

Millinery Opening of Dress Hats

This Afternoon June 10th S. A. McDonald's

Invite you to the Installation of Summer Fashion An Annual Event Ushering in the Fashion Season of Summer, 1916

This, our second Summer Fashion exhibition of dress hats is one of the utmost importance, and of palpitating interest to every woman of fashion. We might call it a style education—a classification of the new models certified as authentic and correct by the best New York and Paris houses.

The Fashions will be Displayed This Afternoon

You must witness this magnificent display to be well posted on what's going to be worn this Summer. It has required some preparation on our part to be able to unfold these new things before your eyes; but it will take you only a few minutes to note their charming characteristics.

TIGNISH

—A YOUNG HEROINE.—A woman's quick intention and presence of mind, particularly when a loved one is in danger, has often succeeded in saving human life under circumstances, where a man's courage might have failed, but seldom, perhaps, are there womanly qualities shown at such a tender age as that of the little maiden of 5 years, who is the heroine of the following true story: Last Sunday three little children of Mr. Peter Harper, owner of the famous Harper's Mill, were playing near the sluice when little Joe, aged 7 fell into the water. His younger brother ran to the house some little distance away to tell his mother who was entertaining a neighbor. The two women feared that the child was lost and calling for help they rushed to the scene. But, in the meantime, little Ethel, a bright miss of 5 years, ran to the mill and procured a long pole, that someone had been using as a fishing rod, and extended it to her brother just as he came to the surface for the last time. With this she helped him to the bank and succeeded in catching him by the shoulder and pulling him upon dry land. When her mother and the others arrived she was shaking him vigorously and crying: Help! Help! Now, when she is reproved for any reason, she says: "Yes, and only for me you wouldn't have Joe."—Y.

The Farador In Pneumonia Cases

And Other Ailments of Children in Charlottetown.

During the recent epidemic of pneumonia in Charlottetown the Farador has won for itself a reputation that cannot be effaced. In nearly every instance where it was called for it was taken as a last resort and in every case recovery quickly followed. Some people could not be induced to try it until they witnessed the speedy cure of their neighbor's children by its means. Some waited too long in making up their minds to try it and in consequence death reaped its harvest.

In acute ailments, like pneumonia there is no time to wait. The Farador being so grand a remedy as a last resort ought to be still better as a first resort and it is hope the people will soon realize the fact.

The Farador has also cured many Charlottetown children of measles, whooping cough and various kinds of fevers.

Prejudice and skepticism often stand in the way of the Farador. People should realize that if it could do no good it could not possibly harm the patient; consequently they should give it a chance. The cures effected by its means are to be found in many homes on nearly every street. The names of hundreds of users of the Farador will be given for the asking.

W. E. ENMAN, Farador Agent, 226 Richmond St., Charlottetown. 278-6-10M11.

—MARGATE CIRCUIT.—Rev. J. J. Pinkerton of Chatham, N. B., will preach at Margate on Sunday next at 10.45 a. m. Wilnot at 3 p. m. and Kensington at 7 o'clock.

—LOBSTERS PLENTIFUL.—Mr. Edward G. Aylward, lobster packer of Waterford Lot, 1 was in town yesterday, he reports lobsters very plentiful in that section, but the fishermen are handicapped by the extreme scarcity of bait.—H.

—HOME ON HOLIDAYS.—Mr. Maxwell Murphy, student of St. Dunstan's College has returned to Tignish to spend the holidays at his home here. His friends are pleased to notice that Maxwell has sustained his reputation by capturing honors in his favorite study, History.—Y.

—FUNERAL.—The funeral of the late Mrs. Keough took place Wednesday morning from Tignish Church. The unusually large funeral procession testified to the respect in which the deceased was held. Her two sons William and Alfred, with their sisters, Mrs. Stewart and Mrs. Shea all of whom had come to the island for their mother's funeral returned to Boston this (Thursday) morning.

—SERIOUS FIRE.—Captain Peter Perry of Palmer Road north met with a serious loss Tuesday when his house and two barns, and other outbuildings were destroyed by fire. It seems that Mrs. Perry had started a big fire in the kitchen stove, preparatory to cooking the dinner and shortly afterwards she was startled to find that the upstairs was in flames, the fire probably starting from a defective flue. Two of the sons were at work in a field nearby, but although they hurried to the scene and were joined by the neighbors, nothing could be done to check the flames which soon reduced their home to ashes. Much sympathy is felt for Mr. Perry and his family, as they have spent much labour and money these last few years in improving and fitting up the building.—Y.
