LABOR LEADERS DIVIDED AS TO LAWRENCE STRIKE.

LAWRENCE, Feb. 7—Rivalry between the Labor Organizations conducting the textile workers' strike was accentuated last night when the leaders of the Industrial workers of the world issued a statement asserting that the entrance of the American Federation of Labor into the situation is the result of an effort by the Capitalists to divide the workers.

The statement which is an answer to the proclamation issued last week by John Golden, of Fall River, President of the United Textile Workers of America and other members of the American Federation of Labor, was signed by William E. Trautmann, of Chicago, the National Organizer of the Industrial Workers of the World and three members of the strikers' Executive Committee.

BIG IRON WORKS SQUEEZED OUT.

HARRISBURG, Feb. 7—The Central Iron Steel Co., which operates the largest iron and steel works in the city, was placed in the hands of the receivers late yesterday by presiding Judge George Kunkel, of the Dauphin County Court.

The works have plenty of orders booked, but their inability to convert a large stock of raw material into money is supposed to be the cause of the proceedings of the Court.

Father, Mother, Sister, Brother, All Should Use Parisian Sage.

Prevents Baldness-- Banishes Dandruff---Stops Falling Hair and Itching Scalp

PARISIAN SAGE is a family hair tonic and dressing that will do much good in every home.

The man who uses PARISIAN SAGE if only occasionally will never grow bald. Baldness is caused by dandruff germs which dig down into the roots of the hair, devour its nourishment and cause the root to die and the hair to fall and thin out.

MONEY BACK DANDRUFF REMOVER

PARISIAN SAGE is a scientific hair remedy that not only kills the dandruff germs, but gives the hair root just the same nourishment that nature gives it.

PARISIAN SAGE first kills the germs; then nourishes the weakened hair root and causes a growth of healthy hair.

This same nourishment (PARISIAN SAGE) causes the hair to grow vigorous which means that the hair becomes full of life and lustre, and grows radiant and beautiful.

Thousands are wasting time, losing hair and growing bald because they are using superficial tonics. While they may clean the scalp and make it feel refreshed, they do not get to the root of the hair where the real destroyer of hair, the pernicious dandruff germs, thrives and multiplies.

Try PARISIAN SAGE for all hair trouble; it means death to the germs; life to the hair. It is pleasant to use and so harmless that it can be used by every member of the family from the oldest to the little tot.

The home of Isaac and Mrs. Smith at North Wiltshire was the scene of a quiet, but very pleasant, event on Wednesday evening, Jan. 31st, when their youngest daughter, Susie Eva, was united in the bonds of holy matrimony to George Alexander, son of Charles and Mrs. Godfrey of North Wiltshire. The bride, beautifully and appropriately gowned in white, was given away by her father, the wedding march being played by Miss Clara Balderston. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Hugh Miller of Cornwall in the presence of the more immediate relatives of the contracting parties. The number of valuable and useful presents showed in what high respect the young couple are held in the community in which they reside. The groom's gift to the bride was a costly fur-lined coat; to the bridesmaid, Miss Maggie Smith, sister of the bride, a gold brooch, and to the groomsman, who was a cousin of the groom, James Harrison McFarlane of Fernwood, a gold stick pin. Mr. and Mrs. Godfrey will reside at North Wiltshire.

QUEEN ALEXANDRA.

Sandringham, December 26. — The Yuletide celebrations on the King's Norfolk estate were continued today, and, except that the weather has not reminded one of the old-fashioned winters and the Sovereign and his Consort are out of England, and, therefore, away from their Sandringham subjects, everything has been done that could possibly be done to follow the traditions laid down by King Edward for celebrating Christmas at the beloved country home of the royal family.

Happily, the Queen-Mother is able to preside over this year's festivities, and her presence at the distribution of King George's been gave the utmost delight to the recipients of the royal bounty. This may be regarded as the first function which Queen Alexandra has attended since King Edward passed away, and nothing could be more appropriate than that she should witness a ceremony in which the late King took so much interest. Not once during his reign as sovereign was King Edward absent at Christmas from Sandringham, and, although state reasons compelled King George and Queen Mary to absent themselves in this year of their coronation, it is believed that years will elapse before King George fails to pass another Christmas at Sandringham. Last year's celebrations, although carried out by the king, were restricted owing to the the mourning for King Edward; but while chiefly confined to the family circle, the normal manner of celebrating the festivities has been resumed, and they have been carried out under the superintendence of the Queen Mother.

