Snow Falls In
North Of England

LONDON, Sept. 27.—Snow to the depth of two inches has fallen in the north of England and as there has been an abnormal drop in the temperature along with the unusual snowfall the shepherds in the West-moors and hills predict an unusually severe winter.

Traffic Regulations
For Exhibition Week

In order to minimize the danger of accidents during Exhibition week the following regulations are issued which if adhered to will greatly aid traffic during this busy week.

Traffic officers will be stationed at several crossings and the public are requested to obey their directions.

All cars going to the Exhibition Grounds are requested to go out by Fitzroy Street and return by Kent Street.

Cars going out Kent Street will only go as far as Weymouth St. and cars remaining on the grounds are allowed over the Railways crossing at the corner of Kent and Fitzroy Streets.

Taxi drivers are requested to deposit their passengers at the corner of Kent and Fitzroy Streets and return to the city by Kent Street only.

All cars north of Fitzroy Street coming to the city are kindly requested to proceed to Kent Street, along Kent with the traffic. Car owners are requested to park their cars on the principal streets, as close to the curb as possible.

ALLAN J. McINNIS, Acting City Marshal.

THANKSGIVING AND ARMISTICE

—We are informed by His Honour the Lieutenant Governor that His Excellency the Governor General has declared Monday, the 7th of November (Armistice Day) to be a day of general thanksgiving throughout the Dominion of Canada for a bountiful harvest and other blessings.

—The Oil of Power.—It is not claimed that Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil that it will remedy every ill, but its uses are so various that it may be looked upon as a general pain killer. It has achieved that greatness for itself and its excellence is known to all who have tested its virtues and learned by experience.

—PLAY ENJOYED.—The play "Why Men Go Wrong" was presented before a large audience last night in the Prince Edward Theatre. The play was well written and offered splendid scope for the performers who did full justice to their different parts. The vaudeville was especially interesting and offered a pleasing change between the acts. The novelty Orchestra seems to be very popular.

—RETURNS FROM MICHIGAN.—Mr. Peter H. Stewart, manager of the International Fox & Furs, Inc., Marshfield, returned on Monday night from a most enjoyable holiday trip to Michigan where he visited the Company's other ranches at Benton and Saginaw. He was very much impressed with these ranches as they are ideally located, and this together with the wonderful condition of the foxes was very pleasing to Mr. Stewart. He also visited five other ranches in the State of Michigan, which were stocked by Mr. J. B. Lewis, President of the Company, and reports the foxes all in excellent condition. In returning through the northern part of the state Mr. Stewart was also wonderfully impressed with the fine farming country, and stated that while some were seen planting beans other parts were cutting hay, etc. He also visited his son Charles in Grand Rapids and saw several more of our Island boys, all of whom are making good in their different vocations.

—PERSONALS.—Mr. Peter N. Perry of St. Louis is attending the Exhibition. Mrs. Fred Hertz, Picou is among the visitors in the city attending the Exhibition. Miss Norah Longworth left yesterday morning for Montreal to resume her studies at McGill University. Mrs. Alfred McKay, Graham's Road is spending a few days in the city as the guest of her sister-in-law, Mrs. Emma Duffy, Chestnut St.

—Mr. James O'Connor, Clinton, came to the city Saturday to enter the City Hospital for treatment for his eye. Miss Clara Benoit, secretary of the Red Cross has resigned her position and has left for New York where she will train for a nurse at Mount Sinai Hospital. Miss Ruth Hertz left Monday to resume her studies in McGill University, Montreal. She was accompanied to Borden by her father, Governor Hertz, while Mrs. Hertz will go with her to Montreal hence to Saranac Lake, New York, to visit her brother Mr. Harold Matthew.

Pittsburgh Nearing Pennant Goal

(Canadian Press) NEW YORK, Sept. 27.—Pittsburgh was breezing along at full speed for the national pennant goal today, holding the two game advantage on the second place Cardinals by defeating the Cubs for a complete sweep of the four game series. St. Louis stayed up close to the leaders by downing the Reds again. The Giants tripped up the Phillies but they have only a slight mathematical opportunity of coming through on top of the heap.

—PERFECTION ICE CREAM.—The Central Creameries have their usual attractive booth near the centre of the building. Bricks of all flavors and colors are on sale here. The Jack Frost Kiss has again come back after his summer vacation. Illustrations showing the different methods of serving the product are attractively presented.

—HAMPSHIRE SCHOOL.—Near the centre of the building is a table on which stands the cup for the best school grounds, donated by His Honor Lieut Governor. The flower display is very attractive, arranged around the beautifully engraved trophy, won by this school.

—CURRIE & MURNAGHAN.—In the centre of the building the firm of Currie & Murnaghan have a well arranged display of furnaces and ranges. The famous Lighter Day range occupies a prominent position in the Exhibition. Jewel and Magnet ranges, Veda Pipeless Furnace and the Victor range finished most attractively in white enamel are presented for public inspection.

—CARTER & CO.—Near the centre of the Exhibition building is the attractive booth of Carter & Co., presided over by Mr. Ralph Heustis, Maritime representative for Blatchford's "Calf Meal" and other products. The firm of Blatchford has been in existence for about 127 years. Its headquarters are at Leicester, England, where it was established about the year 1800. Among the different products displayed are Blatchford's Calf Meal, Egg Mash, "Bar-Nun" fattening meal and chicken scratch. Carter & Co. are the P. E. I. agents for this old firm. The different samples are interesting and instructive to poultry enthusiasts.

