SUGGESTION FORBIDDEN HER TO A CONFESSION.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Jan. 30.—In the trial of Barbara Arnold, sixteen years old, accused of setting fire to the Berlin Hotel, where four persons were killed, and to the Windermere Hotel, it developed today how William Allender, chief of detectives, had combined mental suggestion with "third degree" tactics and obtained a confession from the girl, which she subsequently repudiated.

Barred at first by her continued denials, the chief caused his questioning suddenly and walked to the window of his office. After five minutes gazing out into the street, in which time no one spoke to the girl, the detective wheeled suddenly, drew a match from his pocket, and said, handing it to her: "Now, Barbara, show us how you set fire to the Berlin."

BILL OUTLAW $100 HATS.

DES MOINES, Iowa, Jan. 30.—When an Iowa wife buys a hat of the latest Parisian creation and her husband gets a bill for $100 or more he may lawfully refuse to pay it and leave the battle up to the milliner and the wife by provisions of the first bill to pass the Iowa House today.

Like-wise, by the same measure, if a husband buys a diamond ring on credit the wife may not be held responsible for his debt.

Broadly, the measure provides that a husband or wife shall be responsible only for reasonable and necessary purchases made by the other. It was passed 95 to 4, nine not voting.

NEW YORK WOMEN MAKE A RESOLUTION

NEW YORK, Jan. 30.—Women well known in society who are actively engaged in furthering the work of the Ladies' Auxiliary of the New York Zoological Society yesterday pledged themselves never again to wear the plumage of either the bird or parasite of the egret.

In future their millinery creations will be trimmed with other ornaments than those which have been plucked from the two birds whose kind is rapidly nearing extinction.

The pledges were made at a meeting held at the Colony Club by the invitation of Mrs. H. Fairfield Osborn, wife of the president of the Museum of Natural History. Mrs. Osborn asked her guests to attend the lecture she had arranged for the afternoon, in which birds and animals were featured, and at the close of the program the chairman, Madison Grant, presented resolutions calling upon the members of the auxiliary to protect from extinction by the only way possible to them the two birds whose plumage is at the moment the fashionable note in afternoon and evening dress.

As leader of the organization for the preservation of birds and animals Mrs. Osborn asked her name first to the document containing the resolution. Her action was promptly followed by the signing of other names.

BOSTON SCHOONER SAFE.

HALIFAX, Jan. 30.—The American tern schooner Alice P. Turner went ashore on Black Rock, near Parrabro (N.S.), last night. She floated on this morning and now lies on the beach near the rock with part of her keel gone, bilges damaged and full of water.

The Turner sailed from Parrabro Roads yesterday afternoon for Boston with lumber, and as the wind was light the eddy carried her on the rock.

The Turner has had an unfortunate experience this winter. She had to put back to this port some time ago full of water. When again ready to sail the captain broke his leg, and another captain was sent from Boston to take command. She is owned by the Boston Brokerage Company and is forty-six years old.

How Old You Look

Worn, and All Tired Out—it is Not Necessary.

You act as though you just wonder how you are going to get through the rest of the winter and do your work.

You may be overworked or have had a bad cold which has left you without strength, ambition or much interest in life; in fact you are all run-down.

Let us tell you that Vinol, our delicate cod liver and iron tonic, is just the remedy you need to rebuild wasting tissues and replace weakness with strength.

A prominent Boston lawyer says: "My mother, who is 76 years of age, owes her good health to Vinol as she is taking it. She can walk farther and do more than she has for years. I consider it a wonderful blood-making and strength creating tonic."

We have such faith in Vinol that if it does not quickly build you up, restore your strength and make you feel well again, we will return your money. Try Vinol on our guarantee. E. A. Foster, Central Drugstore, Charlottetown.

BLOOD POISONING.—The many friends of Ernest Farquharson, Charlottetown will regret to learn that he is in the P. E. Island Hospital, suffering from blood poisoning, the result of a horsebite. He was reported resting a little easier last night.

MISFORTUNE.—A "Short Course" student handed the Guardian the following which is given in its raw state: "A native of — has been in attending the Short Course being rather strange to the sidewalk had the misfortune to fall and tear his pants."

