Had Piles For 9 Years

Dominion Inspector of Steamboats Cured by Dr. Chase's Ointment.

False modesty and fear of the surgeon's knife prevent most people from appealing to their physicians for a cure for piles.

Many people suffer on year after year, robbed of their rest and sleep by the terrible itching, when they could be entirely cured by a single box of Dr. Chase's Ointment.

Mr. O. P. St. John, Dominion Inspector of steamboats, living at 246 Shaw street, Toronto, states:—"I suffered for nine years from itching piles, at times being unable to rest on account of the annoyance caused by them. After trying almost all remedies in vain I began the use of Dr. Chase's Ointment, which entirely cured me. I cannot speak too highly of it. I have recommended it to several friends, all of whom have been cured by its use."

Dr. Chase's Ointment is recognized by physicians, druggists, and the public in general as the only absolute cure for piles; 60 cents a box, at all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates and Co., Toronto.

KRUGER SNUBBED.

The Emperor William regrets that in consequence of previous engagements he will be unable to receive Mr. Kruger and the latter has in consequence abandoned his visit to Berlin. The sum of all this is that the late President is officially snubbed. And the German press approves the action of the Kaiser. The newspapers there do not and cannot approve of Kruger's course in prolonging a hopeless and bloody warfare from mere motives of stubbornness, or in the vain have of intervention. Of course the British Government and the press of the United Kingdom are delighted with this evidence of just and friendly feeling on the part of Germany.

It is quite possible that the very enthusiastic welcome given to Kruger by the people of France, coupled with the extraordinary action of the French Chamber of Deputies in passing a resolution of sympathy for him while the war with a friendly power is still going on, has had some influence upon the German mind. Kruger's chances of sympathy at Berlin might have been a trifle better had he visited that capital before the demonstrations were made in France. But in any case intervention was out of the question. Kruger is probably now convinced of that fact and the Kaiser William's action must serve to fix that fact in his mind. This ought to have a wholesome effect upon the still unreconciled Boers, but the effect may be less than it ought to be.

PROPOSED NEW BRIDGES.

The tenders now being invited for the new bridge across the North River have led to the suggestion that it might be better to erect the bridge lower down in the vicinity of the city. If this could be effected it would be a great convenience and advantage to the large number of farmers and other residents on the lower west side of the river. Of course the river is much wider near its mouth than it is where the present bridge crosses, and this would require that the bridge and its approaches should be much longer than where the present bridge stands. But the apparent difference is said to be much greater than the real one, inasmuch as the river channel is not really very wide.

A still more ambitious proposal has been brought to the notice of THE GUARDIAN, which is to bridge the West River also, and thus with the two bridges get rid of the Rocky Point ferry and open up a convenient and ready means of approach to the city from the west and south west at all seasons of the year and all times of day or night. There can be no question as to the value of these projected improvements if they could be effected at reasonable cost. We fear, however that the financial and perhaps the engineering difficulties would be very great.

The provincial Opposition are extending handsome recognition to their newspaper supporters, three of whom they have placed in the field as candidates. These are Editor McIsaac of the Herald in the Second District of Kings; Editor McCourt of the Watchman in the Third District of Queens and Editor Buote of L'Impartial in the First District of Prince. The Ministerial party have not nominated any of their pressmen, although both the Patriot and Pioneer have rendered them able service. The Examiner and the Journal editors are also out of the running on the Opposition side. No doubt the exceptions noted are because the gentlemen immediately concerned did not desire to enter the Legislature at the present time.

THE MAIL SERVICE.

We are glad to find the Board of Trade taking action to improve our unsatfsfactory mail service, which has lately fallen into the same trouble as last year owing to the boats not making connection with the late trains from the West. Yesterday afternoon the Board met to consider the matter and appointed a committee to wait upon the Steam Navigation Company. This committee composed of Messrs. G.D, Longworth, N. Rattenbury and Walter Matheson waited upon Mr. Hales who promised to call a meeting of the Navigation Company and gives a final answer to-day.

The proposition is to restore the arrangement of the late season last year by which the Princess will leave Pictou at midnight, after the aarival of the late trains there and deliver the mails here in the early morning. On return the Princess would leave here about 11 o'clock in the forenoon and reach Pictou in time to connect with the late train from Halifax. This arrangement would also give us a through mail from Sydney daily. The matter is one of prime importance to the business community and we sincerely trust that the Steam Navigation Company may consent to give effect to their wishes. The Northumberland would continue to take the outgoing Western mails in the morning under the proposed arrangement, and bring such inward mails as made connection, but the bulk of our mails would come via Pictou and the Princess.

Oscar Wilde, whose death in Paris by suicide is announced, was born in Dublin in 1856. His full name was Oscar Fingall O'Flahertie Wills Wilde, and he was son of Sir William Wilde, an eminent oculist. He was educated at Oxford where he graduated with honors. For a time he attained considerable popularity as a writer and as a leader of the "esthetic" movement. He published a volume of poems and a number of plays. He visited the United States and Canada in 1882 3 and lectured on artistic dress reform and kindred topics, wearing at the time the mediæval dress, rich in colors, which he favored. He was satirised in Punch and in Sullivan's opera of Patience. When recently released from penal servitude he went to Paris, where he lived in obscurity.
