Murphy, Donald Murphy. Interment was at Vernon River.

ST. JAMES' CHURCH—The Rev. R. J. Berlis, B.D., conducted both services of worship at the Kirk yesterday. At both services Mr. Berlis dealt with the spiritual meaning at the centre of the public happenings of our day. In the morning his address was based on the incident of the blind man at Jericho. The minister pointed out that there was always some inner meaning in the centre of tumult which we must endeavour to understand. Perseverance, which is a spiritual quality, is needed. At the evening service Mr. Berlis dealt specifically with change, showing that obstacles which cause change show us which way we are going, and that in such moments life may find its highest spiritual meaning. The music consisted of two anthems by the choir: "Hear, O Father, Hear Our Prayer" (Ryder) in the morning and "Now the Day is Over" (Marks), in the evening. The soloist in the latter selection was Mrs. Lemuel MacDonnell.

Overseas Nurses Are Highly Trained

AN EASTERN CANADIAN PORT, June 23 (CP)—Wedding bells were ringing for many other girls in the Dominion when 129 nursing sisters of the Royal Canadian Medical Corps sailed away with the fourth flight of Canada's overseas force.

These young women, who turned their backs on romance for the rigors of hospital work in Britain or the war zone, left Canadian shores with light hearts. They gathered on the decks of the transports and sang with the soldiers as the ships sailed away.

The first group of nursing sisters to go overseas since war broke out, they formed the most highly trained group of all the specialists in this contingent. Each of them has spent at least three years in a hospital training school. Many have had experience serving in hospitals or in private practice.

Their smart blue uniforms contrasted with the drab battle dress of the soldiers as they lined the transport's rails. Although they were prohibited from leaving the ship during the 1-2 days it lay in harbor, the nursing sisters were the happiest group aboard any of the transports.

Soldiers on nearby ships listened to the notes of a piano and girls' voices floating across the water and they cursed their luck for being assigned to the wrong ship. Even their drill, which soldiers regard as a necessary evil, was pleasant because the nurses were there.

When the signals for drill sounded, the blue-uniformed group put on their life belts and assembled at the muster stations. But their singing made the tedious minutes through for the soldiers who went through their drill with them.

Most of the sisters in this contingent are in their 20's. All of them are attractive. Each holds rank equal to that of a lieutenant from seven months of lower rank, however, even field officers rarely fail to pay the compliment to the nursing sisters.

CROP REPORT

GENERAL
In the Prairie Provinces well distributed heavy rains and showers over the main wheat growing area have improved moisture conditions and crops on the whole are progressing favourably. Wheat presents an even, healthy stand and is standing well. Coarse grains are advancing satisfactorily. Grasshoppers are appearing in some districts, but control measures are under way; the most heavily infested areas in southwestern Saskatchewan and adjacent districts in Alberta. Cutworms and wireworms have caused slight damage and weed growth is strong in some districts. Pastures are in good condition. In the Province of Quebec a late start, have not generally been completed under generally favourable conditions. Moisture is ample, and early growth has been satisfactory. In Ontario all crops, after a late start, have progressed favorably and prospects are generally favourable. In the Maritime Provinces, where the season has been late, seeding in backward sections is now nearing completion and early growth of potatoes, fruits and hay shows good promise. In British Columbia beneficial rains have fallen throughout the province and crops generally are showing very satisfactory progress.

PRAIRIE PROVINCES
ALBERTA—Crop conditions throughout the province are satisfactory and moisture supplies are sufficient for the present, but some districts good rains are required soon. Early sown wheat is standing well and shows vigorous growth. In the west, heavy rains have caused some damage in extreme southwestern areas. Pastures are in excellent condition. The sugar beet crop is favourable and thinning is well advanced. SASKATCHEWAN—Crop conditions on the whole are satisfactory. Wheat is of even growth and coarse grains have made fairly good progress. Moderate to heavy general rains have been beneficial, particularly in the north and central districts, where reserves were low. Grasshoppers are threatening crops and some damage has occurred in the southwestern area, where infestation is heaviest. MANITOBA—Crops are advancing satisfactorily under favourable weather conditions. Rainfall has been general and has proved most beneficial in the northern and central areas, where conditions were becoming critical. Wheat is making good growth and is standing well. While cool weather has held grasshoppers in check, wireworms have caused some damage. Sugar beets have germinated well; growth has been retarded by cool wet weather.

PROVINCE OF QUEBEC
EASTERN TOWNSHIPS & OTTAWA VALLEY—Seeding and planting have been completed. There is ample moisture and grains have germinated well and show good growth. Pastures are in excellent condition and a good hay crop is in prospect. Orchards blossomed well. Strawberries and other small fruits give promise of a good yield. LOWER ST. LAWRENCE & LAKE ST. JOHN DISTRICT—Seeding and planting have been completed. There is ample moisture and germination has been good. Warm weather is now needed to promote growth. Pastures are in good condition.

PROVINCE OF ONTARIO
Frequent rains have caused rapid growth but warm, dry weather is now needed. Crops on low lands have suffered from excessive moisture and in eastern sections some areas have had to be re-sown. Fall wheat is in short blade and prospects are favourable. Spring grains are making good progress. Pastures are in good condition, delayed by wet weather. It is practically completed. Sugar beets are satisfactory.

MARITIME PROVINCES
Moisture conditions are satisfactory; with the advent of warmer weather, germination should be rapid. Potato planting in New Brunswick is completed and early growth has been satisfactory. Hay-lands and pastures are in very good condition. Apple orchards in the Annapolis Valley showed good bloom and other fruits promise well.

PROVINCE OF BRITISH COLUMBIA
Cutting of the first crop of alfalfa is general, with a good average yield in prospect. Potatoes and other crops are growing satisfactorily with acreage increased about 20 p. c. Some damage from pests will reduce the onion crop yield. The peak of the strawberry season has passed with the crop not as heavy as originally anticipated. Raspberries are moving to market and picking of loganberries has commenced. Orchards are in good condition, but in the Okanagan the cherry crop will be light and the apple crop is estimated as likely to be below average. A good yield of peaches and apricots is expected. Pasture is plentiful and moisture conditions have improved, with the water reserve for irrigation purposes.

The French announced, June 20, that Toulon, beautiful city on the south coast and largest French naval base, will be defended to the end "at all costs". German and Italian planes bombed Toulon during the night, sweeping in from the north and east. As the German drive southward reached Lyon, 150 miles to the north, the governor of Toulon declared that the government's decision to leave all towns of more than 20,000 population to the mercy of the enemy, would not affect the "fortress". Civilians were ordered to remain in their homes until authorities decided evacuation of women, children and old men was necessary. Toulon's busy harbor is pictured here. The map shows the position of the important naval base.