ICE NOT BUSHED.—The people in the vicinity of North River Bridge are complaining bitterly of the fact that, up to the present, the ice from the Bridge to McMurro's landing has not been bused. Owing to this want those who are not thoroughly acquainted with the river are obliged when coming to Charlottetown to drive around the Point. A sixteen drove out yesterday and by the merest accident passed safely over the channel a feat which those who saw it declared to be extremely perilous. The attention of the authorities is directed to this need.

PARDON COMMISSION HEARD

BOSTON, Jan. 30.—The pardon petition of Cardenio F. King, the former broker and newspaper publisher of Boston, who is serving a long prison sentence for defrauding his customers, was scheduled for a hearing before the pardon committee of the executive council to-day. King has based his petition on the allegation that his physical condition is such that further confinement will be fatal to him.

Governor Foss has recommended a conditional pardon and District Attorney Joseph O. Pelletier has declared himself in favor of clemency. A few former clients of the broker have expressed their opposition to the petition, and it was expected that these persons would voice their objections at the hearing.

HUSBAND AND WIFE BOTH ON HOMESTEADS TO GET GRIP ON LAND.

EDMONTON, Jan. 30.—Instances of man and wife living separately on isolated homesteads in the Peace River country so that they may establish a claim to more land than could be possible than if they remained together, are told by Rev. A. Forbes, Presbyterian minister at Grande Prairie City, on his annual visit.

Mr. Forbes says that often a man and his wife will hold four South African veteran scrips between them and will live entirely separated lives, the wife, "batching" on her two half sections in alternate six month periods, while the husband performs the same duty on his half sections. In some cases where the landings of husband and wife are adjoining, they have a single house.

Here's a good and most complete treatment for the most stubborn case of cold. Rexall's Cough Remedy is used by thousands and recommended by all who have ever used them. Large box 25c. TO ESTABLISH A CHAIR OF SPANISH.

ST. JOHN, Jan. 31.—At a meeting of the governors of King's College, Windsor (N. S.), yesterday, it was decided to take steps to have the accommodations for students enlarged as at present the buildings are taxed to their capacity. The college is now on a paying basis and the finances were never in better condition. On account of the closer relations which will no doubt now exist between the West Indies and Canada and as the steamers from the West Indies will come more frequently into the ports of Halifax, and St. John, it was decided to establish a chair of Spanish at the college. This will enable students to take full advantage of any opportunities that may offer in any of the Spanish countries in the south. The law course at the Windsor institution is to be strengthened.

ALWAYS CONSULT THE PHONE DIRECTOR

It is surprising the large number of people in Charlottetown who, when they want to inquire about their Morning Daily Guardian or subscription No. 132-3, instead of 132-3; or when they want to inquire about advertising ask Central for the Subscription phone No. 132-2, or for the News Phone No. 133, instead of 132-3; or when they want the News or Editorial Department ask Central for the Subscription phone No. 132-2, or the Advertising phone No. 132-3, instead of 133, although all those departments are plainly given in the telephone book. Some people, instead of looking at the book even phone one what number to ask for to get another department. All this is a great waste of time on the part of the person phoning, the operator at the Central, and the clerk in the department wrongly phoned. The news staff, on an upper floor, cannot give the necessary information about either advertising or subscriptions, nor the advertising staff about advertisements or news, nor the subscription staff about advertising or news. In other words the clerks know and can look up their own work in their own departments, and if it were otherwise they would be continually running one department to another, up stairs and down, mixing work, wearing themselves out and causing the public possible confusion. On and after 6 p. m. daily unless to ask for any phone numbers except 132 and 133.

Patrons who consult their phone books for the numbers they really want will greatly lessen the work of the patient Central telephone and Guardian clerks and thus help make their lives much brighter and happier. 3-16dtf

FIRE CAUSED BY YOUNG LAD SMOKING

CHICAGO, Jan. 30.—Four-year-old Johnny Washburn was a naughty boy and his mother locked him in a closet to do penance. This disturbed Johnny for a while, but he forgot all about his parent's infliction of punishment when he found a cigarette and some matches in a pocket of his father's dress suit, which was hanging in the closet.

The firemen put out the fire after damage aggregating $400 had been done. Johnny said the cigarette did not make him sick a bit.

