REJOICING OVER THE ELECTION OF JOHN STANFIELD, OF TRURO

Won His Seat Fairly in the Face of a Fierce Opposition — Congratulations Pouring in to the Winner

TRURO, N.S. Nov. 29.—Never since the day of 1870-71 has such a staggering blow been struck at an administration as was struck in Colchester yesterday. This was the situation. A government entrenched with a majority of over sixty; the house, a majority from every province in the Dominion except Ontario, a solid delegation of eighteen from Nova Scotia, and having captured Colchester by 114 majority at the last federal election. With the tremendous influence and patronage of the federal and provincial government, and with the grand finale of H. W. S. Fielding, the Conservative candidate, John Stanfield, elected by a majority of over 200 over Charles Hill the nominee of the Liberal party. Congratulations have been pouring in tonight from all over the country to Stanfield and the Conservatives committee, who managed the campaign in good style.

FAIRYLAND Grand Pictorial Musical Programme.

The programme tonight is unusually attractive and entertaining. The pictures are as follows:— "A Boy's Redemption," a dramatic story of a girl's influence on a man who had been guilty of every form of crime. This is a life like to that of the "Square Deal" which has been the experience of so many. "Attack on the Carrier." An express messenger, carrying very valuable packages is waylaid and robbed by bandits. The conflict between the bandits and the brave carrier is thrilling and exciting. "Happy Bobs" bobs up again, but in this new role is funnier than ever. He comes against the real thing and his experience is highly amusing. "A Square Deal" the last is probably the most interesting picture of the four and deals with a party of ten rates, who find one of their own party untrue to the duties which they regard as sacred, but who in the manner in which the party treats the widow and family, who by the way were apparently better off without such a husband and father. E. H. Mitchell will again sing the new illustrated song "When the Summer Kissed the Autumn Leaves Good-bye." It was highly appreciated last night. The Prince Edward Island views were certainly gems of art.

MATTINEE. A matinee will be held this afternoon beginning at 2 o'clock. The Moving pictures will be presented and Parker Hooper will sing the illustrated song "The Little and her Little Teddy Bear." The views include scenes in Victoria Park Charlottetown, and were prepared by J. A. S. Boyer.

PARLIAMENT SAT BRIEFLY YESTERDAY

The Senate did Not Sit but Railway Commissioner's Report Brought down

OTTAWA, Nov. 29.—(Special)—The Commons sat fifteen minutes this afternoon. The Senators did not meet. No business can be transacted until the speech from the throne is done with. The short time the Commons was together enabled a number of members to prepare the way for later work by the introduction of petitions. After minor notices were given the report of the Railway Commission was laid before Parliament. It shows that in Canada there were 400 persons killed and 608 injured in railway accidents, 42 passengers, 218 employees and 200 other persons. There were 100 killed on the Grand Trunk, 218 on the C. P. R., and 30 on the Canadian Northern. The total expenditure in connection with the Commission was $68,000.

SAD FATE THAT BEFELL A RAW THAT WAS SACRED

Curious Revelation Afforded by Ancient Relics dug Up in Egypt

PARIS, Nov. 27.—That the lot of those animals which were treated as gods in ancient Egypt was not altogether blissful was amply proved recently by an autopsy performed on the mummy of a sacred ram recently discovered in the island of Elephantine. It was found that the backbone of the poor beast was almost completely solidified. This and other indications such as the condition of its hoofs, tend to show that the ram was deprived of all movement throughout many years. The discovery throws instructive light on the conditions to which Egyptian piety condemned the living objects of popular veneration. The business of being a god was evidently anything but gay. Promoted to this high dignity and in consequence closely imprisoned for life in the twilight of a sanctuary, the ram probably discovered, even in those dark ages, that glory was not worth while.

