ROVERS

At their regular meeting on Tuesday the Rovers had as their guest Prof. Lloyd Shaw, who gave a very interesting talk on his visit to Denmark and surrounding countries. Professor Shaw first told the boys some of the interesting features of the ocean voyage, mentioning particularly the skill and accuracy of the officers in charge of the liner.

The speaker outlined at some length the history and accomplishments of the Denmark Folk High Schools. Among other subjects taught were singing, folk dancing, gymnastics, art and history of the past. The study received in these schools was largely responsible for a spiritual awakening in the rural districts and laid the foundation for successful co-operation to such a degree that practically everything is now run on a co-operative basis. It is not uncommon for a farmer to be a member of from 13 to 18 co-operative societies. As a people Professor Shaw found the Danes to be intellectual, honest, home loving, fond of travel and hard working.

CUBS

At the meeting of the Cubs at the Baptist Church on Monday three candidates were invested as Cubs.

This Pack has chosen a new colour for their neckerchief. In the future it will be scarlet rather than navy blue.

At the Zion Cub meeting on Tuesday there was a large turnout and after the general inspection the entire evening was spent at games, the sleeping pirate being the most popular.

The St. James Cubs held their regular meeting Wednesday and made some plans for their stunt for the annual concert. The St. Peter's Cubs met on Thursday night.

MOST HOLY REDEEMER TROOP

Twenty Scouts and two leaders were present at the regular meeting on Friday night. The older Scouts were busy on their first class work under the leadership of Assistant Scoutmaster Ivan Walsh, while the younger members were busy at their tenderfoot tests. In addition to the regular test work several debates have been held recently.

ST. JAMES SCOUTS

The St. James Scouts spent a considerable part of their regular meeting rehearsing for their part of the Provincial Concert. Proficiency badge work has also been started.

ST. PETER'S SCOUTS

The Scouts of this troop are all fairly new but are a very promising lot and are receiving thorough training under the leadership of Mr. George Brady. The boys are all busy on their second class test work. The two most popular games are indoor hockey and dodge ball. This troop is also proficient at matwork.

PROVINCIAL CONCERT

Arrangements are to be made at a meeting of Scout leaders on Monday for the annual concert and display which will be held the latter part of May. With more Cub Packs taking part this year's performance will no doubt be the best on record.

Police repeatedly charged into the crowds of Communists, swinging their clubs, to sweep the streets near the City Hall clean of demonstrators.

Many shoppers were caught in the vigorous fighting and were trampled. One old woman was badly hurt.

Police blocked entrances to the boulevards, which the dispersed manifestators attempted to enter.

The demonstration was held to protest the "Fascist" pay cuts, embodied in the economy measures.

MADRID, April 20—Four young men were gravely wounded during a sharp gun battle tonight between Extremists and Fascists in front of a newspaper office on a busy thoroughfare in the heart of the city.

Return Fire

Extremists poured volleys through windows and doors of the newspaper plant, that of the important El Debate, and a group of Fascists, who had been converging nearby, returned the fire until assault guards, responding to a hurried riot call, quelled the disorder.

Government officials later expressed the opinion the gun fire was directed at youthful popular Agrarians who, with a number of Fascists visited El Debate editors before attending a national convention in suburban Escorial.

The shooting broke out after a fight in Congress over an amnesty bill, which was approved 269 to 1 Deputy Indalescia Prieto, former minister of finance and public works, was hissed and made the target of inkwells and water glasses when he rose to speak against the measure. The President of the Chamber ordered him to stop in the interest of peace, but Prieto persisted.

MONKEY BITES ACTRESS AND LOSES ALL HIS TEETH

JUAN-LES-PINS, France, April 20.—Kiki, Maxine Elliott's pet monkey, bit her severely on the leg today while she was playing backgammon, and lost all his teeth as a consequence.

The former actress and New York theatre owner was having a quiet game in the garden of her villa "Horizon" with Lady Castlerosse, Patricia Russell and Captain Brock Bridgeman.