CASTRO IS REFUSED.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 30.—Cipriano Castro, former president of Venezuela, was today denied admission to the United States as a visitor by Charles Nagel, secretary of commerce and labor. The Venezuelan's unwavering refusal to answer the question, whether, as president of his country, he was a party to the killing of General Paredes, was the cause of Secretary Nagel's order for his deportation.

The cabinet minister sustained the adverse report of the immigration authorities against Castro on the ground that his decision to answer "may" in itself constitute an admission by condoning of the commission of a felony. The immigration laws bars from entry any persons convicted of or admitting the commission of a crime involving moral turpitude, providing it is not purely a political offense. The secretary held that the murder of Paredes was not a purely political crime.

A NOVEL MARRIAGE.

ATLANTA, Ga., Jan. 30.—Having skipped one afternoon's lessons at her school to elope and become the bride of a young business man, Mrs. Grady Walker, sixteen years old, has now returned to her classes, in which she will continue until graduation, two years hence. Between congratulations of her girl friends she is very busy erasing from all of her books the name she changed—Ommie Thomason.

Mrs. Walker is the daughter of John J. Thomason, of No. 258 Ashby Street, West End, and her father was so angry at the idea of the child running away to be married that he had to be restrained by detectives until he became reconciled to the situation.

The Thomasons are well known socially throughout the State, and the girl's parents had been arranging for an elaborate reception to introduce her to society as a debutante upon her graduation. The parents knew of the attachment of the young couple, but desired them to wait.

But Miss Thomason invented an excuse to leave her classes on the afternoon set aside for the elopement, promising Miss Woodberry, head of the school for girls in Peachtree street, that she would return the following morning.

True to her word, she returned all right, and then with proper dramatic emphasis announced to her friends that she had been married at the hour when they had been reciting Caesar. Immediately there was a reception in honor of the schoolgirl bride, her chums thinking she had just returned to give them the news and then hurry to her new home. But Mrs. Walker explained that her husband had well defined ideas on education and intended to keep her at school.

At the end of the present year the Walkers will take their honeymoon trip.

HORSES INCREASE DESPITE THE MOTOR CAR

WASHINGTON, Jan. 30.—The introduction of the automobile on farms of the United States has not displaced the horse or mule, for the latest estimate of the number of these animals on farms January 1, this year, announced to-day by the Department of Agriculture, shows more horses than ever before, except in 1909 and 1910, and more mules than in any other year on record. Horses and mules were of greater value than ever before, except in 1911. The number of horses increased 58,000 over last year and mules increased 24,000. There were 20,567,000 horses as compared with 20,509,000 in 1911, and 4,288,000 mules, compared with 4,362,000 in 1911.

While the number of beasts of burden on the farm increased, the number of food animals decreased. Milch cows decreased 202,000 since January 1, 1912; other cattle decreased 1,230,000; sheep decreased 880,000 and swine decreased 4,232,000.

In average value per head, compared with 1912, horses increased $4.33; mules, $3.80; milch cows, $5.63; other cattle, $5.16; sheep, 48 cents; swine, $1.86. In total value the increases were:—Horses, $105,528,000; mules, $19,533,000; milch cows, $107,363,000; other cattle, $159,581,000; sheep, $21,609,000; swine, $73,781,000. The total value of all farm animals increased $498,456,000, or 9.9 per cent, over 1912.

EUROPEAN NEWS

LONDON, Feb. 1 (Special)—The first South African peaches for this season have arrived at Covent Garden, and, as C. du P. Chiappini, the Trades Commissioner for the Union Government of South Africa, told a representative yesterday the packing methods of the fruit exporters have now grown so perfect that all the fruit arrives safely. The armor of the peach and the grape is perfectly natural. It is, in fact, nothing more than that small coating of delicate fluff, which is known as the bloom. As long as that fluff coating can be preserved intact, the fruit will arrive in perfect condition, and so fully is this realized that no hand touches South African fruit until the housewife places it on her table, and, if she is wise, she will handle the fruit very delicately even then.

GLASGOW, February 1. (Special)—Hertfordshire it has not been considered that the steamship offers much scope for lady doctors. A case has, however, just occurred in which the medical welfare of a vessel conveying to Australia, among other passengers, a number of emigrants, was placed in feminine hands. The steamship in question was ready to sail from the Clyde. All that kept her at the Tail of the Bank was the lack of a surgeon. A qualified lady doctor, the daughter of a member of the Institute of Marine Engineers, heard of the difficulty, and was disposed to offer her services. Her father was at first inclined to veto the plan, as the young lady was on holiday, and was not very strong. Finally, however, he withdrew his objection, and the Board of Trade Officer, for the first time in his life, certified that a ship with her surgery in charge of other than a male doctor was duly complying with the law after a consultation with the law officer.