LONG BEARD OF ABRAHAM IS GONE IN SMOKE

An Aged New Yorker Lost His Treasured Whiskers in a Fire

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 28.—For fifty years Abraham Bender, aged 70, of 506 Moore Street, has been growing a beard until it reached to his knees. In two seconds it went up in smoke the other day in spite of the fact, that the fire Brigade hurriedly answered a call to extinguish the flames. Bender, with his long beard, was known to every man, woman, and child in the neighborhood. His beard was so long he used to tuck it into the tops of his boots, and in the cold weather wrapped it about his neck like a comforter. It was the pride of his life. The old man liked boys, and when Collins and Richardson approached him on Eighth St. recently and asked him for a match, he replied "Sure." Bender handed the boys a match. Before he could realize it, one of the boys had scratched the match and thrust the flame into Bender's whiskers. There was a puff of smoke and a scream. Some one yelled fire, and in half a minute the engine company had made the short run. But it was no use. The fire had burned itself out in that brief period and left Bender disconsolate.

RUSSIAN CZAR IS NO LONGER AN AUTOCRAT

Douma Rejected Title by a Large Majority Amid Great Rejoicing

ST. PETERSBURG, Nov. 28.—The Duma last night decreed that the title of autocrat, which has been born by the emperors of Russia for centuries, is no longer tenable within the Russian states, and is incompatible with the regime inaugurated by the manifesto issued by Emperor Nicholas on October 30, 1905. At the close of a great constitutional debate, the Russian Parliament, by a vote of 112 to 246, rejected the word "autocrat," and then adopted a reply to the address from the throne unanimously, amid scenes of intense excitement, prolonged cheering and the singing of the national anthem. The result of the session is regarded as a fine victory for the Constitutional Democrats, under the leadership of Professor Paul N. Milukoff, who succeeded in forcing the October's hand. The final vote was taken after the demonstrative withdrawal of the Extreme Right Socialist Democrats, members of the Group of Toil, and the Poles.

Immigration for Maritime Provinces

There Are Good Opportunities for Settlers in New Brunswick and Nova Scotia—Effort to be Made to Give Provinces a Share

OTTAWA, November 28.—An effort is being made to provide the Maritime Provinces with a share of the immigration which is available in Europe for settlement in Canada. Mr. W. D. Scott, superintendent of immigration, has just returned from the East, and he is convinced that there is an opportunity for settlers in all three of the provinces, but particularly in Nova Scotia and New Brunswick. In each of these provinces there are lands which are available at normal purchase price, and which would suit some classes of immigration even better than the prairie lands of the West, that the rush of immigration is now filling up. The Dominion Government will cooperate with the Provincial Governments of the East in encouraging immigration. Three representatives will be sent to England from New Brunswick and the same number from Nova Scotia for the purpose of laying before the British people an idea of the opportunities to be found in Eastern Canada. It is expected that there will be a considerable immigration as the result of their efforts. The Provincial Government have agreed to look after the immigrants when they come and see that they are properly located, that they may conduct successful farming operations. It is understood that only people with some capital will be encouraged to settle in this part of Canada, though farm laborers will also be directed there.

FRENCH TROOPS IN DANGER OF ANNIHILATION

despatch from Algeria Says Situation is Critical and Troops in danger

PARIS, Nov. 27.—A despatch to the Matin from Nemours, Algeria, says that five more tribes have joined the Beni Nassen tribesmen, and that the situation is becoming critical. It says also that if reinforcements are not sent immediately the French force now there will be in danger of annihilation. LALLA, MAGHNEA, November 27.—The French column which was engaged in a serious fight with the tribesmen Monday, returned yesterday, after bombarding several villages. A French reconnoitering party was attacked to-day by twenty thousand tribesmen and forced to retreat, having eight men wounded. The hostilities are the result of resentment of the tribesmen against French occupation of Oudja.

YUKON BOATS CAPRY THE GOLD IN OPEN SIGHT

It is a Safer Way to Transport it, When Passengers See

VANCOUVER, Nov. 28.—Companies owning steamers plying on the Yukon river have adopted a novel scheme of protecting the gold which they are called upon to transport from place to place. They make detectives of their passengers. The scheme is to erect a canoe of heavy crimped wire on the main passenger deck, where it is securely fastened. The cage is eight feet high, four feet square and fitted with heavy locks. In the centre, where it can be seen by all, the precious metal is placed, it being assumed that no thief will be daring enough to attempt a robbery in full view of all the passengers.
