WEDDING BELLS

As autumn in surprising beauty ushered in one of her fairest days, Wednesday, Oct. 26th, a wedding of much interest was solemnized in the St. Patrick's Church, Fort Augustus, when Rev. Dr. Croken, Pastor, united in marriage, Mary Gertrude, youngest daughter of Mrs. Cummiskey and the late James H. Cummiskey, Webster's Corner, to Mr. Joseph Curley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Curley, Fort Augustus. At 8.30 a. m. the bride entered the church on the arm of her brother, J. R. Cummiskey, to the strains of the wedding march, played by Hon. David MacDonald, Glenfinnan. The bride presented a charming picture, being comely gowned in blue flat crepe with eggshell trimmings, and carried a beautiful Rosary. The bridesmaid, Miss Francis McEachern, cousin of the groom, was gowned in Burgundy crepe, and looked most attractive. Mr. James H. Cummiskey, brother of the bride, supported the groom. Many friends and invited guests were present in the church to witness the marriage of this popular couple, and the altars were beautifully decorated by kind friends for the occasion. The singing of the Nuptial Mass was pleasingly rendered by the choir, and Mrs. David MacDonald sang sweetly, appropriate hymns. Following the ceremony, breakfast was served at the home of the bride to immediate friends. Speeches were made by Hon. David MacDonald, Mr. Joseph Fisher, uncle of the groom and Mr. J. R. Curley. After a pleasant motor trip to various points on the Island, the party returned that evening to the home of the bride, where a wedding reception of neighbors and relatives took place. The happy couple will reside in their new home in Fort Augustus, where the groom, a prosperous farmer, is well and favorably known. The bride, a talented young lady, will be much missed at Webster's Corner, as she was always ready to help in any way for the community. Their many friends wish them a happy journey through life, in which the Guardian joins.

A number of local wholesalers met last evening in the Board of Trade rooms to discuss the feasibility of forming a branch of the Canadian Credit Men's Trust Association, the chief object of which among others is to procure information as to the financial status of buyers by means of pooling the knowledge of each member, and to provide required information on inquiry of the members.

Mr. F. G. Clennett, manager of the Nova Scotia division outlined the history of the origin and growth of the Canadian Credit Men's Association. In the West practically every merchant was a member of the association. The procuring for wholesalers of credit information as to the status of retailers was the primary objective of the organization. Members through their business dealings supplied information which becomes available to all other members. A man doing business must know where he can lay his hands on money with certainty.

The organization was to bring together wholesalers who would sink their jealousies for the sake of mutual benefit.

The wholesalers present decided that the best plan for organization was that each firm submit its name for membership conditionally.

IS OPTIMISTIC

Mr. E. H. Rayner has returned to Summerside after a five months' sojourn in Europe studying fur marketing conditions. He reports that there are very few pelts in the hands of dealers and that the season closed with a strong demand for all sorts of silver fox pelts as compared with the prices at which they were sold in London last January and February. He noted a gradual improvement in economic conditions throughout Europe and predicted that as business improves, political unrest will gradually disappear.

The passing of the late W. A. Mutch has been very widely regretted throughout the Province and many a heart has been saddened by the sudden removal of this respected citizen. He was in his usual health up to a few hours before the end, which came despite all that love and medical skill could do at 8 a. m. on Oct. 13th.

Mr. Mutch was born sixty-five years ago, the son of the late William Mutch, of Hopeton, a well-known and highly respected citizen in his day, for many years a ruling elder in Zion Church and a most liberal supporter of any effort for the Kingdom of God. His mother was a daughter of Rev. Robert Douglass, an early minister of the St. Peter's Bay Presbyterian Church. Another daughter of Mr. Douglass was the mother of Sir Robert Falconer, the recently retired President of Toronto University.

The deceased was an active, strong-minded man, honourable in his dealings and most liberal to the poor and to all in need. He was a warm supporter of the Missionary enterprise of his church, and Trinity United Church, of which he was a trustee will greatly miss his moral and financial support.

Besides his widow (nee Charlotte MacCallum, of Brackley Point), Mr. Mutch leaves the following family: Sue, married to Claude Thicke, of Vancouver; Jean, also of Vancouver; Blair, of Tranquille, B.C.; Ruth, married to Richard Simpson, of Toronto; Edith, wife of Clifton Loomis, of Connecticut; Arthur, on the homestead and Walter, student at Dalhousie University

In the death yesterday morning of Mr. Eustace Heath Haviland, Charlottetown loses one of her oldest and most highly esteemed citizens.

Born in the year 1849, son of Honourable T. Heath Haviland, prominently associated with the public affairs of this Province, occupying the office of Mayor of the City of Charlottetown and Lieutenant Governor of this Province for many years.

Mr. Haviland was a lawyer by profession, and although not active in Court circles, he manifested sound judgment in the discharge of the duties entrusted to him, thereby winning the confidence of all those with whom he came in contact.

Although of a retiring disposition,

Mr. Haviland had a great many friends; especially fond was he of little children, who dearly loved to gather around him and listen to his tales of long ago. He shunned publicity and disliked being placed in the limelight, but numerous little kindnesses were shown by him to many people, known to very few outside of those who benefited. Although he has passed from our sight the memory of "The Colonel" (as he was called by his familiar friends) will ever remain a fond and cherished remembrance.

He was a lifelong and consistent member of St. Paul's Church. He leaves to mourn the loss of an affectionate brother, one sister, Miss E. Blanche Haviland, his constant and devoted companion; also one brother, Mr. Edward Haviland, of Montreal.