It is hard work for a ship surgeon if the vessel carries any considerable number of emigrants. The lady doctor, must, therefore, have had a busy time. She took the appointment, however, for the outward voyage only, and is possibly now on her way home, resting agreeably after a decidedly unique experience. Whether this lady's doctor's experiment will encourage others to follow her example, may, perhaps, be doubted, more particularly in long-voyage ships of the class chosen in this instance. The case is interesting, however, as showing that under the Merchant Shipping Act the male doctor has by no means an exclusive right to practice on shipboard.

DUBLIN, Feb. 1 (Special)—The vacancy that has been caused in the Parliamentary representation of Londonderry by the succession of the Marquis of Hamilton to the title of his father, the Duke of Abercorn, has just been filled by a very important contest and the whole United Kingdom is watching the result. On this year's register the Unionist polling strength is somewhat lower than that which won the last election, the majority on paper over the Nationalists being about fifty. In the matter of out-voters, however, the Unionists have greater difficulties to meet than the Nationalists, because of the larger numbers and the longer distances they have to travel. It also happens that the Royal Fusiliers, in which almost all the voters are Unionist, are leaving Derry for Gosport.

A further complication is threatened by the announcement which Mr.

Tillis, a local Protestant manufacturer, made some weeks ago, that he intended to stand as an Independent, pledging himself at the same time to sink his vote on Home Rule. Mr. Tillis made this announcement shortly after the adoption of Colonel Pakenham by the Unionist Council.

PARIS, Feb. 1 (Special)—Many visitors came to Paris during the holidays and so gay was the city that scores of them have remained indefinitely. The strangers have no doubt contributed largely to the animation at the principal restaurants. It is they who dress in the loveliest of their latest acquisitions and pass through the long halls with the knowledge of their power to make every woman look up from her chair or cravat, her oysters or chicken. Supper parties after the theatre have been the liveliest of entertainments, and in some of the celebrated places the most charming of scenes have been enacted. A pretty girl in red satin, for instance, with her skirt open on one side to the knees, dances the fashionable waltz with a "dainty" young man. The guests applaud. Then an American couple go through all the contortions of face and limb that the latest innovations require, and the public applaud again more rapturously than before. The majority of the spectators are American and English, with a sprinkling of Parisiennes from the hotel world.

BERLIN, Feb. 1 (Special)—In an article discussing achievements in the field of naval aeronautics the semi-official "Norddeutsche Allgemeine Zeitung" says: "We are filled with pride and joy by the knowledge that the German Navy possesses the best airship that the world has produced, and that no airship belonging to any other Power can accomplish anything like what this greatest of all the Zeppelin cruisers has achieved in its voyage of more than eight hundred miles over land and sea. The airship has a carrying capacity of nearly twenty-seven tons; it has a radius of action of 1,550 miles; at its own speed, without the help of air currents, it is 50 miles an hour. Its wireless telegraphy apparatus can send and receive messages at a distance of 310 miles. The naval authorities are using every effort to maintain German superiority in this domain, and to develop this important arm of the Service by acquiring new airships."

The semi-official journal adds that a second airship is nearing completion, and that a third will soon follow. The overseas flight, Kiel-Travel-münde-Heiligendam, projected for July next, promises to be of extreme importance for the Navy, as it is anticipated that the prizes offered will induce German industry to participate largely in the competition and thus give a fresh impetus to the construction of hydroplanes.

NOVA SCOTIA CLERK SUICIDED

WINNIPEG, Jan. 30.—John Savary, ex-manager of the Bank of Ottawa branch at Stoughton, Sask., and accountant in the Bank at Regina who shot himself with a revolver, dying yesterday, is a member of a well known Nova Scotia family, his father being Judge Savary of Annapolis, N. S. He has a brother in the ministry at Kingstons, and another is a barrister at Calgary. He was 29 years old and unmarried. From all accounts his services at the bank had been satisfactory, and the incident is a mystery.
