Miller Bros have a decided novelty in a new Sherlock-Manning piano-cased player Organ. This is the first instrument of this kind ever brought to this Province and it will be placed on exhibition in their booth or Exhibition days. It is a splendidly finished instrument of exactly the same appearance as ordinary organs and can be played in the same way. It is especially desirable in homes without a player or in small society halls. The stops control the variations and music waves which will allow it to blend harmoniously with singing or any other instrument. See their ad in this issue.

The People's Theatre has been undergoing some radical improvements of late. It has been thoroughly cleaned, from stage to entrance, and the stage is now in the hands of those who are putting it in good shape in the way of decoration. The orchestra is also under process of organizing—the leadership being that of Lewis D. Gray who has served an apprenticeship to this kind of work. He was two years with Richard and Pringle's Minstrel show, two years with Sells Bros Circus as Band Master, also with Miles Orton Circus, and three years with the Naval Brigade Band of Boston, Mass. He knows his business and is sure to look forward to the musical portion of the People's Theatre show with pleasure, once the orchestra is under way. The piano remains under the clever manipulation of Mrs. Trainor. In the meantime a new set of traps has been installed, fresh from the supply house of Henry Savace and Co—and a trap drummer and the leading violin very ably assist in making the music most enjoyable. The People's Theatre management does things well when it takes things in hand—and this last move is certainly a good one.