During her residence this winter Her Majesty has entertained a series of small and select circles of friends, and it is pleasing to notice how much better in health and spirits she appears. That Queen Alexandra has taken the greatest interest in looking after the comfort of her grandchildren this Christmas is unmistakable. She has also entertained a few of her intimate personal friends and several members of the late King's household. Since her return to Sandringham the Prince of Wales and his brother, Prince Albert, have been shooting in the well-stocked coverts. Prince George is fast becoming an expert on his bicycle. Part of today was spent with Queen Alexandra, and in the evening the Christmas tree was stripped for the enjoyment of the foreign members of the family.

A large audience in the U. C. C. Hall last evening listened to and keenly appreciated Mr. Justice Fitzgerald's lecture on Abraham Lincoln. The lecturer dealt with the life of one of the world's foremost men and history makers in a very interesting and instructive manner.

What was likely one of the happiest events in the life of Mrs. Wm. Adams, formerly of this city, took place at the home of her daughter, Mrs. W. McTaggart, Westboro, Mass., on January 24th, namely, the reunion of the family on the eighty-fourth anniversary of her birthday. Mrs. Jas. McTaggart of Missoula, Mont.; Mrs. J. T. Pearden of Sydney, and William, Thomas H. and W. Adams, all of Wollaston, Mass., constituting all the living daughters and sons of Mrs. Adams were all present. The home of Mrs. W. McTaggart was most tastefully decorated for the occasion. A beautiful birthday cake, baked by one of her grand-daughters, having the inscription, Grandma, 84, upon it, was among the many dainties that sat upon the tea table which was also beautifully decorated with carnations and lillies, for this exceedingly happy event. Mrs. Adams, although at the advanced age of 84 years, enjoyed every minute of this happy event.

CARUSO ACQUITTED OF SINGER'S CHARGE,

MILAN, Feb. 3—Enrico Caruso was acquitted of charges made against hime by Ada Giachetti, the prima donna, that he had intercepted a letter from Oscar Hammerstein offering here ha $50,000 contract to sing at the Manhattan Opera House in New York. The witnesses against Caruso have been charged with conspiracy and held for trial. The courts investigated the case, which revealed unblushing bribery and corruption on the part of Tusco Micalizi, who is described as a New York journalist. Caruso's other lawsuit, wherein another Milanese woman accused him of breech of promise and demands $50,000 damages, will be tried next week.

FAUGHARD OAK FOR ST. BRIGID SHRINE,

PAWTUCKET, R. I., Feb. 3—Mrs. Ellen Ryan Jolly of this city has received from Leonard Brannigan, secretary of the Gaelic League, Ireland, a piece of oak grown at Faughard, adjacent to Dundalk, Ireland, where St. Brigid was born in the year 4 3. This historic wood is to form the base for the pedestal of the shrine of St. Brigid to be unveiled at the church of St. Raymond, tomorrow. A case of genuine Irish candles for the illumination of the shrine has also been forwarded from Ireland by Mrs. Mary Grogan Smith.

TRAVELLING AS CONDEMNED CRIMINALS.

Two Englishmen travelling to Ning-Po on a visit to a Chinese official during the autumn had, to say the least, a diverting time. They were being carried in Sedan chairs, and feeling the atmosphere oppressive, asked the bearers to give them a little fresh air by opening the roof. The men met the request with stolid indifference, so the travellers decided to open the roof themselves. As they approached the city they found that they were the objects of considerable attention. A crowd of 500 surrounded the chairs, and soon it increased to 2,000, the people uttering menacing cries. Happily nothing worse happened.

When they reached their destination their host received them with astonishment. "Good gracious," said he, "what have you done? Only condemned criminals here travel in an open chair!"

CHAPPED HANDS AND CHILBLAINS.

The cold season always brings its own crop of worrisome little ailments, which, though not sufficiently severe to be dignified by the name of illnesses, are yet quite tiresome enough to cause a good deal of discomfort.