—ROGERS HARDWARE.—This firm has a well arranged booth displaying McClary's famous stove and range products. Among these are McClary's Kootenay, McClary's Eighty—latest thing in steel ranges—McClary's furnace, series B, and also McClary's Converter. An interesting feature is McClary's famous Sani-tub-tub, which serves the dual purpose of a table and bath tub. This is certainly a wonderful creation and is exceptionally well suited to use in summer cottages and on farms, where accommodations such as these are hard to obtain. The "Supreme" pipeless furnace is also on display in this booth. Peerless English fox netting and Rubberoid roofing are shown in an adjoining section. This netting is galvanized before and after being cut and woven. These booths are to be seen near the centre of the eastern side of the building.

—BRACE AND MCKAY.—In the south-eastern corner of the building Brace and McKay's splendid display of stoves, and ranges is to be seen. The chief of these is a "Record Circulator" furnace composed of cast iron. It is fitted with a fuel economiser and is a splendid parlor furnace. Among the ranges on display are the Penn Esther, The Prince Edward, The Franklin, The Oval, The New Olympic and the Record Olympic. These are all Record products and are chosen at random from Brace —LEPAGE & GOFF BROS.—These two firms are jointly exhibiting the Goodrich Hi-Press line of footwear. This display is interesting and presents an attractive appearance to the public eye. Goodrich products are noted for their excellence of quality and durability which combine this principle with smartness of design and style. The immense popularity of the brand speaks for itself.

—BETHUNE HARDWARE.—This progressive firm has an attractive display situated near the north east corner of the building. The feature of the exhibit is a beautiful "Apex" grey enameled cast iron range with a polished steel top. This range is the first of its kind to come to Prince Edward Island and these in charge of this booth feel particularly proud to be the first to introduce this product to the Charlottetown public. The products displayed are manufactured by the firm of Fawcett located at Sackville, New Brunswick. Among those on show are the Fawcett Champion, the Fawcett Special, 9412.

—SHARKS AS FOOD IN ENGLAND.—(By British United Press) LONDON, Sept. 27.—Sharks are destined to play a highly important part in the world's commerce. Their economic value is great, and is growing, and their supply is illimitable. Here are some facts given recently by Dr. Ehrenreich, one of the world's greatest experts:—Sharks can produce enough leather to supply the needs of the whole world, in addition to more than twenty by-products, many of which are of great value. "There is a great market for sharks meat in England. Already from 400 to 500 tons, in the form of "weak salmon" and skate (which are really sharks) are consumed every day. Dr. Ehrenreich is one of the directors and is the scientific adviser of Marine Products Limited, whose shark-hunting ship and floating factory for the preparation of products from the shark, is now lying in the East India dock, London. "The industry is only in its infancy," he says, "it has vast possibilities. There are millions of sharks waiting to be caught. The number of separate species exceeds 500. The largest sharks weigh fifteen tons and are thirty-six feet long and twenty-one feet in girth, but most of those that weigh about four tons each. "Every portion of the shark can be utilized, and the machinery on our vessel, the Istar, is so complete that we can perform on board every process necessary for its preservation. "An Oil Without Alcohol.—Some of our medicines have alcohol as a prominent ingredient. A judicious blending of six essential oils compose Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil, and there is no alcohol in it, so that its effects are lasting.

Decorated Legs As A Vogue

(By British United Press) LONDON, Sept. 27.—Decorated legs—short skirts—higher waists. Contrast coloured slipper heels in scarlet, blue, jade or Sahara, and spiders butterflies and birds in many colours painted on the sides. These are some of the fashion secrets of to-morrow on show at the Fashion Exhibition, which Sir Rowland Blades opened at Olympia, London the other day. Silk stockings in shades of brown, with hand-painted pansies on the knees, motor-coats, and flying kits are among the exhibits. A mannequin, who said "she changed into 30 different frocks an hour, and when in really good form reached a speed of one a minute, was at one stall. "Nothing wears a dress out so much as these quick changes," she said. "The trouble is you have to change rightfully quickly and then go being one hundred per cent better to put it on."

—ROMANCE.—The name of a reception gown which had a long train at the back and was knee length at the front. It has the effect of "making you look like a woman of 50 from the back and a flapper of 15 in front."

—JEWELRY.—The exhibition is a table on which stands the cup for the best school grounds, donated by His Honor Lieut Governor. The flower display is very attractive, arranged around the beautifully engraved trophy, won by this school.

Here are some facts given recently by Dr. Ehrenreich, one of the world's greatest experts:—Sharks can produce enough leather to supply the needs of the whole world, in addition to more than twenty by-products, many of which are of great value. "There is a great market for sharks meat in England. Already from 400 to 500 tons, in the form of "weak salmon" and skate (which are really sharks) are consumed every day. Dr. Ehrenreich is one of the directors and is the scientific adviser of Marine Products Limited, whose shark-hunting ship and floating factory for the preparation of products from the shark, is now lying in the East India dock, London. "The industry is only in its infancy," he says, "it has vast possibilities. There are millions of sharks waiting to be caught. The number of separate species exceeds 500. The largest sharks weigh fifteen tons and are thirty-six feet long and twenty-one feet in girth, but most of those that weigh about four tons each. "Every portion of the shark can be utilized, and the machinery on our vessel, the Istar, is so complete that we can perform on board every process necessary for its preservation. "An Oil Without Alcohol.—Some of our medicines have alcohol as a prominent ingredient. A judicious blending of six essential oils compose Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil, and there is no alcohol in it, so that its effects are lasting.
