MONGOLS DEMAND BORDER ATTACKS CEASE

ARE READY TO DEFEND TERRITORY

Assured Of Soviet Aid Against Japanese-Manchoukuan Invasion.

(By John Lloyd)
(Associated Press Foreign Staff)
(A.P. By Guardian's Special Wire)
MOSCOW, March 29.—(Monday)—Japanese and Manchoukuan soldiers, Soviet dispatches received early today stated, attacked two Outer-Mongolian border posts Sunday but were driven back after sharp fighting in which a number of the alleged invaders were killed and wounded.

The dispatches said the new attacks, which followed a Mongolian demand to Manchoukuan for cessation of border raids, were launched simultaneously against frontier posts at Adyk-Iolton and Bulundur.

Supported by a pledge of Soviet assistance should a major attack be launched by Japanese-Manchoukuan forces, the Outer Mongolian government has said it is ready to fight any time hostile troops set foot on its side of the border, Russian dispatches said.

There were indications a peremptory demand to Manchoukuan from Ulan Bator, capital of Outer Mongolia, that raids on Mongolian border posts cease forthwith has as yet brought no reply.

New Suspect In Lindbergh Kidnap Case Exonerated

Charge Against Former Trenton Lawyer However Remains. Hauptmann Clemency Plea To Be Considered Today.

(By Samuel G. Blackman, Associated Press Staff Writer)
(By Guardian's Special Wire)
TRENTON, N. J., March 29.—A newly accused suspect in the Lindbergh baby murder was exonerated by state and county authorities tonight after a series of fast-breaking developments which produced more uncertainty over the scheduled execution of Bruno Richard Hauptmann for the crime Tuesday night.

Paul H. Wendel, a former Trenton lawyer, was charged with the murder of the kidnapped Lindbergh child in a warrant sworn out by James S. Kirkham, chief of Mercer County (Trenton) detectives who declared he had information "which warrants me in swearing out this complaint."

Wendel repudiated in entirety, the prosecutor and other officials announced, a "confession" to the kidnapping and asserted it was forged from him.

The charge against him remained, for possible consideration by the County Grand Jury, but was completely overshadowed in importance by the possible effect of connected developments on the efforts of Governor Harold Hoffman of New Jersey and defence counsel to stay the execution of Hauptmann.

Prosecutor Marshall said he had no present intention of reconvening the county grand jury to consider the Wendel charge but would confer tomorrow with Attorney General Wilentz on a course of action.

Wendel, who was quoted by prosecution officials as charging he was abducted in New York and forced into the repudiated confession, testified in the murder charge and of an old embezzlement charge.

In repudiating the statement connecting him with the Lindbergh crime, Wendel said he gave it to Ellis H. Parker, chief of Burlington County detectives, "only because of duress on the part of Mr. Parker."

Governor Hoffman had no comment to make on the Wendel incident except to say he had not

WILL SEEK AMENDMENTS TO B.N.A. ACT

Government May Defer Appointments Of Under-secretaries Until Next Year.

(C. P. By Guardian's Special Wire)
OTTAWA, Mar. 29.—Appointment of a commission to investigate the distribution of anthracite coal and legislation dealing with reorganization of departments coupled with creation of parliamentary secretaries are the only forecasts in the Speech from the Throne which have not yet come before Parliament.

All other commitments of the government contained in the Speech read by the Governor General at the opening of Parliament Feb. 6 have come before the House of Commons in one form or another.

An inquiry into complaints with respect to alleged monopolistic control of anthracite distribution in the Dominion will be carried out in due course, a government spokesman declared today. This was the subject of enquiry two years ago by the registrar under the Combines Investigation Act and certain companies were convicted and fined for acting in such manner as to prevent free competition.

Proposed amalgamation of departments has already been carried out for all practical purposes and the formal alteration in the designations of the departments concerned is not a pressing matter.

Creation of parliamentary secretariats may not be proceeded with at this session since the use of such officials is apparent only when the House is meeting and the experiment may be delayed until next year.

EMPLOYMENT PROJECT FOR CITY APPROVED

Mayor P. W. Turner and City Clerk G. P. Nicholson Returned From Ottawa Saturday.

"Every reasonable assurance" that Charlottetown's request for an appropriation for a local unemployment relief project would be granted was received from the federal Minister of Labor, Norman McL. Rogers, Mayor P. W. Turner said following his return from the Canadian capital Saturday night.

Accompanied by the city clerk, Mr. G. P. Nicholson, Mayor Turner was in Ottawa last week to attend the Canadian Mayors' conference and to submit a plan for an unemployment relief project to assist the jobless in this city. The work, however, will not start until later in the summer.

The project which involves a program of street work and repairs to a sea-retaining wall on the west side of Victoria Park had been approved by the provincial government before it was taken to Ottawa.

Mayor Turner said he had also enquired about city tax collection on the installment pre-payment plan in vogue in 42 Canadian cities. Mr. Turner said the plan makes tax collection easier on the taxpayer and easier for the collector.

Questioned regarding plans for a housing scheme for Charlottetown which had been mentioned at various times, Mayor Turner said the Mayor's Conference had passed a resolution urging the federal government to develop a housing plan designed to correct unsatisfactory housing conditions in many Canadian cities.

Within the last few weeks billions of feet of standing timber, mostly Douglas fir, have been bought by operating companies in a series of deals running into millions of dollars. New operations are being opened on both the east and west coasts of the island.

