PREPARING FOR WAR

MONTREAL, Aug. 4.—Sir George Doughty, one of the most prominent merchants and ship-owners on the east coast of Great Britain and member of parliament for Great Grimsby, on a visit to Canada, declared yesterday that every sensible man in Great Britain, no matter to what party he belonged, was now firmly convinced that Germany was bending all her energies to prepare for war with Great Britain. THE ROYAL VISIT TO SYDNEY. SYDNEY, August 4.—The Sydneys never do things by halves, and the assertion was substantiated yesterday, when tens of thousands turned out to do honor to the Duke of Connaught and the other members of the royal party. The enthusiastic demonstration of the evening before, when the Earl Grey made his port, was a fitting harbinger of the welcome extended on Saturday, and the people of the Sydneys have just cause to feel proud in thus contributing so magnificently to the success that is attending the general welcome from the maritime provinces. When ten o'clock had arrived, the time set for the landing, the gaily and profusely decorated streets of Sydney were packed with citizens and visitors from the towns around. Sydney has a large territory to draw from, and the people of old Cape Breton responded with an enthusiasm that left no doubt as to their, whole-hearted loyalty. The landing was made on the Esplanade near the Royal Cape Breton Yacht club's quarters, and as the royal visitors stepped on shore the demonstration was thrilling. Major Gunn, the city council, J. A. Gillis, president of the board of trade, and A. Cross, were on the landing stage to extend the civic welcome and be presented. The Royal salute was fired by the 17th Field Battery, and the South African veterans and boy scouts were the guard of honor. The royal visitors were escorted to Victoria park, followed by mobs of cheering flag-waving enthusiasts. It is estimated that upwards of 25,000 people participated in the welcome. Major Gunn read the civic address, referred with pardonable pride to the great development of Cape Breton. It reminded the duke that this was the first bit of Canadian soil honored by the presence of King Edward, and went on to point out the splendid historic associations and traditions that are Cape Breton's.

THE GUARDIAN PICNIC

The annual picnic of The Guardian Employees was held yesterday afternoon at Westville on the beautiful grounds of Capt. T. A. Stewart. It has always been the aim of the management to secure the most desirable location for their picnic grounds and this in the past has been found at "Restview," the summer home of the Manager. This year a change was made and from a choice of beauty spots on East and West Rivers the magnificent birch grove at Westville was selected, its friendly shelter, pure water, broad stretch of fields, fine seashore, unexcelled bathing and boating opportunities and above all its scenic beauty, making it an ideal choice. Pen falls to describe the natural beauty and attractiveness of the spot. Overlooking the placid waters of a broad river winding its way through alternate stretches of a green sward, cultivated plots and wooded sections—the ruddy banks surmounted with green over the calmly reflecting waters offering a triple contrast beautiful in the extreme, the scene was impressive and the memory of it will be lasting. Here over half a hundred pleasure seekers conveyed thither by the houseboat Doris and the launch Orient dispersed from the wharf. Bathing was indulged in generally and then the active spirits were kept busy with baseball and other sports. The scenery—not to mention berries and fruit—was taken in by numerous observation parties. Launches, row boats and sailing craft had each their quota enjoying their favorite sport. The afternoon passed all too quickly and refreshments became in order. Appetites, whetted to keener edge
