A Ventilating Oven that Ventilates.

There is only one practical way of ventilating a range oven and that way has been adopted in the Pandora—is an actual, positive, working feature and not a mere talking point.

Fresh air is drawn from the outside through small vents into the oven while the odors and cooking fumes are forced by the fresh air out through small vents into the smoke flues, and up the chimney.

Roasts cooked in a Pandora oven retain their sweet, natural flavor, entirely free from cooking odors, absolutely unmingled with any foreign flavor. Puddings, cakes, bread, meats, etc., are always light, fresh and free from mixed odors or flavors.

In the Pandora range you get all that scientific study, practical experience, skilled workmanship and an immense and finely equipped plant combined, can produce—the highest possible attainment in range perfection.

Ask your local dealer to show you the Pandora range, or write to us for free catalogue before buying any other.

THE SUNFLOWER AND ITS USE

The sunflower is a native of America. In 1500 it was introduced into Europe and is now extensively cultivated there, particularly in Russia, where it is grown principally for the oil contained in its seed. The seeds after the shells are removed contain 34 per cent of oil. This oil is clear, light yellow, nearly odorless and of a peculiar pleasant and mild taste. It is said to be superior to both almond and olive oil for table purposes and is used in making soap and candles. In Russia the larger seeds are sold in immense quantities to the lower classes of the people, who eat the kernels as we do peanuts. The stalks furnish a valuable fertilizer, while the green leaves are dried, pulverized and mixed with meal as food for cows. The stalk produces an excellent flavor. It is said that Chinese silk goods commonly contain more or less sunflower fiber. The so-called Niger seed oil is made from a species of sunflower family which is a native of Abyssinia. It furnishes the common lamp oil of upper India, where it is largely cultivated.

Bay Tree Beliefs.

Long before the time of Shakespeare the bay tree was an object of superstition. The withering of such a tree was believed to be a sure indication of coming misfortune to those with whom it was in any way connected. Shakespeare gave voice to the superstition in "Richard III." when he made one of his characters say: "Tis thought the king is dead; we'll not stay—The bay trees in our country are withered."

It was thought by the ancients that lightning would never harm this tree, and it was customary among them to carry bay leaves as a charm against the thunderbolts of Jove. The same belief was long prevalent in England, and reference to it may be found in an old poem dedicated to Ben Jonson: "I see that wreaths which doth the wearer arms 'Gainst the quick strokes of thunder is no charm To keep off death's pale hand."

Sleepless Nights From Piles.

AGONY WAS INTENSE AND DOCTORS COULD GIVE HIM NO RELIEF. COMPLETELY CURED BY

Dr. Chase's Ointment

Simple, inexpensive, easy and pleasant to use, Dr. Chase's Ointment is beyond doubt the most satisfactory treatment for piles that ever was conceived.

Surgical operations are painful and costly and are only undertaken with risk to life itself. Even when cure is uncertain, whereas there is scarcely one case in a thousand which cannot be completely cured by the persistent use of Dr. Chase's Ointment.

These latter are of special interest to anyone who has been searching in vain for the relief and cure of piles. They tell of the cure of the itching and protruding varieties of the torturing disease.

Mr. James P. Ross, Stonehouse, Cumberland county, N.S., writes: "I suffered for years with itching piles and at times my agony was intense. I could not sleep at night or get any rest on account of the terrible itching. I had tried doctors' medicine and salves and everything I thought would help me, but got no relief until I began to use Dr. Chase's Ointment. I had not used half a box of this preparation before I felt a remarkable improvement, and I am now entirely cured."

Mr. F. E. Langton, Oliver, Gloucester Co., N.S., writes: "It gives me very great pleasure to recommend Dr. Chase's Ointment. I was troubled with itching piles for twenty years and tried very many medicines, all to be availed until I used Dr. Chase's Ointment. After the fourth application the itching and lump disappeared as if by magic, and I can say to anyone similarly afflicted that if they will try Dr. Chase's Ointment they will be cured. There is no more certain cure and none so easily applied."

On the circular which goes with every box of Dr. Chase's Ointment are given full instructions as to the use of the ointment for itching, bleeding and protruding piles, and itching skin diseases. If you follow directions we guarantee satisfaction as a treatment for every form of piles.

Dr. Chase's Ointment has an unparalleled record of cures, 90% of all dealers, or Edmundson, Hobb & Co., T. S. 11-14 1/2 St. Wm. Bp.