Kiki, who has a reputation on the Riviera as a bad actor, without warning seized Maxine's ankle in his paws and sank his teeth into the calf of her leg.

A doctor rushed to the villa and cauterized the wound, which he said was not serious.

Maxine was so furious she ordered Kiki to Cannes to have all his teeth removed.

After hearing there were 256 tag days and flag days in London last year the Metropolitan Police authorities have decided approvals of street collections will be limited in future.

S'SIDE TRADE BD. DISCUSSES MATTERS

Several important matters were discussed at the quarterly meeting of the Summerside Board of Trade.

Mr. B. W. Robinson, president, presided.

Mr. L. R. Allen, as chairman of the railway committee reported that he had received information that the summer time table would go into effect on May 28th, and the following changes have been made for the convenience of passengers from Summerside and the west:

There will be a connection at Emerald with the late trip of the boat. The motor coach will leave Summerside at 4 p. m. running to Emerald and connecting there with the first train from the boat to Charlottetown.

Upon the arrival of the second boat train the motor coach will return to Summerside. A train leaving Tignish at 4 a. m. will connect at Emerald with first trip of boat.

The mixed train leaving Summerside at 1.45 p. m. will connect at Emerald with second boat train. Train from Tignish at 7.45 a. m. arriving at Summerside 1.15, leaves in plenty of time for passengers to connect with coach at 4 p. m. These changes make a connection twice a day with the mainland, coming and going and also connect with Charlottetown.

Mr. Allen discussed the rates on automobiles crossing on the car ferry and read a letter that he had sent to Premier MacMillan supporting the Premier's efforts to get the rate lowered.

Mr. C. R. Rogers, speaking on this subject said that a petition signed by a vast majority of car owners in this province had been given to the Premier from this Board and he felt that the Premier and members of the Government were in sympathy with the reduction and that the Premier would not stop until he had succeeded in getting the rates lowered. Mr. J. F. Arnett suggested getting the Associated Boards of Trade to back them up in this request. Mr. Rogers pointed out that if the rate was lowered the number of citizens from this province spending weekends on the mainland would become so great that the car ferry would not be able to accommodate them. Mr. Callaghan pointed out that an example of profit accruing from lowered rates was the recent excursions to Boston and other cities. He had been informed that more net profit had been made in one day on the first excursion than had been made in two weeks of ordinary travel.

The subjects to be taken up at a special meeting of the Board when the Agricultural Committee will be formed, and to which the farmers will be invited, were discussed. The building of frost-proof warehouses was the chief matter before the Board.

Mr. Allen said that the Board should go on record as supporting the building of frost proof potato warehouses for the farmers.

Mr. W. P. Callaghan suggested that the aid of the Government be asked to build warehouses on the sidings of the railway all along the line. He thought the farmers would put up 50 per cent of the money if the Governments would put up the other 50 per cent. The prosperity of the province was based on the money received by the farmer and foxmen and Mr. Callaghan considered they should receive help to care for their produce the same as the fishermen, when in the past the Federal Government fostered the cold storage plants for the storing of fish.

A motion was put by Mr. H. T. Holman recorded by Mr. M. L. Frank MacKenzie that a copy of the letter from the Canadian Chamber of Commerce referring to the new marketing board be sent to each member so that it could be intelligently discussed at the next meeting.

The proposed new permanent highway was discussed and it was the general opinion of those present that if the highway was to serve the majority of the people of the Province as well as the tourists the route chosen should be from Borden to Ross Corner or Read's Corner and on through Kensington and Hunter River, as it would then serve the public travelling from the west to Charlottetown and also those travelling west from Charlottetown as well as the people coming to and from the Island. Should the road be constructed on the shore road to Borden from Charlottetown it would only serve the public to and from the mainland and not be of such benefit to the people of the Province. A committee was formed of Mr. J. F. Arnett, Mayor Lidstone and Mr. P. G. Clark to wait upon Premier MacMillan and place their views before him.

