SOUTHERN TEACHERS.—The Southern Teachers' Association will hold a regular meeting on Saturday, May 15th, at 10.30 a. m. in the Prince of Wales College. The programme is one of special interest to the teachers and it is requested that the Association be fully represented.

I. O. G. T. CONCERT.—The concert which was given on Tuesday evening by the members of Charlottetown Lodge No. 19 I. O. G. T. proved a decided success, a goodly sum being realized. As was stated before a good percentage is to be given in aid of the Field Kitchen and Ambulance Fund. Excellent addresses were delivered by the Revs. Taylor, Wilson, Dawson and Bell on the cause of Temperance, each being heartily applauded. The programme consisted of dialogues, solos, readings, recitations and piano selections. At the close of the programme the baskets were auctioned by Mr. Benjamin Carter, who deserves special mention for the way in which he performed his duty. Mr. Carter is very popular with the young people and as nature's baskets sold at a good figure. Coffee was served by the members of the Lodge and after the young men had eaten of the contents of the basket with the young ladies who owned the same all returned home well pleased with the evening they had spent.

SEED ASSOCIATION.—A meeting of the Co-operative Seed Association was held in the Agricultural Hall, Summerside, on Tuesday, May 11, for the purpose of further organization and the appointing of a Directorate. The President, Rev. J. J. McDonald, of Kinkora, occupied the Chair and explained in a few fitting words the object of the meeting. After the adoption of the Minutes of the previous meeting, Mr. Joseph Reid was called and dealt with the offer the Company could make in handling the product of the Association. This was later received in writing and dealt with by the meeting. A partial list of by-laws was constructed and the balance left for a committee composed of Albert Schurman, Rev. J. J. McDonald and Professor Reid to construct. The following Directorate was then appointed: Hon. Murdoch McKinnon, Honorary President; Rev. J. J. McDonald, North Side, Vice-President; Prof. W. J. Reid, Summerside, Secretary; Treasurer, and Albert Schurman, Central Bedouque; W. H. McGregor, Central, Lot 16; Horace Wright, Bedouque; John Sinclair, Springfield; Theodore Ross, Charlottetown; Richard Creed, Alberton, as Directors. With general assent the next meeting will be called towards the last of June. Those present at the meeting felt that a large field could be developed for the sale of a high grade grain. This will necessitate the permanent attention of every member in that direction but those who show persisting interest in the Standing Fields of Grain Competition is a prominent feature in aiding the development of the movement and all interested should avail themselves of full information on the subject.

DYSPEPSIA OVERCOME
 Tone Up the Stomach with Hood's Sarsaparilla.

When you have dyspepsia your life is miserable. You have a bad taste in your mouth, a tenderness at the pit of the stomach, a feeling of puffy fullness, headache, heartburn, and something nausea.

Dyspepsia is difficult digestion—that is what the word means—and the only way to get rid of it is to give vigor and tone to the stomach and the whole digestive system. Hood's Sarsaparilla, sold by all druggists, is the one medicine which acts on the stomach through the blood and also directly. Its beneficial effects are felt at once. Improvement begins immediately.

Hood's Sarsaparilla purifies the blood, makes the rich red blood that is needed for perfect digestion, and builds up the whole system. No other medicine can take its place.

"THE DOLLAR MARK" AT THE PEOPLE'S

The announcement that the People's Theatre would show Robert Warwick in "The Dollar Mark" was doubtless the drawing factor last evening at this popular place of amusement, when crowded houses saw a treat in photography, including an all-star cast, who ably supported Mr. Warwick, in one of the best films that the management of the People's have shown in some time.

The story is one of the early days in Cobalt, and contains many thrilling and exciting situations, particularly exciting being the scene when "Jim" saves the strange girl from the flood caused by the breaking of the dam, the natural trend of events that follow are decidedly interesting.

Some beautiful scenery is seen in the trip by the parties from the city to the mines at Cobalt. One cannot help but realize that it is real, and the delightful ending causes one to sigh and wish there was more to come.

Such productions are clamoured for by the theatre-going public in the large cities, and they willingly pay from $2 to $5 a seat to see the celebrated actors and actresses, while the people of Charlottetown are only asked the small admission fee which in the reach of all which goes to prove the progressive policy adopted by the management of the people's in offering nothing but the best in the way of masterpiece productions to their patrons.

"Dolly of the Dailies" was the sixth reel of this all-star programme, and proved as interesting as ever. In this episode Dolly plays detective and proves equal to the occasion, in solving a mysterious series of thefts which bid fair to involve her fair personage. It is all too good to divulge, and all should see this splendid programme at the People's at one of their matinees today, of which there are three: matinee at 3.15 and two evening shows, 7.15 and 8.50.

had not been armed during the whole war.

"The Germans attempt to justify the sinking of the Lusitania by the fact that she had arms and ammunition on board. The presence of contraband on board a neutral vessel does render her liable to capture, but certainly not to destruction, with the loss of a large portion of her crew and passengers. Every enemy vessel is a fair prize, but there is no legal provision, not to speak of the principles of humanity, which would justify what can only be described as murder because a vessel carries contraband.

"The Germans maintain that after repeated official and unofficial warnings, His Majesty's Government were responsible for the loss of life, as they considered themselves able to declare that the boat ran no risk, and thus 'lightheartedly' assume the responsibility for the human lives on board a steamer, which owing to its armament and cargo, is liable to destruction." The reply thereto is:

"First—His Majesty's Government never declared the boat ran no risk.

