Starting with a breath-taking spectacle of the world shocking assassination of the Archduke Ferdinand of Austria in Sarajevo just before the outbreak of the World War, and ending with an even more breath-taking climax in which a husband settles the fate of his wife and the man whom she loved, "Storm at Daybreak" which opened yesterday at the Prince Edward Theatre, proved to be one of those rare photoplays in which every reel is permeated with suspense, excitement and smash drama.

DRIVES HIMSELF TO WORK AT 82
And Still Plays a Little Golf

How many of us, when we are 82, will be the equal in health and activity of this vigorous old Scottish engineer? In a letter he says:—"I arrived here from Scotland on the 7th April, 1870. I am over 82 years old. I drive my Ford car 40 miles over hills and dales to a factory, and can still play a little golf. I have taken the little dose of Kruschen Salts in my cup of coffee every morning for some years, and I believe it is keeping me in good health and enabling me to keep on working at the factories as engineer."

short it is a joy to know how many fine and splendid virtues have been manifested and worthy deeds done which have made the world richer and better because of the gracious influences exerted, lifting us up and creating in our own hearts a desire to be truer and nobler. It is true, "while being dead," such lives summon us to nobler achievements. Such was Mrs. MacDonald from whom we have been called upon to separate for a while, but the memory of whose life will continue to inspire us as we toll on at life's tasks.

Mrs. MacDonald had heavy burdens to bear and trials, not light, to endure, a sufferer herself as well as for others because of long continued illness in the home, but ever patient and submissive to its end. At last, in the P. E. I. Hospital, on Aug. 14th, after a critical operation, her saintly spirit vacated the tenement of clay and entered that abiding home where tears are wiped away from every eye.

"Pleasure Cruise" Delightful
Comedy Romance At Capitol

Add "Pleasure Cruise," the new comedy that opened at the Capitol yesterday, to your list of pictures that are distinctly worth while seeing. It has Genevieve Tobin and Roland Young in the leading roles and has a generous content of all the ingredients that go to make perfect entertainment.

"Pleasure Cruise" relates the story of a young woman who decides to inject some romance into her married life by taking a cruise on one of those liners whose principal cargo is a group of pleasure-seeking passengers. Her husband, a timid and credulous gentleman, isn't entirely enthusiastic about his wife's taking a trip for the trip's sake. So, with her own personality, he manages to become a steward on the very ship that is to carry his wife on her quest for diversion.

a day, and yet for whom we have no kind word. It was a fine thought of Pascal that if the hard-hearted man could be induced to visit the poor in their abject misery, even he would be induced to part with at least some superfluity for their relief. Also when accused of giving too much away, that he would make himself a beggar—"Oh," he said, "I never knew a person who did not leave something behind him when dying."

But let me not lead you to suppose you all can do great things, and become great. The experience of a life now running over 50 years forbids that. Our greatest mistakes arise from over confidence in our own powers when young, and a too great haste to be rich, or to be distinguished. Little things make up the business of life, and the necessary attention to little things is a duty, too often overlooked. It is the plodding boy that oftenest gets on in life, 'tis the careful housewife makes the happy home, 'tis the tradesman who sticks to his business who is sure to succeed, and that homely proverb, "Let the cobler stick to his last," has wisdom and teaching in it for every class. In short, let every one do his own work well in a community, and that community must thrive.

neglect of punctuality is a vicious habit far too easily allowed amongst us. They are the little foxes that spoil the vines and make the christian unfruitful and unoperative for good. Time is a talent given us for improvement, and when I note the late rising, the unpunctual attendance upon meetings, the easy neglect of long engagements, the indolent way of doing business, the aimless gossip and foolish talking, and the quiet satisfaction with which hours and days are passed by with nothing useful done or purposed to be done, I tremble for the future, and remember it is written "what thy hand findeth to do, do with thy might." The poet says,

IN MEMORIAM

MRS. HECTOR MACDONALD

The home, social circle and the ranks of the church militant are being continually invaded and our loved ones are summoned from the activities of this life to join in the higher service above.

Recently Mrs. Hector MacDonald, a helpful and devoted member of St. Andrew's United Church, responded to the call to come up higher. She heroically won out in life's great battle for the nobler and worthwhile achievements of life, and proving herself faithful unto the end received the imperishable crown that never dims but grows brighter and brighter unto the perfect day.

