..BROWN—WESTAWAY WEDDING—A very simple, but pretty wedding was solemnized at the congregation of the Christmas evening, says a Boston exchange, the contracting parties being Marshall Brown of Wilton, New Hampshire, and Miss Isabelle L. (Bon) Westaway, of Albion, P. E. I. The double ring service was performed by Rev. James J. Harper, in the presence of a very intimate group of friends. Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Russell, formerly of Medford, Mass., now of Wilton, acted as best man and matron of honor. The happy couple will reside in Wilton, N. H.

..FURTHER PARTICULARS.—One of the saddest deaths that took place in Kingsboro for some time occurred on January 17th, when Alva, aged 14 years, youngest and dearly beloved son of John A. and Mrs. Bruce passed away as the result of an accident. The little chap being home from school accompanied his father and brother to the woods, where they were cutting firewood. While he was standing out of danger of the tree his father was cutting, a dead limb of another tree fell on his head, fracturing his skull. In spite of all that medical aid and loving hands could do, he passed peacefully away at 6 o'clock Sunday morning. Alva was a bright and promising lad and will be greatly missed at home, church, Sabbath School and day school. He leaves to mourn a sorrowing father and mother, four sisters and loving brothers, Mrs. James Jardine, Kingsboro, in Charlottetown, Ethel and Iva at home, Wallace, in Presque Isle, Me., Spurgeon and Chester at home. An impressive funeral service was conducted by Rev. W. E. Piper, B. A., on Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock. Despite the heavy rain and roads, the funeral was largely attended.

WOOL SUPPLY AND THE WAR.

TORONTO, Jan. 20.—Mr. D. L. Carley, who has for many years been associated with the wool industry and who has been a student of the world's supply of this commodity for some time, was in the city this morning and in conversation with the Globe expressed it as his opinion that the question of "wool" would be one of the strong factors in terminating the war. The question of securing enough wool is one of the most serious ones that the Germans are confronted with. Up to the present time the Germans have been able to confiscate large quantities of wool at Antwerp in Belgium, Roubaix and several smaller places in France and at Lodz, in Poland. The bulk of the wool, however, used in Europe comes from the Cape, East Indies, New Zealand, Australia and South America, and owing to the British blockade it will be impossible for the Germans to secure wool from these markets. Viewed from this material standpoint it looks serious for the Germans. Moreover, should they secure the raw material it is doubtful if they could find the looms and operators necessary to weave the woolen fabrics required.

The situation of the Allies is quite different. They have access to all the woolen markets of the world outside of Europe, and even with the British embargo on wool there are vast quantities to be secured in South America, which are being brought largely to the Boston market, which is the wool distributing centre for the United States. While in Boston, a few days ago, Mr. Carley was discussing the situation with one of the leading manufacturers of woolen materials in the United States, who agreed with him regarding the German situation, and remarked that it had been through his mind for some weeks that the Germans would feel the situation keenly.

Mr. Carley said that the uniform of the soldiers on active service was good for only two or at most four months. He estimates that the present supply of German woolen goods will last from three to six months. He cannot see how the Germans can secure any more woollens, and as soldiers can only live for a limited time in tattered uniforms he is certain that the question of the wool supply will be one of the strong factors in defeating the Kaiser's troops.

ST. JOHN'S TOWN COUNCIL.