"Second—The fact that the Germans issued their warning shows that the crime was premeditated. They had no more right to murder passengers, after warning them, than before.

"Third—in spite of their attempts to put the blame on Great Britain, it will tax the ingenuity even of the Germans to explain away the fact that it was a German torpedo, fired by a German seaman from a German submarine, that sank the vessel and caused over one thousand deaths."

MEMORIAL SERVICES AT QUEENSTOWN

QUEENSTOWN, May 11.—Trains yesterday brought friends or relatives of passengers of the Lusitania to Queenstown from various parts of the British Isles. Among those who arrived was W. L. Griffiths, of the Canadian office in London, who desired to extend aid to the Canadian survivors.

The coffins of the sixty-four unidentified dead were filed past by weeping men, women and children who sought the last opportunity to see if there were among the dead those for whom they were searching. This delayed the funeral procession, the entire forenoon being devoted to last efforts to make identifications.

The churches in Queenstown, both Protestant and Catholic, all held memorial services yesterday morning. Assisting the bishop at the cathedral was Father Cowley Clark, of London, a survivor of the disaster. Participating in the Protestant service was the Rev. Mr. Swan-Mason, chaplain of the battleship Ocean, which was sunk recently in the Dardanelles.

BRITAIN'S REPLY TO GERMANY'S JUSTIFICATION OF LUSITANIA CRIME

LONDON, May 11.—Inquiry in official circles here has elicited to-night the following statement representing the British official view of Germany's justification for torpedoing the Lusitania, which Germany transmitted to the State Department at Washington:

"The German Government state that responsibility for the loss of the Lusitania rests with the British Government, which, through their plan of starting the civil population of Germany, has forced Germany to resort to retaliatory measures. The reply to this is as follows:

"As far back as last December, Admiral Von Tirpitz (the German Marine Minister), in an interview, foreshadowed a submarine blockade of Great Britain, and a merchant ship and a hospital ship were torpedoed January 30 and February 1st, respectively.

"The German Government, on February 4th, declared their intention of instituting a general submarine blockade of Great Britain and Ireland, with the avowed purpose of cutting off supplies for these islands. This blockade was put into effect February 18.

"As already stated, merchant vessels had, as a matter of fact, been sunk by a German submarine at the end of January! Before February 4th, no vessels carrying food supplies for Germany had been held up by His Majesty's Government, except on the ground that there was reason to believe the foodstuffs were intended for use of armed forces of the enemy, or the enemy Government.

"His Majesty's Government had, however, informed the State Department on January 29th, that they felt bound to place in a prize court on the foodstuffs of the steamer Wilhelmina, which was going to a German port, in view of the Government control of foodstuffs in Germany, as being destined for the enemy Government, and therefore liable to capture.

"The decision of His Majesty's Government to carry out the measures laid down by the Order-in-Council was due to the action of the German Government in insisting on their submarine blockade. This, added to other German actions of international law by Germany, led to the British reprisals, which differ from the German action in that His Majesty's Government scrupulously respect the lives of non-combatants travelling in merchant vessels, and do not even enforce recognized penalty of confiscating for a breach of the blockade, whereas the German policy is to sink enemy or neutral vessels at sight, with total disregard for the lives of non-combatants and the property of neutrals.

"The Germans state that, in spite of their offer to stop their submarine war in case the starvation plan was given up, Great Britain has taken even more stringent blockade measures. The answer to this is as follows:

"It was understood from the reply of the German Government that they were prepared to abandon the principle of sinking British vessels by submarine. They have refused to abandon the use of mines for offensive purposes on the high seas on any condition. They have committed various other infractions of international law, such as stranding the high seas and trade routes with mines, and British and neutral vessels will continue to run danger from this course, whether Germany abandons her submarine blockade or not.

"It should be noted that since the employment of submarines contrary to international law the Germans have been guilty of the use of asphyxiating gas. They have even proceeded to the poisoning of water in South Africa.

"The Germans represent British merchant vessels generally as armed with guns, and say that they repeatedly ram submarines. The answer to this is as follows:

"It is not to be wondered at that merchant vessels, knowing they are liable to be sunk without warning and without any chance being given those on board to save their lives, should take measures for self-defence. With regard to the Lusitania: The vessel was not armed on her last voyage, and

What's In the Cup?

The flavour may be agreeable, but appetite isn't the only thing to be considered.

The average cup of tea or coffee contains from 1-2 to 3 grains of caffeine, a powerful drug which is a frequent cause of indigestion, constipation, nervousness, heart trouble and other ills.

Some persons are strong enough to use tea or coffee for a time without apparent harm, but repeated doses of its subtle, cumulative drug, caffeine, sooner or later affects even the strong man or woman.

Any tea or coffee drinker will benefit from a change to

INSTANT POSTUM

This pure food-drink has a delicious snappy tang, and it contains no caffeine, nor any other harmful ingredient. It is made of selected wheat, a little wholesome molasses and is pure, invigorating and delicious.

And Instant Postum is so easy to make. Put a level teaspoonful in a cup, add hot water, and sugar and cream to taste.

The convenience of Instant Postum is seen at a glance. Sold in 30c and 50c tins. Some prefer Postum Cereal—the original form—which must be well boiled, 15c and 25c pkgs.

Grocers sell both kinds, the flavour is equally delicious and the cost per cup is about the same.
