THE PRINCE COUNTY GUARDIAN

Offices in Summerside, John Dickieson, Agent, and in Alberton Herbert Clark, Agent.

—The latest news first of all.

—Owing to the rush of exhibition news a number of Prince County items had to be held over.

—The report of the Prince County Exhibition, which appeared in Saturday's issue, was furnished by The Guardian's Summerside representative.

—Rev Roderick McDunn, Westville, N. S.; J. A. Butts, Harbor Branch, N. S.; and W. N. Conway, Lovels, returned Friday to the Mainland after visiting with Rev J. A. McDonald, Grand River.

—Among the attractions of Friday at Summerside was the 12 knot Motor boat race, which took place on the harbor around the noon hour, and attracted a large crowd. The boat owned by Bruce Stewart & Co, Charlottetown, won the handsome cup presented by Bruce McKelvie, New York, valued at seventy five dollars. T. B. Grady's boat took second place, Cyrus Morris third, H. T. Holman fourth. A boat owned by Picton Brown, Charlottetown, took a little more water than was expected, causing a hitch in the Motor and had to drop out of the race. Time 61 minutes.

COMMANDER PEARY EN ROUTE TO SYDNEY.

BATTLE HARBOR, Sept 18—The Canadian cable steamer Tyrion, carrying forty journalists, arrived here yesterday.

The party surrounded Peary, photographed him, and then retired to a quiet spot and held an interesting conversation regarding the Polar region. Peary, with the steamer Roosevelt, is now en route to Sydney.

BEAUTY AND ELEGANCE

IN GRAND COMBINATION AT MOORE & McLEOD'S FALL MILLINERY OPENING TONIGHT MONDAY, 20 SEPT.

As season succeeds season, the Spring Openings bring Summer's beautiful providings for well dressed women—one wonders what could be so lovely as the offerings of that season at Fashion's shrine. But the wonder gives place to renewed wonderings when one sees what this Autumn has produced in the Millinery for those who desire fashionable, exclusive and appropriate head wear. A veritable Oriental scene is Moore & McLeod's well lighted, beautifully arranged, and spacious shop. Flowers in exotic beauty are in abundance—millinery accessories of every description are in evidence on all sides—ribbons, silk, feathers, plumes—but the list is endless.

Foremost of course, is the Millinery exhibit proper, and although one would like to linger over the thousand and one other attractions—Millinery is the magic word for these lines, so Millinery it must be. Imported Models are many—all, beautiful and fashionable. Some of them the ultra shapes which suit some of the many—others the more quiet, attractive ones which provide variety sufficient to let all take choice from. But it is the work of the firm's own Milliner, Miss Edith Wilson, who is an artist in all she does, that one feels the most should be said. For the price of home work is more in touch with every day needs, while the work itself is equal to the imported.

Among the last named some peculiar and very beautiful effects were noticed, of crowns and brims of kid and chamois. It is very dainty and lovely, and one particularly swell was one developed with a crown of white kid, a piping running around the brim of the white. The trimming was of Panné Velvet, with jet beads and sprays. Exceptionally handsome. Price $13.50.

Another one with a kid crown showed a large buckle of kid, and this with a pair of wings, and trimmings of braid on the buckle complete a dainty, attractive and select model. Price $16.50.

Now some mention of Miss Wilson's artistic models, for they show the touch of an artist in every fold and arrangement. One of them was modeled in Green Hatter's Plush, one of the latest New York Turbans, most becoming in shape, and serviceable in every way. Sprays, full, rich and abundant formed the trimming with jets, and the price was but $8.25.

A beauty with white Moire Silk Top, and plush facing, was completed with Panné Velvet in black and as per usual jets and sprays were in evidence in the trimming scheme. Price $11.00.

Then she shows such chic and fashionable chapeaus in shades of old Rose, Greys, Greens, each one a distinct model by itself, each one just particularly suited to an individual face, and therefore exclusive, for there are no duplicates in Miss Wilson's portion of the Autumn Millinery Opening.

In passing a word is certainly due to some very chic and smart chapeaus designed and executed by Miss Clara Steele, the assistant milliner. Her work is in the very first order of millinery excellence.

But to describe is useless, for no matter how these essentials are looked from one point of view, they never appeal to another in the same way. Therefore, personal inspection of the Autumn hats is imperative, and tonight at 7.30 Moore and McLeod throw open their doors to the public for the purpose of giving them the opportunity of the season, to make first selection from one of the finest and most select as well as one of the largest number of ready to wear hats they have ever offered. Their reputation as always having the most select and up to date, is so well established, that their openings are always waited for, as the ones which will show just what is to correct to wear. So be among the many who see and revel in all the beautiful things they have provided for their patrons, and prove the truth of this assertion, that Moore and McLeod have this season out vied even their own former efforts, for they have certainly the greatest treat of the season awaiting visitors this evening.

"Another shipment (125 copies) of Miss Montgomery's new book "Anne of Avonlea" received today. Our first shipment from the publishers of 100 copies sold in five days, average 20 copies per day. Those who have read "Anne of Avonlea" pronounce it to be a very pretty story, and is likely to be even more popular than "Anne of Green Gables," of which we have sold many hundreds of copies. Another supply of this book also received today. Carter & Co, Limited, Booksellers & Stationers. 9-15d1w.

High Class Millinery

As usual with us in the Fall season the space taken up by the immense stock of furs, mantles, ladies' suits, and mens' ready made clothing, stocked on the second floor, precludes the possibility of a formal millinery opening, but nevertheless all are welcome to come at their leisure and view the very latest and best ideas from the world of fashion.

Our head milliner MISS CASSIE REID who has lately arrived spent several weeks in copying from the most approved Paris and New York models, and has ready a showing of superb styles, which can not fail to meet with the approval of all lovers of artistic work.

All are cordially invited, and orders will be attended to in a prompt and efficient manner.

Our showing of high class furs also demands more than passing notice, and visitors to the Exhibition should not fail to call, admire, and, if agreeable, purchase.

We would also call attention to the very desirable range of Ladies' tailored suits at moderate prices. These come in black, navy, myrtle, brown, etc., and are proving extremely popular.

Visitors from the country as well as from abroad are invited to make this store their headquarters during Exhibition.