Mr. Arnett reported that he had been in touch with the Department of Public Works in connection with improvements to the potato warehouse on the Marine Wharf and that they had sent their resident engineer, Mr. Robert Nicholson to see what was necessary and the alterations and improvements would be commenced as soon as possible.

Mr. H. T. Holman reporting for the Tourist Committee said that $150 had been contributed from this Board to the Tourist Association and had been gratefully acknowledged. In co-operation with Tormentine a large bill board is being placed there and another at the fork in the road near Borden, where the road branches off to Charlottetown and Summerside, welcoming people to Summerside.

A vote of thanks moved by Mr. MacKenzie was extended to Mr. Holman and the members of the Board who had assisted in the concert which was instrumental in providing the funds for advertising.

Several communications were read from the Canadian Chamber of Commerce dealing with "Clean Up Week", the issuing of smaller bank notes and uniform blank cheques; and a message from the United States Chamber of Commerce extending an invitation to the board to their annual meeting to discuss matters of mutual benefit to both countries.

A communication from General Hornby dealing with immigration was also read. These matters were left to the secretary to deal with and would be taken up by the Board at a future date.—S.

InquestAdjourned To Richibucto

According to the Moncton papers, the inquest into the death of Mr. John Furness, Charlottetown, whose body was found near Peter's Mills, Kent County, N. B., has been adjourned to Richibucto, where it will be more convenient for the witnesses who will be called to give evidence. The date of the inquest will be decided later. At the opening hearing before Coroner Dr. A. E. Forbes, Corporal Stewart of the R. C. M. P. read a letter he had received from the R. C. M. P. at Charlottetown. The letter was said to have been written by Furness to his wife in Charlottetown, and intimated some trouble existed at Richibucto Cape in connection with the building of the lighthouse. Furness intimated, in the letter, that some effort might be made to "beat him up", before he left there.

Constable Paradis in describing the position of the body when found, to the jurymen, said the end of the pole had been forced between a large belt Furness had been wearing, and his body. The body was upright with the arms stretched straight over the head.

spokesman said "the main lines of our policy could be read in the Foreign Minister's speech to Parliament Jan. 23, in which he said:

"The Japanese Government has serious responsibilities for the maintenance of peace in East Asia and has a firm resolve in that regard . . . We should not forget for a moment that Japan, serving as the only cornerstone for the edifice of peace in East Asia, bears the entire burden of responsibility. . . .

"I am confident the United States will not fail to appraise correctly Japan's position in East India."

In a new statement today a Foreign Office spokesman said:

"Japan shares responsibility for maintenance of the peace in East Asia only with Asiatic powers, particularly China. The time has passed when other powers or the League of Nations can prosecute their policies for the exploitation of China."

tion given by officers of the Canadian Pulp and Paper Association tonight to announcement the British Government had increased the duty against certain types of foreign paper.

Canadian paper enters Great Britain free, the Association pointed out, and the increase from 15 to 20 percent in the duty according gives Canada a further five percent advantage over the products of Norway, Sweden and other foreign countries.

The increase affects the heavier types of paper. Several other types already bear a 20 percent duty.

Officers of the Association said a campaign had been waged for some time to increase the Empire preference and declared the action would have a decidedly stimulating effect on Canadian exports.

Twenty Percent Limit

Twenty percent is the limit the British Government may impose on paper and paper products on account of a trade treaty with Norway and Sweden.

Some disappointment was expressed that Kraft board had been exempted from the increased duty as efforts are being made in Canada to build up a greater market in Great Britain for this product.

In 1932, the last year for which final figures are available, Canada exported to Great Britain cardboard, millboard, wallboard and pasteboard valued at about $1,000,000 out of total imports of about $10,000,000. All these kinds of paper were believed to fall within the classes against which the duty has been raised.

In 1933, total imports were approximately the same and while the Canadian share is not definitely known, it is believed to have been somewhat larger. In 1933, Canada's share of Great Britain's packing and wrapping paper imports was $25,000 out of a total between $10,000,000 and $15,000,000.

