Sgt. Hutchings

Surprise Blackout CENTRAL GUARDIAN

(Continued from page 1) many people thought it was the fire engines on their way to the scene of a fire. Many calls were received at the police station asking if it was a blackout. In many places also the sirens were not heard with the result that the warden's orders to pull over to the side of the road were not obeyed.

Some warden told of hailing autos and ordering them to pull over to the side of the road. Police chased names of some of these offenders.

A false alarm sent to the Fire Station reporting a blaze at 135 Rochester Street served to increase the confusion. This occurred a few minutes before the official conclusion of the blackout and when the two fire engines roared the warden's lights on all sides began to flicker on again.

Police received a call to Hillsborough square a few seconds after the "all out" sounded. A drunk who had fallen on the street injuring himself slightly. He was taken to the hospital but was later released.

Besides the lights showing in various residences and business premises, there were reports of a few lights on the ferry wharf, a light on the ferry wharf, etc.

CORRECTION—The name Miss Gertrude Sterns which appeared yesterday in connection with the report of the annual meeting of the P. E. I. Temperance Federation should have read Miss Gertrude Sterns. Miss Sterns was named on a committee in connection with temperance education.

FUNERAL YESTERDAY—The funeral of the late Mrs. William Harnett of Summerside was held yesterday afternoon from the residence. Service at the home and grave was conducted by Rev. D. Leslie McDonald. Burial was at St. Peter's Cemetery.

WILLKIE LANDS (Continued from page 1) Tomorrow, Willkie will see Gen. Chiang Kai-Shek whom he described as "one of the truly great men of the age." He also will see President Lin Sen, R. H. Kung, Finance Minister and Vice-President Gen. Ho Ying Chin, Minister of War. He will have dinner with Chiang Kai-Shek, Gen. Sun and tea with Madame Chiang Sun.

He bears a personal message to Chiang from President Roosevelt. The smiling Kung and other members of Chiang Kai-Shek's cabinet met Willkie at the airport at 10:30 a. m. Gen. W. H. Stilwell, American Chief of Staff in China, Gen. Joseph W. Stilwell and Gen. Clarence E. Gauss.

Says What He Thinks Taking cognizance of criticism of his statement in Russia, Willkie's second front should be opened and that Allied military leaders may have to be prodded into making the most of Willkie told Chinese newspapermen: "I always have the bad habit of saying what I think."

About the Russians he said: "They are putting up a great fight over there."

10 PER CENT (Continued from page 1) $10.77 would support hog prices at a minimum level of about $10 per 100 pounds live weight at Winnipeg. The 10 per cent increase in the export price would provide an equivalent increase in hog prices or a minimum price of about $11 per 100 pounds live weight at Winnipeg during the coming year.

Quotations this week at the Winnipeg stock yards for hogs, dressed, ranged from $13.75 to $13.86. Livestock officials here expected that the new export prices would mean dressed weight prices of hogs in the other stock yards across Canada would similarly be up 10 per cent.

"During the past year hog prices rose considerably above the normal level as a result of the extra benefit to be found in the domestic market," the Minister said. "During the last three weeks hog prices have weakened, following a further reduction in the domestic quotes. (The amount packers now are expected to move upon the domestic trade is limited to 50 per cent.)"

"The increase in the price to be paid by buyers by the Canadian Government will immediately advance hog prices to the corresponding price that is being paid for bacon under the new agreement."

To meet the statements requested by Britain under the new contract and domestic requirements as well, will require the largest production of hogs in the history of Canada—approximately 7,500,000 head, Mr. Gardiner said.

"To fulfill the new agreement will necessitate an increase of about 25 per cent in hog production in Western Canada and about 15 per cent in Ontario and Quebec.

"This year's record feed grain crops will undoubtedly be an important factor in the increased production of hogs necessary to meet the requirements in the new contract."

Ration Queries Are Numerous

The troubles which beset the staff of the local ration office, in connection with other ration offices across the Dominion, are many and varied. This is only a natural outgrowth of the introduction of rationing in countries where the people were always accustomed to surpluses.

Mr. M. F. Graves, rationing officer for Prince Edward Island, believes that the Japanese occupation of the Western Aleutians constitutes any threat of invasion to Alaska or the rest of the continent certainly not at this season. He is probably right, but the Japanese can be thrown out of the time that global strategy merits a fixed price being paid for the sale of the island.

Another problem which is weighing down the incoming mail is one concerning the "coming of age" of the Islanders on Assiniboine.
