IT IS UNDERSTOOD THAT THE SANATORIUM

THE PLEBISCITE VOTE TAKEN YESTERDAY

on the Prohibition question resulted, as was expected, in a comparatively small vote, the total majority votes polled being in favor of prohibition. Owing to complete lack of any organization previous to polling for organizing returns, the press experienced great difficulty in securing reliable figures, and in several cases were unable to obtain any figures at all. Those received, however, indicate a total vote polled of approximately half the franchise vote in the last general election, with prohibition leading by over 1,000.

IN CHARLOTTETOWN PROHIBITION WAS DEFEATED BY A VOTE OF 1,417 TO 1,119, while the total franchise vote at the last election was 5,388. In Summerside also Government Control carried, the vote being 492 to 470 against Prohibition. Other large centres and some of the rural polls also gave a majority in favor of government control, though in none did the total vote approach even approximately that of the last general election.