TAMMANY HALL LEADER IS DEPOSED

John F. Curry Voted Out of Office—Triumvirate Likely to Assume Control.

(A. P. By Guardian's Special Wire)

NEW YORK, April 20—Tammany Hall for the first time in history tonight deposed its leader, the suave and imperturbable John F. Curry.

Curry, whose opponents had dubbed him "the man of blunders," was voted out of the post he had held for five years, 14 1-3 to 10 1-6, at a closed meeting of the wigwam's executive committee.

A triumvirate is expected to be named by the committee to operate Tammany Hall, a policy which sometimes has been followed in periods of stress.

Impassioned Plea

The gray-haired leader made an impassioned plea for support, defending his record and asserting he had given the 135-year-old New York City political institution the best service he could command.

First he refused an appeal by Charles W. Culkin, a district leader, that he resign. Then the vote was taken, an hour and a half after the committee went into session.

Curry, who opposed President Roosevelt's nomination and who stood by former Mayor James J. Walker to the end of the latter's political career, emerged from the committee room smiling.

Powerful Tammanyite

One of the 70 district leaders who attended the meeting said afterward that when James J. Hines, a powerful Tammanyite, had cast his vote for Curry, the latter said:

"I want you to change your vote and vote against me, because you caused this whole thing and you directed it from down where you were."

Hines had returned hastily from a vacation in Hot Springs, Ark., to attend the meeting, called earlier in the week after insurgents decided they had enough votes to overthrow the leader.

William L. Kavanagh, co-leader of the third assembly district, made the formal motion rescinding the resolution passed five years ago by the executive committee conferring the leadership on Curry. As the result was announced, Curry said:

Thanks Supporters

"I want to thank you ladies and gentlemen who voted for me. That is all."

He was the first to leave.

Three bad guesses, say those who studied them, brought about the downfall of grizzled John Curry.

He opposed the nominations of President Roosevelt and Governor Herbert H. Lehman. He sought to renominate James J. Walker for mayor after his resignation under fire and then found satisfaction in the victory of Mayor John P. O'Brien despite the danger signal of 342,000 "write-in" votes for Joseph V. McKee.

SOME PHASES OF N R A DISCUSSED

Some phases of the National Recovery Programme in United States were discussed by Mr. John T. Croteau, Professor of Economics and Sociology at Prince of Wales College and St. Dunstan's University, in an address before the Knights of Columbus last evening. The programme, as inaugurated by Congress on the coming into power of the Roosevelt administration was based on eighty new laws, eighteen of which constituted the "New Deal", Professor Croteau stated. He discussed the subject under seven main headings: Economic control and public works, emergency relief problems, bank security issues and gold, government ownership, as in the Tennessee Valley, labour legislation, credit control, the efforts of the administration to raise prices. The speaker also indicated the underlying philosophy and the motives behind the recovery programme, and discussed some of the possibilities of a planned economy, such as that now in vogue in the United States.

Regarding the philosophy of the N.R.A., Professor Croteau stated that an attempt was being made to get away from the individualism and laissez-faire characteristic of American business in the past. A certain amount of State guidance had been brought into economic and social affairs. Private initiative had failed in certain respects, and the State had come in to remedy the situation.

It was difficult to evaluate the permanent effects of the programme, as it had been in operation for only a short time. However, it seemed to be succeeding, as evidenced in the advance in prices. The N.R.A. had evoked powerful opposition in certain financial, industrial and political quarters.

Mr. E. F. Hornby presided at the meeting. A vocal solo was rendered by Mr. S. F. Doyle, accompanied by Mr. Albert Blanchard.

A vote of thanks, moved by Mr. M. A. Farmer and seconded by Mr. C. St. C. Trainor, was extended to Professor Croteau.

Extreme Caution Britain's Far East Policy.

WORLD REACTION

ficial text of the document, pending the receipt of which State Department officials were silent on it.

(By Albert W. Wilson, Associated Press Staff Writer)

LONDON, April 20—Great Britain's policy in the Far East as a result of Japan's new claims to responsibility for keeping peace, it was learned authoritatively tonight, will be marked by extreme caution.