The St. John's Town Council held a special meeting in the Town Hall on Monday, Jan. 18th His Worship Mayor Brennan presided; Councillors M. A. Paquet, H. H. Acorn, J. B. Matthews, D. A. McDonald and D. F. McDonald were present as was also the Town Clerk, Mr. Carlton. On the motion of Councillor Acorn, seconded by Councillor Paquet the appointment of Mr. Harold Matthew as Town Auditor was confirmed. The chairman of the Fire Department was instructed to secure a heater and a quantity of hard coal for the use of the Department. The motion of Councillor Acorn, seconded by Councillor Matthews, the sum of $63.50 was voted to the Fire Department. $5.50 was also voted A. W. Bruce for rent. Councillor D.F. McDonald, Chairman of the Fire Board then read his report to the Council. He reported that the water tanks in good condition, the Fire Engine working order, the Fire Company well organized. The Captain of the Department reported three fires, one on August 20 in the McKay Building, which was kept under control with great difficulty. On August 28, the house of C. D. Wash, but was under control when the fire arrived. The total expenditure on this Department for the year ending Dec. 31st, 1914 was $318.08. On the motion of Councillor Acorn the Report of the Fire Department was adopted. Councillor J. B. Matthews, Chairman of the street lighting committee, reported his annual Report. He reported the lamps in good condition. The total cost of street lighting for the year amounted to $221.30. On the motion of Councillor Acorn, seconded by Councillor D. A. McDonald the report was accepted. Councillor D. A. McDonald, Chairman of the Police Department, reported his annual Report. He reported an increase over last year. He said the increase was due to the large number of fishermen that visited the town during the summer and autumn. He said the Police were faithfully performing their duty. Councillor M. A. Paquet chairman of the Sidewalk Committee in his report stated that 350 yards of new sidewalk had been laid on Breakwater, where the embankment had been cut down 100 yards. The new sidewalk was laid on East Main Street, thus improving this part of the town. 285 square yards of concrete sidewalk was laid during the year. He reported all sidewalks in good repair. The total expenditure on sidewalks amounted to $709 less the amount for concrete laid during the year. It was moved by Councillor D. A. McDonald seconded by Councillor D. A. McDonald that a foot note be added explaining the transaction connected with the building of the sidewalk near the Cox Hotel. Councillor Acorn, Chairman of the Street Committee then read his report. The usual work was attended to during the year and in addition a turnpike-road was made through the McPhee estate. The split log drag was tried but on account of the hardness of the streets was only partly successful. Considerable work has been done at Mansfield Corner. Councillor Acorn in his report thanked the Government for the services of Mr. H. H. Shaw, C. E. The total cost of street for the year amounted to $472. On the motion of Councillor Paquet seconded by Councillor D. A. McDonald the report was accepted. Councillor Acorn then read the financial statement. There remains on hand a surplus of $342.48, which reflects credit on both the Town Clerk and the financial committee. The report was accepted on motion of Councillor D. F. McDonald. A considerable discussion then took place in reference to debentures after which his Worship Mayor Brennan read his Annual Report. He was glad to see that such a flourishing condition, the absence of rowdiness and spoke appreciatively of the vigilance of the policeman and of the faithful services rendered by the Town Clerk. He was pleased to know that special attention had been given to fire protection, street lighting, and sidewalks. He complimented the chairman of each committee on his attendance and all for their co-operation in all matters pertaining to the Town. On the motion of Councillor Acorn, seconded by Councillor Matthew the report was adopted. The meeting then adjourned.

HOME AFTER HELPING TO BOTTLE UP THE KONIGSBERG.

LONDON, Jan. 21.—South Shields men, members of the crew of the steamer "Newbridge," which played an important part in the "bottle up" of the commerce raiders Konigsberg in the Rufiji river, German East Africa, had interesting experiences to relate when they reached England a few days ago. When the Konigsberg was located by the British squadron, shells, were rained upon her. The Newbridge was utilized to block the entrance to the river, and the Shields men were ordered ashore, the Newbridge being manned by naval men. The vessel, which had coal aboard, was sunk by three charges of gun cotton placed in the hold. Two other vessels were sunk besides the Newbridge. She blocked the navigable channel and imprisoned the Konigsberg.

While the naval men were returning to their ship, the Konigsberg's crew opened fire upon them, and the coxswain of a steam launch was struck by a Dum-dum bullet, passing right through his body, killing him instantly. Another coxswain was killed by a bullet piercing his temple.

ST. JOHN, Jan. 20.—Lieut. A. T. Curley, who was sent to England with the first Canadian contingent and has spent several months on Salisbury Plains, was in town on Monday en route to his home in St. Stephen. Lieut. Curley expects to return to England with the second Canadian force, and believes that in doing so he will be at the front as soon as the boys who are now at Salisbury. When asked as to the weather conditions at the Canadian quarters, he said "rotten" was the word. This, he remarked, due to the tremendous amount of rain that has fallen and is no reflection on the authorities, who had no means of grappling with such conditions. One result of the weather conditions is a great deal of sickness. Most all of the Canadians are now living in huts, which are built of corrugated iron, one storey in height and measure 60 by 20 feet. Each of these structures contains a stove and consists of one big room. By this means accommodation is provided for sixty men. These huts are dormitory, dining saloon and recreation room all combined. Many colds are probably traceable to the drafty floors in the huts, which were made single and with new lumber, and consequently now serve as a means of admitting air rather too freely. The rain, said Lieut. Curley, is terrific. Row boats are now being used in the main streets. The water in many cases in the streets is three feet and over in depth. At Amstbury, near Bulford Camp, a sad incident occurred recently, said Lieut. Curley. One night in the blackness a young Canadian attempted to cross a little bridge spanning the street, but below the level of the water. The swiftly flowing stream took him off his feet and carried him to his death.

Despite the rather unpleasant and unsanitary conditions the men are now face to face with, there is in general a spirit of good cheer and a burning desire to get to the front. The men realize that the conditions in which they find themselves are unavoidable. None but a picked body of men such as the first Canadian contingent could stand conditions so favourably.

Lieut. Curley was sent to Salisbury with the 101st Regiment from Edmonton and was stationed at King's Plantation, Salisbury Plains. He has been a member of the militia for fourteen years.
