pretty wedding was solemnized at All Saints Church, Cardigan on Wednesday, Aug. 20, 1941, when Theresa Margaret, daughter of the late Mr. James A. Wilson and Mrs. Wilson became the bride of Vincent Joseph son of Mr. and Mrs. John Heggarty, Fort Augustus.

The ceremony was performed and Nuptial Mass celebrated by Rev. Joseph Rooney, P. P., while Rev. Owen Kiggins, uncle of the bride occupied a seat in the Sanctuary.

A large number of relatives and friends of the bride and groom were present during the ceremony.

As the bridal party proceeded to the altar rail, the Wedding March was rendered by Miss Teresa Donahoe, who also played during Mass. Appropriate hymns were sung by the Children's Choir.

The bride was attractively attired in a street length dress of aqua marine blue alpine, tropic blue coat with contrasting accessories, and wore a corsage of Talisman roses and maiden-hair fern and carried a white prayer book.

The bridesmaid, Miss Katherine I. Wilson, sister of the bride wore a navy blue tailored suit with white accessories. Her corsage was of yellow roses and maiden-hair fern. The groom was attended by his brother Mr. Robert Heggarty.

Immediately after Mass the bridal party motored to the home of the bride's mother, where a wedding breakfast was served to the immediate relatives of the contracting parties, the officiating clergyman and Rev. Owen Kiggins.

The groom's gift to the bride was a string of pearls, to the bridesmaid a pearl rosary, and to the groomsman a cigarette case.