There is a comparatively brief period allotted to us here to accomplish life's tasks; but although

She was a sincere christian, ever faithful in the home, society and church. As a faithful and true friend we shall, and do, miss her; but we know that our loss is her eternal gain. We, therefore, say farewell "until the morning breaks and the shadows flee away."

Passing away at the age of 53, she leaves to mourn their loss three sons, John and Russell at home, Wesley in Indiana, U. S. A.; also three daughters, Catherine and Marion at home, Helen in Massachusetts, U. S. A., and four brothers, John, Alexander and Louis in Massachusetts, U. S. A., and James Gillis of Uigg, P. E. Island, and two sisters, Mrs. M. Young of Massachusetts and Mrs. M. Gillis, predeceased.

On Aug. 16th she was laid to rest in the family plot in Belfast Cemetery. The services, which were largely attended, were conducted by Rev. H. Pierce, assisted by Rev. John Murchison of St. John, N. B. Suitable solos were finely rendered by Rev. Mr. Murchison and Mrs. James Gillis.

The pallbearers were Capt. Craig, Daniel McDonald, Wilfred McLean, John McLeod, Frank Rooney and James Morrissey.

MRS. RONALD GILLIS

The sad death of Ronald Gillis, formerly of St. Peter's Bay, occurred in Roxbury, Mass. His death has been a great shock to his many friends. He was a man of intelligence and refinement, kind, and a true brother. He was a devoted member of the Catholic Church and had the consolation of making the mission in St. Patrick's Church, Roxbury, before his death. He was waked at his sister's, Mrs. Daniel Rowell, where his casket was covered with flowers and many Mass Cards and Spiritual Bouquets given by his relatives and friends of Boston. His remains were then taken to St. Peter's, Prince Edward Island accompanied by Mrs. Powell to his aged father, where he wished and loved to be the last two years, as he had been in poor health.

The late Ronald Gillis when a youth was an Altar Boy and a member of the choir and organist of his Parish Church, St. Peter's. He was agent for the late William Lewis, Cardigan, headstone and marble work, also for A. Horne and Company, Ltd., Charlottetown, P. E. I., and a member of the Intercolonial Club of Boston, Mass.

He leaves to mourn an aged father, three sisters, and four brothers, Annie, Mrs. John J. MacDonald, Pisiquid; Mrs. Mary Kisterton; Tena, Mrs. Daniel Powell, of Boston, Mass.; John in Boston, Mass.; Joseph, Paul and James at home.

A large concourse of cars and carriages comprised the cortege to St. Peter's Church, August the 9th. High Mass was celebrated by his beloved pastor, Rev. A. MacAulay, and after that solemn Roman Catholic funeral service was entoned. The hearse was driven by his cousin and chum Ronald MacInnis. Pall bearers: Roy Quigley, Peter MacAdam, Martin MacInnis, Allen Anderson, John Sutherland and John MacIsaac. Masses and prayers were said by his cousins, Rev. Adolphus Gillis, Rev. Louis Dougan, Rev. Emmett Dougan; Prayers by Sister St. Catherine Gillis, St. Joseph's Convent, Charlottetown, P. E. I., and Sister Mary Rose MacDonald, Connecticut; also Masses said by Father Emmett O'Hanley. Numerous Mass Cards by his relatives and kind friends of St. Peter's and surrounding districts were deeply appreciated.

May his soul rest in peace.

MRS. FRED STEWART

Many friends were indeed sorry to learn of the death of Mrs. Fred Stewart (nee Maggie Owen), at the home of her sister, Mrs. Bessie Stewart, Hamilton, P. E. I., where she had arrived only a short time previous to her death from her home in Amherst, N. S. The late Mrs. Stewart was a daughter of the late Arthur and Mrs. Owen, of Malpeque. The funeral was held on Sunday afternoon from the residence of her sister, Mrs. Bert Stewart, and was conducted by Rev. W. S. Loring, Kensington, a large number of sympathizing friends being present. The funeral was under the direction of the undertaker, Mr. Roy Phillips, the remains were borne to his undertaking parlors and from thence Mr. Phillips conveyed them by motor hearse to her home in Amherst, N. S., where they were laid to rest beside those of her husband who predeceased her a few years ago. Much sympathy is expressed to the brothers and sisters and all other sorrowing friends.
