The Baptist schoolroom last evening was crowded with happy young folks, on the occasion of the opening social of the B.Y.P.M. A program of a high order of excellence was presented; included on it were solos by Miss Earle and A. Hooper, recitations by Miss Nicholson and Mr. Prance, and piano solo by Miss Seymour. Two or three very amusing contests, for which suitable prizes were awarded the victors, finished a most enjoyable evening.

Among recent visitors to the Maple Leaf office in Oakland, California, was Angus McDonald, formerly of South Lake, in this Province. A pet terrier which belonged to Edward Cullen, Pownal Street was run over and killed by an automobile yesterday in front of Mr. Cullen's premises. Several people have complained to The Guardian that they have been once or twice startled by an auto driven at a fast rate of speed passing them at street corners without first giving sufficient warning of its approach. If this be so it will do very much to incense the public, who should receive due and courteous consideration in a case of the kind.

At Fairland last night the attendance was unusually large and the Opera House was filled with people who were delighted with the new pictures comprised in the change of program. Seldom if ever have a group of such satisfying pictures been presented for the evening's entertainment. All were good particularly so the picture entitled Daniel Boone which held the spectators spell bound with interest as it portrayed the adventures of the noted frontiersmen among the Indians. All was excitement while the picture was being shown and many who were there voted it the best they had yet seen. Then there was fun to no end in The New Hired Man a presentation of situations which fairly brimmed over with genuine humor and in which the hired man was the hero. Another good thing was the mystifying work of the man who in the picture Anything like rapidly one disguise after another in the transitions taking place so quickly as to completely puzzle the onlookers. There was generous measure and the new illustrated song, delightfully sung by Miss Bremner "took on" so quickly that there is no doubting its popularity. The same program is to be repeated again tonight. One noticeable thing about the pictures last night was their clearness and steadiness and these desirable qualities will be maintained at all the performances.
