Fun For Everyone In Movie Quiz Contest

Featured Pictures Will Be Shown Regularly at the Prince Edward and Capitol Theatres. Get Your Booklets There.

You are not expected to see all motion picture films released up to December 31, 1938, to take part in the big $250,000 Movie Quiz Contest. All you have to do is to answer one question about any thirty pictures. This is part of the information contained in the Quiz Booklet you can get at any time at the Prince Edward and Capitol Theatres. Ask for it the next time you go to see a picture and join in the game of skill that is going to bring entertainment to millions and valuable cash awards to those who win any of the 5,404 prizes.

Glad to Supply Booklets
Concerning the contest, the management of the Prince Edward and Capitol Theatres has the following message on the back of its booklets:

"Although glad to supply these 'Movie Quiz' Contest Booklets, to patrons requesting them, we must explain that the Charlottetown in common with other Canadian towns, operating one or two theatres, cannot except in rare instances, find it possible to procure and show thirty contest pictures—the number necessary to see in order to make one eligible to enter the contest, all of which are splendidly indicated in the 'Quiz Book'."

"It is possible, however, that some may find the 'Quiz Book' of real interest, and will wish to see whatever contest pictures are shown at the Prince Edward and Capitol, answer the questions, and learn later how they compare with the winners."

"This thought prompts us to provide the 'Quiz Book', which we trust will be interesting and informative."

Contest Rules
Rules of the contest are simply and plainly set forth in the 'Quiz Book' and the real fun comes in watching for the contest pictures. Watch the newspaper advertisements and when you see a quiz picture featured, make it a point to attend the show. Take your booklet with you and see if you can get the right answer to the question given.