The United States must take the initiative, it was said, if she should desire to propose a united front of western powers against the Japanese move so long as the British Government does not recognize specific evidence that British interests in China are actually threatened.

Foreign Office attaches revealed that no instructions or messages had been sent the British Ambassador in Washington as a result of Tkyo's declaration, called a "white-hands-off-China" policy and an "Asiatic Monroe doctrine."

Will Be Affected

In high circles the belief was held that the United States, Great Britain and Soviet Russia are likely to be affected in the greatest degree if Japan carries out the new policy—enunciated in a Tokyo Foreign Office pronouncement April 17 and another today—based on the premise that "the time has passed when other powers or the League of Nations can prosecute their policies for the exploitation of China."

No Countermove

It was strongly indicated, however, that London feels it unnecessary to make a countermove because Japan would find it extremely difficult to enforce any ban on foreign aid to China such as, in the case of the United States, aircraft and cotton and wheat loans.

China's far-flung frontiers, it was pointed out, will make any attempts at blockades by Japan impractical.

The impression was given that the British Government feels it has worries enough in European nationalistic rivalries without going out of the way to curb Japan. This, some London leaders hint, is principally the United States' worry.

Foreign View

Foreign diplomatic circles here are represented as believing Britain would be inclined to take a much firmer stand if, for example, Russia, instead of Japan, had issued the Chinese manifesto.

These well-informed neutral quarters believe Great Britain wants particularly to avoid disturbing relations with Japan, which have been tranquil since the Anglo-Japanese alliance of 1905.

Nevertheless it was conceded that Britain must assume some responsibility for League activities in China.

INVESTIGATE UNREST

(A.P. By Guardian's Special Wire)

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., April 20 — With unrest among 21,000 idle coal miners in Alabama increasing, an investigation was under way by Federal agents tonight to determine the extent of Communistic agitation in the field, as special deputies and national guardsmen patrolled the strike-torn area to preserve order.

COMMITTEE MEMBERS REPLY RADIO CRITICS

(C. P. By Guardian's Special Wire)

OTTAWA, April 20.—Members of the Canadian Radio Committee, their ire aroused by criticism, struck back at their critics before the House of Commons Radio Committee today, with Chairman Hector Charlesworth, Col. W. A. Steel, technical advisor and Ernest Bushnell, programme director of the commission all replying to statements of previous witnesses. In addition, Tom Moore, President of the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada, outlined a programme for the operation of radio in Canada which suggested, among other things, appointment of a general manager for the commission.

Absolutely False

"Absolutely false," was the term used by Mr. Charlesworth in replying to statements of R. W. Ashcroft, Toronto, to the effect the commission had circulated a "roor-back" throughout Canada branding Mr. Ashcroft as an imposter. "Absolutely false," too, was Mr. Charlesworth's reply to a statement station CRCT at Toronto was losing $2,000 a month.

Mr. Moore, first witness of the day, expressed dissatisfaction that ownership of stations by private interests had been allowed to develop since the Commission was established, and also urged the position of the Commission would be stronger if its membership was increased to provide more direct contact with important community groups.

Discrimination Charges

Col. Steel's evidence today centred particularly around the charges of discrimination made by H. C. Buchanan, owner of a Moose-jaw radio station, and later Mr. Buchanan asked to be permitted to submit a brief in reply to Col. Steel since the latter had "made statements I feel I must contradict."

Mr. Bushnell in turn attacked evidence given by Jim Hunter, Toronto Telegram radio critic, who had declared the Commission gave no assistance to young artists. Because of the large number of aspiring artists, the programme director said, it was difficult to do very much, since the Commission had neither time nor money to "establish a finishing school for artists." But on the other hand, he said, the Commission had enabled many Canadians to get national and international reputation, and in cases where youngsters showed particular promise they were given every assistance possible.

It has been estimated that eleven million acres of farmland in the United States have been abandoned in recent years owing to permanent damage by soil erosion.
