Believes The Maritimes Will Help

HALIFAX, Jan. 23.—Ontario men speaking at the banquet held in honor of the Toronto Grads after Saturday's game, impressed Maritimers who were present, and indications now point to a better feeling between the high lords of Canadian sport and the "down easters."

Ross-Stevenson

his name was signed to in the preliminary hearing was correct.

Under further cross examination, the witness did not seem to remember the major portion of his evidence given at the preliminary trial, and kept on saying: "If I signed those statements they must be true."

Q. You made good the loss by paying the money into your father's account, didn't you?

A. Yes, I'm the user.

Q. Your father got $252 of the money back did he not?

A. Yes, he paid me back.

Mr. Bentley. Then you are only the loser by $3.00. Isn't that right?

A. Yes.

The question of whether witness remembered on loading potatoes, and the prisoners watering their horses at the well was referred to in the evidence previously given before Magistrate Shaw, and again witness said he might have been mistaken, and that he does not remember.

Q. After accusing the prisoners of stealing your money, what did they say?

A. They said they dropped a mitt and stopped the horse and ran back to get it. One was offering the other a chew of tobacco.

Q. You said later when I accused Stevenson, his face flushed and changed colors; he did not answer me for five minutes; I would say, He denied having taken any money.

Council: Wouldn't your face flush and change color when you were charged with you were stealing. And besides, don't you know the seriousness of accusing people of such a charge.

Again the witness was cross examined with reference to statements made at the trial. In reply he said he could not remember, but if his name were signed to statements in question, same were correct.

Witness is asked to read his signed statements to the jury.

Q. What did the prisoners say when you said you would take legal proceedings against them?

A. They said they would take their oath that they did not take or see the money.

Council—But in spite of what you said you would prosecute.

Q. And did they not then come right to town to see a lawyer?

A. Yes, they immediately left and were in town ahead of me.

Q. And did they not report to Mr. Shaw, saying that if they were wanted, they would be on hand?

Q. And furthermore, did they not say that anything they pick up they always return it back to the owner, Alexander Culliffe (sworn) to Mr. Campbell—I am a merchant, and I have a store on King street, and I have a store and bought some stuff. They asked the way to New Glasgow. I saw Rupert Simpson at 1:30 in the afternoon; that was Saturday. Yes, I saw the prisoners Saturday. Mr. Simpson saw first.

Q. William Stevenson and Frank Weeks. I said they are going after you Monday. They said we are going to the city tonight. Then Frank and William Ross came along. They enquired of me what was going to be done with the same as I did the other two. There was no further conversation. I do not know anything about this case.

Mr. Bentley (cross-examination): Do you remember the Saturday morning that Stevenson and Ross and Campbell came and bought a few of tobacco and paid you for it?

A. Yes.

A. Are these boys not of good character, honest and reliable?

A. Yes, as far as I know.

Q. Didn't they both deny to you about taking the money.

Yes, they did.

James Simpson (sworn): I live at Bay View. I am a farmer and miller. Am father of Rupert Simpson. Mr. Campbell: Now, tell the court what you know about this case and what happened.

On the night of April 1st last I had $260 in cash and some checks. I placed them in my pocket book and put it in my desk and locked it up. The next morning I took the book, opened it and looked the contents over. I saw a five dollar bill with a check of the different denominations of the bills and checks on the top. I also gave him my bank book and told him to deposit the amount in my credit in the Royal Bank at Hunter River. The cash consisted of five dollar bill and some pennies. There were 36 fives; 4 tens, and 2 twenties. I don't remember the amounts of the checks. I gave the amounts at the preliminary hearing. My son went to Hunter River, and on Sunday morning, April 3rd, I saw my son. The next time I was in Hunter River it was on the morning of the tenth, I went into the Royal Bank when the Manager handed me $352.00, and as far as I can tell the bills were the same as that which disappeared.

What difference was there in the denomination of the bills taken and those put back in the envelope.

A. I cannot say for sure, there were a lot of Bank of Nova Scotia $5 bill and a two dollar bill. I cannot say whether the envelope was being produced or not.

Q. What did you do with the money.

A. I brought it to Charlottetown with me.

Q. Do you know the prisoners.

A. I do not know them, nor have I had any dealings with them.

Mr. Bentley: Did you lose the letter produced at the preliminary hearing.

A. I did not. I left it in court to be produced at this trial.

Mr. Bentley: It seems it's not being produced. Why is it not here in Court?

Mr. Saunders: As far as I am concerned it is not in existence. We did all we could to get the letter.

Miss Janie Andrew and her sister Berna Andrew, the next witnesses called gave corroborative evidence relative to their meeting prisoners on the road, what they saw, etc.

William MacDougal (sworn): I am a farmer and live at Hunter River. I know Hubert Simpson. I saw him on the evening of April 2nd last, I drove him from Fredericton down to Culliffe's store. I saw the prisoners later pass the shop. I turned and followed them to Hunter River. They turned into Pound's store. They were unhitching the horse when we came in. We told them about the pocketbook which was lost. They said they did not see it. I told them they were seen picking something up in the road. One said they were fooling on the road and dropped a mitt. They denied knowing anything about the purse or the money. That's all I was said. We drove back to Hunter River again.

Mr. Bentley—Mr. MacDougal, did they not also say that if they found a pocket-book they would give it back to the owner, and that they were honest and never saw the purse at all.

A. Yes they said that.

Q. And did they not add that they once found a parcel on the road and returned it to the owner.

A. Yes, they said that too.

Mr. Bentley read further evidence of the witness given before Magistrate Shaw, to which he readily assented.

Case adjourned to meet at 10:30 this morning.

Flying Frenchmen Lose To Maroons

MONTREAL, Jan. 23.—The seemingly impossible but the inevitable has happened. Canadiens were beaten by a 1-0 score by the Flying Frenchmen at the Forum last night and this was brought to an end of one of the most impressive records ever compiled by a team in the National Hockey League. It was the first defeat sustained by the Flying Frenchmen in nineteen straight games.

The break had to come, however, and it fell to the lot of the Canucks' intra-city rivals to rise to hockey heights and completely overshadow the Flying Frenchmen, in a thrilling professional hockey battle as has ever been seen on Montreal ice.

A lone goal in the second period by Ward, substitute Maroon right winger was all that was needed to accomplish the downfall of the Fighting team, which for a straight games had both at home and on the road.

The indentation made on Canadiens' lead at the top of the Canadian division of the N. H. L. by the Maroons' victory was scarcely noticeable, but the fight for second in the pack of the league for Saturday night, Canadiens have thirty-eight points while the Maroons and Leafs each have twenty-five. The Maroons, however, played a game less than the Queen City sextette.

Another Fist Fight

Last night's game was a typical Maroon-Canadian battle, marked by a lot of cautious hockey being played by the winners. The contest was not without roughness, two major and fifteen minor penalties being meted out by the officials who called the slightest infractions.

The contest, also, was not without untoward incidents. A fight started right after the final bell between Joliat and Phillips and culminated in a fine of $50 for each combatant. The referees were without jurisdiction at the time as the game was over, but President Frank Calder, who was in attendance, promptly slapped the fine on the pugnacious players.
