Freedoms Battle Again

GOVERNMENT FROM OUTSIDE Trampling on Self Government.

Sir.—The people of the outside world are simply amazed at the spectacle presented by a swarm of dyed-in-the-wool Liberals being allowed to stomp this Province in favor of Prohibition, when, as a matter of fact they are trying to place the Liberals in power here against the will of the people. Never before was there such a bold attempt made to trample on self-government and rule us by outsiders as is now being done in this Province. It would not be tolerated in any of the other Provinces. What right have those outsiders to flood this island with speakers whose object is to rule this Province for the next four years? Read the following article from the Halifax Citizen and Judge for yourself. May more! Be ready on Saturday next to resent the insult at the polls by marking your ballots for the Conservative candidates. It says:

MEDDLING IN P. E. I. ELECTIONS

The people of Prince Edward Island should resent interference in the political campaign by prohibition extremists from Nova Scotia or elsewhere. The island has had a long experience of prohibition and the people are no doubt well able to judge its merits in the promotion of temperance. They are in a much better position to settle the question wisely than any outsiders can be. It is presumption for those who have been instrumental in having this disastrous legislation perpetuated in Nova Scotia to go into another province in the heat of a political contest and advise the people how to vote. Their action in doing so will no doubt have considerable influence toward the defeat of prohibition, and in that way may be productive of good.

"It is easy to imagine the false statistics and misleading statements about the operation of prohibition in Nova Scotia which will be dishd up to the people of the island by these meddlers, and they will bear a little watching during the campaign."

The above article is most timely and should have the weight of a disinterested critic. Another matter comes to our mind at this point. Those invaders have made the most brazen efforts to break the Sabbath that were ever witnessed in our God-fearing Province. It is impossible to speak on one issue alone. All the issues of the contest are inseparably connected—all printed on the one ballot paper, so when stumping for Prohibition they are stumping for purely business matters—doing "servile work not of necessity."

Who has not heard those speakers haranguing audiences against Sabbath breaking in Quebec? And here at home we have heard some of their plus exhortations against a few boys having a game of ball, even when contested without a wager. Does it not show the greatest hypocrisy on the part of those ungodly reformers to find them engaged at servile work on the Lord's Day, and thus violating the Lord's Day Act? It certainly does. There can be a great deal said in regard to the evil features of this much-heralded law called Prohibition. In the first place it never can be enforced. There are too many favorites in the law-breaking business. What is needed is a law that deals out equal rights. This principle is embodied in the proposed Government Control Act. If placed on the Statute Book as James B. Stoddard on trial for the murder of his three daughters with an axe.

Five students of the University of Maine suspended for drunkenness.

Six nurses and six internes expelled from a medical university.

It will be on Saturday, it will have all shades of Public Opinion in its favor to see that all classes—rich and poor—are treated alike, and to condemn in thunder tones voting for the axe and then leaving its enforcement to blind chance. This is what the country is looking for. Those who imported temperance orators must be taught a salutary lesson. The people here know what they are looking for. They have had twenty-years of prohibition of one kind or another but have not succeeded in getting what they have been after in the Prohibition Act. So it must go to the discard pile. Let a Government Control be tried and if found a failure throw it aside at the end of one year if necessary. The Legislature meets once a year and is in duty bound to comply with any amendment that serves their purpose. Let us have Home Rule, not imported rule. We have learned what imported temperance laws are ever since the Scott Act was first adopted. What was needed then was rigid license law. Let us have one now. Vote for Government Control and obtain a right home-made statute.

Yours, etc. HONEST TEMPERANCE.

Mr. Jim Noonan has recently purchased a new Ford touring car and reports himself very well pleased with the purchase.

Dr. S. Jenkins, of P. E. Island, Heads Medical Assoc.

More than 1000 members had gathered for the annual meeting of the Canadian Medical Association in Toronto last week, and it was a most successful convention, it was said last evening by Dr. G.A.B. Addy, who was the first of the Saint John members to return to the city. Dr. Addy read a paper on "Enlarged Spleen" during the meeting, and was only in attendance for one day.

He said eminent experts from Europe, the United States and Canada were present, and both from the social and scientific viewpoints the convention was a very great success. The improvements and advances made in medical and surgical fields during the last year were reviewed in interesting and instructive papers, and some noted clinics were held.

ELECTED PRESIDENT. Dr. S. Jenkins, of Charlottetown, P. E. I., was elected president for the ensuing year, and the meeting next year will be held in Charlottetown, convening on the island for the first time in the history of the society. Dr. Addy said it had been intended to invite the association to hold its 1928 convention in Saint John, but the Charlottetown members were so eager to play hosts for the next year that the Saint John invitation was not pressed.

