MOTOR PARTY—Messrs. J. H. McGregor, Montagu, J. A. McDonald, Cardigan, George A. Poole, C. H. Poole and William Murphy, of Lower Montague, and Elmer Jenkins of Georgetown, came in by motor car to the city on Wednesday and returned yesterday. They reported the roads in excellent condition.

TO MEET HERE—The M. W. Grand Orange Lodge of British America will meet in Charlottetown on July 31st, this year. The Grand Master is Dr. D. D. Ellis, Fleming, Sask., Deputy Grand Master, H. B. Murphy, Listowel, Ont., Grand Chaplain, Rev. Ward Waite, Lunenburg, N. S. Grand Secretary, William Lee, Toronto and Grand Treasurer, Joseph E. Thompson of Toronto.

CENTRAL ROYALTY PATRIOTIC SOCIETY—Since May 1917, the Central Royalty Patriotic Society have kindly forwarded 465 pairs of socks and 25 pairs of mitts to the boys in France. They also sent them fifteen Christmas boxes and twelve Easter boxes for which the Society have received many letters of thanks. This society has also adopted two prisoners of war. Receipts for year will be $298.

LIVE STOCK SHIPMENTS—A drove of live hogs being driven along the streets to the railway yards was the unusual spectacle afforded yesterday. Some of the porkers objected to following the main pack aboard the car and broke away, and each after lively and devious wanderings was captured and taken back amid much squealing. Several large herds of cattle were also loaded upon cars at the railway yard yesterday and the whole place bore a decided resemblance to a genuine farm-yard. The animals were being shipped to Port Dorden en route to buyers on the mainland.

V. W. C. A.—A meeting of the Provisional Committee to promote the establishment of a Young Women's Home under the auspices of the Y. W. C. A. was held Wednesday afternoon. Miss Jones presiding and Miss M. K. McLean acting as Secretary. After some discussion of plans and methods of procedure the following officers of the Committee were elected: President, Mrs. J. A. Clarke; Secretary, Mrs. E. T. Higgs; Treasurer, Mrs. D. McLennan; Convenors, Membership committee, Mrs. A. A. Pomroy; House committee, Miss Margaret Cotton; Finance committee, Mrs. McLennan; Furnishings committee, Mrs. E. T. Higgs. Afterwards the House Committee was nominated to consist of the convenor, Miss Cotton, Mrs. Haslam, Miss Henderson and Mrs. J. A. McDonald.

Had ship's anchor fall on my knee and leg, and knee swelled up and for six days I could not move it or get help. I then started to use MINARD'S LINIMENT and two bottles cured me.

MEMORIAL SERVICE—On Saturday evening, May 25th many sympathizing friends gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Arthur, Mt. Hope to unite in honoring the memory of their daughter, Mrs. Charles G. Tibbetts. Rev. James Heron conducted the service. The Scripture selections were from Rev. 21 and Mark 14. His remarks were based on the words of Jesus in commendation of the woman who outwardly showed her love and devotion to Him. "She hath done what she could. Whosoever therefore shall be preached throughout the whole world, this also that she hath done shall be spoken of for a memorial of her." The following memorial paper was read by Miss MacSwain. Mrs. Charles G. Tibbetts (nee Katharine M. Arthur) died May 6th at the age of thirty five years. Her childhood and the early part of her girlhood years she spent at home with her father and mother. She was over a dutiful, loving and obedient daughter. Her host of friends as well as her parents felt the influence of her Christian character, which was an unusual combination of strength and sweetness. Her disposition was so pleasant and agreeable that all who knew her loved her. In Dorchester, Mass., where she spent the last few years of her life, and where she married, her death is keenly felt by a wide circle of friends, and by the Church, in whose activities she always took an active interest. She endured many months of suffering calmly and with resignation to the Master's will, and when the end came "approached her grave like one who wraps the drapery of his couch about him and lies down to pleasant dreams." The hymns sung were: "Blest be the tie," "Jesus Lover of my Soul," "Nearer my God to thee," "Abide with me," and "When the Angels have lifted the veil," solo by Mrs. Heron, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur and grateful to their friends for the kindness and sympathy shown them in their bereavement.

DISCRIMINATING DRUG BUYERS HAVE THE HAPPY HABIT OF COMING BACK TO OUR STORE

We have always catered to careful drug buyers—customers who bring all of their judgments to bear in every purchase. Such buyers come regularly to our store because they have learned that they can count on us for pure drugs, prompt service, and right prices. The extent and quality of our trade and the obvious confidence reposed in us by the public is pretty evidence that we conduct our drug business in a satisfactory manner.

A ROMANCE OF "OLD SOLDIER"

Often one hears the expression, "It's not the world, but the people in it." Almost as truly it may be said in the case of many plays. "It isn't the play, but the people in it." There is no question but that the play "My Irish Cinderella," which comes to the Prince Edward Theatre next Wednesday and Thursday, June 5th and 6th, owes its success to the strong virile characters who move through the four stirring acts. They are real people and not automata manufactured for stage purposes only.

Peggy McNeil is a pretty little Irish lass who is sent to England, finds plenty of adventure there and incidentally loses her heart to a young American aviator, Clifford Morgan, whom she meets at the home of Lord Lonsdale to whom she has been taken by a party of schemers who are plotting to get possession of a large estate. Everyone is bound to like Peggy McNeil, because Peggy and all her associates are human and doing those things which are logical and conclusive. A complete scenic production is carried and an excellent company of players is promised by the management.

CONSEQUENCES

(Berton Brayley)

He "wanted to go," but his wife said "no!"

And she wept at the very thought, So he stayed at home while across the foam The war of the worlds was fought! He was held and bound to the daily round By the toils of a clinging love That would make the goal of an eagle's soul The cote of a cooling dove.

He "wanted to go," but his wife cried "no!"

And she held him there with her, While the news that came from the war's great game Set his brain and his heart awhirl; He was "mad" to sail on the soldier's trail, To venture and risk and dare, To face the brunt at the very front Of the fighting over there, He "wanted to go," but his wife wailed "No!"

Unequal to sacrifice, Though the chains might chafe she would hold him safe— And she paid a heavy price! For his love turned hate for his selfish mate, As the strongest passion can, So she lost her "romance"—and he his chance To live or to die a Man!
