EDITOR'S MAIL

FOR PURE ELECTIONS.

Sir,—You will be glad to hear that since I saw you I have had a number of letters offering help in the endeavor to procure pure elections.

It may be as well to state that there is no intention to interfere in any way with the party predilections of any elector. He can mark his ballot just as he pleases. The object of the association is to secure perfect freedom to the voter—freedom from pressure or bias of any kind, so that he may put his vote as his conscience and judgment may dictate. Further I may say there is no intention, as some might suppose, to form a third or independent party, or to allow partisanship to bear in any way on the action of the Association, whose sole and earnest endeavor will bring about pure elections, and dispel the opprobrium that has fallen upon us through the nefarious acts of corruption now brought to light. We will meet in the City Hall on Thursday evening next at 7.30 o'clock.

J. T. JENNINGS.