Dr. Addy thought that in 1929 the association would meet in the West, probably Winnipeg, and that in the following year it was possible that it might come to Saint John. The matter of accommodation is a very important one from the viewpoint of entertainment and the New Brunswick members who attended the convention in Toronto were, besides Dr. Addy: Dr. G. B. Peat, and Dr. L. M. Curran, of Saint John, and Dr. G. C. Van Wart, of Fredericton.

Women's Oldest Problem

in hygiene disappearing - new way discards like tissue

By ELLEN J. BUCKLAND Registered Nurse

THE worries and fear of the uncertain hygienic ways of yesterday are rapidly passing. 8 in 10 better-class women employ a new way called Kotex.

Kotex discards like tissue. No laundry, no disposal bother. Being 5 times as absorbent as ordinary cotton "pads," it permits lightest gowns and frocks without danger. Dance, motor, go about for hours without a moment's doubt.

Deodorizes, too, thus ending all fear of offense. Doctors urge this way. Many stores have Kotex already wrapped on counters, ready for you to pick up without even asking for it. Try today and you'll never again risk uncertain old ways. Box contains 12. Be sure you get the genuine. Only Kotex itself is "like" Kotex.

IN MEMORIAM

MR. RODERICK MUNN

The passing of Roderick Munn took place at the residence of his daughter, Ella, of Weston, Mass., on May 20th, 1927, after a short illness, removes another of the links that help to connect the past with the present.

Born at Mermaid, Lot 48, April 1835, son of the late Neil Munn and Elizabeth McLeod his wife, he had therefore, entered his ninety third year.

Educated at Mermaid and Charlottetown, he attained a teacher's certificate while very young and after teaching for a number of years entered Dalhousie College at Halifax where he continued his studies for two years, but owing to ill health he was forced to abandon a college career and take up arms, locating at Wood Islands.

Here he remained until 1881 when he removed to Marshfield, and by industry and thrift, succeeded in building up one of the finest homesteads in this part; the farm now occupied by his son, John R.

Being a staunch Liberal in politics he represented the then Belknap Fort Augustus district for a number of years in the Legislature Council of P. E. I. He was a man of strong faith, unwavering loyalty to high principles and absolute trust in his Saviour, an older and Superintendent of Sunday School in the Marshfield Presbyterian Church for a long period. Of a genial and kindly nature he was held in high esteem by all who knew him.

On March 3, 1863, he married Jane M. Robertson, of Marshfield, and they reared a family of three sons and three daughters, five of whom survive, one son, Alexander, having passed away some years ago at Phoenix, Arizona. Following are the sons and daughters living: Robert F. of San Francisco, Cal.; Mrs. William Godfrey and John R. of Marshfield, Mrs. William Leslie of Penitentiary, B. C., and Ella of Weston, Mass., with whom he resided for the last eight years.

The remains accompanied by his daughter, arrived home May 23rd., and the funeral conducted by the Rev. W. Bruce Muir of Charlottetown, was held from his former home at Marshfield, May 25th., a large number being in attendance to pay their tribute of respect to a man of sterling character, a kind neighbour and a genial friend, then all that was mortal of a useful life was laid away in the Marshfield cemetery, beside his wife who predeceased him twenty years ago.

The pallbearers were Messrs. L. H. D. Foster, John Stinson, John McFarlane, A. A. McBeath, Robert Chappell and W. E. Warren.

"What!" cried the Mormon's wife, "you say my husband is dying."

"I'm afraid so," replied the doctor.

"Then my place is at his bedside until the end."

"Yes, but I'd advise you to hurry, as all the best places are being taken rapidly."

Doctor (after accident)—"Is there a woman present with old-fashioned ideas?"

Bystander—"Why?"

Doctor—"I need a petticoat to make some bandages."

The Presbyterian Church In Canada Advocates Temperance Instead Of Prohibition

At the recent meeting of the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in Canada held at Stratford, Ontario, on the motion of Professor D. A. Murray, Professor of Mathematics at the McGill University, seconded by Rev. Mr. Paulin, Toronto, the following sane resolution on temperance was unanimously adopted by the Assembly:—

"In the midst of many conflicting opinions, personal and legislative, on the question of Prohibition, this Assembly hopes and prays that the members and adherents of the Presbyterian Church in Canada and the people of Canada as a whole will advance steadily in the principles of Temperance and in the inculcation of these principles in the minds and lives of our young people."