"Up there everything was very expensive and a hat that I long coveted cost $100," she said. "It was huge, of black velvet with a whole bird and two great ostriches on the crown. I had received a small legacy from an aunt and after much considering bought the hat to wear to one of our rare theatrical productions."

"The drama was a sad one, my husband held my hat on his knee and when the curtain finally came down and I reached for my bonnet, I found that in his emotion he had twisted out every single hair on my head. I was so shocked that I endured that amount to that one, but no man would ever understand that."

Aftermath of the youth's killing reached a climax yesterday when the jury after one hour and 25 minutes deliberation returned a verdict of manslaughter. The youth, 17-year-old Armand Nadeau, 18-year-old bank clerk. And sentenced throughout the district were 12 tired and weary jurors, glad to be reunited with their families after six weeks absence.

Foreign Policy Overwhelmingly Backed By Nation

Chancellor Rolls Up Greatest Majority In History Obtaining 98.79 Per Cent Of Ballots Cast.

(By Melvin K. Whiteleather, Associated Press Foreign Staff)

(A. P. By Guardian's Special Wire)
BERLIN, March 30.—(Monday)—Germany expressed in votes yesterday its overwhelming approval of Reichsfuehrer Hitler's policies, including his remilitarization of the Rhineland and denunciation of the Locarno Treaty.

Under the pressure of the Nazi propaganda machine, Der Fuehrer won the greatest majority the head of any state ever received, in the election of candidates for the Reichstag.

The final official recapitulation of the returns showed that 98.79 per cent of those who voted marked "X" in the sole circle on the ballots.

Of the 45,428,641 qualified voters, 44,952,476 voted and 44,409,522—or 97.75 per cent—showed their approval of the Reichsfuehrer's policies. There were 542,954 invalid ballots, and 476,165 persons qualified to vote did not exercise the franchise.

If a voter left his ballot blank or treated it in any manner other than placing an "X" in the circle, it was counted invalid. This group, therefore, included those who wished to express disapproval of the Reichsfuehrer's policies.

Hitler's opposition of all kinds—ex-Communists, ex-Socialists, Catholics and others—approved his march into the Rhineland.

The early ballot counting showed Hitler having as much as 99.1 per cent approval but more invalid votes showed up later.

Record Majority
The greatest majority Hitler has had in previous plebiscites was in Dec, 1933, when 95.1 per cent of the voters approved Germany's quitting the League of Nations and the disarmament conference.

From the list of 1,035 candidates, Der Fuehrer will select the Reichstag members, who probably will number about 700, depending on the total number of ballots cast. Exhortations had been flung into the ears of the German people since March 7 to vote for Hitler, and Nazi trumpets and squawking automobile horns called them to the polls.

A fine spring day favored Der Fuehrer's efforts to rally the people behind his foreign policy in an election with only one vote possible—that of approval.

The voting ended at six p.m., crowds, in uniforms and holiday garb, massed under Hitler's window at the Chancellery.

One death was reported. An elderly sick man died from a heart stroke a few minutes after being brought from the polls, where he was carried by Hitler youths. They said he insisted on voting. Hitler himself was one of the first to vote. He cast his ballot at the Berlin-Potsdamer railway station as he arrived from Cologne before seven a.m. His staff voted with him.

A late Sunday morning in bed was out of the question for the Hitler youth organization, was in the streets early with trumpets making too much noise. In many towns, such as Cologne, organized fleets of automobiles cruised the streets sounding horns for hours.

Pedestrians "Buttoned"
As a result, long lines formed before the polls opened and in Berlin a great majority of pedestrians shortly after noon were wearing a

Manitoba Farmer Faces Charge Of Murdering Wife

(C. P. By Guardian's Special Wire)
SELKIRK, Man., March 29.—John Pawluk, called as a witness at an inquest into the death of Genio Bulega, tonight faced a charge of murdering his wife, whose body was found in a manure pile on the Pawluk farm at nearby Gonor, 25 miles north of Winnipeg. The body apparently had been mutilated.

Pawluk was arrested last night by Royal Canadian Mounted Police and brought here in custody, later being removed to Winnipeg. Dr. W. G. Ross, coroner, ordered an inquest into the death of Mrs. Pawluk and the inquest into Bulega's death will resume Wednesday.

Bulega was found dead in his home from gunshot wounds in the head. The shotgun was lying nearby. Police discounted suicide theories and began an investigation which is still proceeding. His body was found last week.

Mrs. Pawluk disappeared from her home last November and a search failed to disclose her whereabouts. Examination of the Pawluk farm yesterday unsatisfied the body which police said had been identified by relatives as that of Mrs. Pawluk.

Duty On French Rum Lowered

(C. P.—Havas)
(By Guardian's Special Wire)
PARIS, March 29.—Reciprocal tariff benefits for French and Canadian products are provided in letters exchanged yesterday between the French foreign office and the Canadian legation supplementing the Franco-German trade treaty.

French rum and cigarette papers are granted a 30 per cent tariff reduction in the new codical, which reduces the preferential margin accorded by Canada to all British products on which the duty was fixed before publication of the Canadian law March 28, 1935.

Various concessions on Canadian products which were suspended by the 1935 tariff law are restored by France and many additional Canadian products are granted preferential treatment.