Chilblains on the hands and feet are a veritable nuisance, especially as the sufferer gets no sympathy at all for them. "Only a chilblain. That will soon pass. Now, if you had my corns, you really might complain," says a Job's comforter, and the owner of the chilblain is very little lower than the angels is she does not make a snappish retort.

Here is an excellent cure for a chilblain in the early stages—that is to say, when the skin is not broken, but merely inflamed and tender: Dissolve a sheet of white gelatine in a very little boiling water. Then paint the mixture on the tender part, and leave it uncovered for a few minutes till a skin has formed. This skin, though almost invisible, is very strong, and it protects the sore places from the air and gives them a chance to heal.

Chaps are even more annoying than chilblains, as they look so unpleasant. People who have thin, delicate skins should take very great care always to powder the face, hands and arms after washing, and then wipe off the powder, so that the skin is left thoroughly dry. If this is done regularly there will be no danger of chaps, but, if it has been neglected, and the skin is already rough and frayed, the best thing to do is to rub in glycerine at night. Some people object to glycerine as they say that it makes the skin stiff and sore next day. To avoid this they should rub the face and hands with a little cold cream before washing in the morning. The cream will give softness and pliability to the skin, and remove all after-effects of the glycerine.

MRS. THAW AIDS IN THE COE CASE

PITTSBURG, Feb. 5—Mrs. William Thaw, mother of Harry Thaw, has, according to friends of the Coe family, offered to give enough money to pay a lawyer to protect the reputation of Elsie D. Coe from being attacked at the trial of the Rev. Dr. William D. McFarland, accused of having caused her death three weeks ago by illegal treatment. The girl was Dr. McFarland's secretary while he was principal of the Central High School.

The interest of Mrs. Thaw, in the Coe family was shown first when she employed the dead girl's sister, Lillian Coe, as her private secretary. Mrs. Thaw also got a place for Elsie D. Coe as the secretary of the late Miss Kate McKnight, a prominent woman active in educational affairs. Later Miss McKnight got for Elsie Coe the position in the Central High School.

The trial of Dr. McFarland, head of the United Presbyterian Mission School at Greenville, Tenn., who is under arrest in connection with the death of Elsie Dodds Coe, at one time his secretary, is scheduled to begin tomorrow.

McFarland was arrested in Cedar Creek, Tenn. His arrest followed a statement made by Miss Coe, in which she named McFarland as the one responsible for her condition and her death, as the result of an illegal operation.

The clergyman is sixty years old. He is married and the father of one daughter. He first became acquainted with Miss Coe while he was head of a department of the Pittsburg High School, where she acted as his secretary.

In 1910 he went to Greenville, Tenn, to take up Presbyterian mission work He was a stern character and known as a stickler for the proprieties.

The "other man" in the case, Rollin McConnell, formerly a bank clerk in Pittsburg, but now at the head of the credit department of the Chicago branch of the Westinghouse interests, also named in Miss Coe's dying statement, came voluntarily to this city and told a straight-forward story of his relations with Miss Coe to District Attorney Blakely.

McConnell insisted he knew nothing of the events which led up to the death of the girl, and that he knew nothing of Dr. McFarland's connection with the case. McConnell declared that when he learned of Miss Coe's condition, while in Chicago, he immediately came back to Pittsburg, believing himself responsible, and urged the girl to marry him. For reasons which he says she did not reveal to him she refused this offer.

The preacher firmly denies the girl's dying statement, and declares that he is is in no way responsible for the young woman's troubles or for her death.

MADE WELL AND STRONG

By Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Toronto.—I gladly give you my testimonial in favor of your wonderful medicines. Last October I wrote to you for advice as I was completely run down, had bearing down sensation in the lower part of bowels, backache, and pain in the side. I also suffered terribly from gas.

After receiving your directions, I followed them closely and am now entirely free from pain in back and bowels, and am stronger in every way.

I also took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound before my baby was born, and I recommend it highly to all pregnant women.—MRS. E. WANDBY, 92 Logan Ave., Toronto, Ont.

Another Woman Cured

Maple Creek, Sask.—I have used Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Blood Purifier, and I am now in perfect health. I was troubled with pains every month. I know other women who suffer as I did and I will gladly recommend your medicine to them. You may publish this if you think it will help others.—MRS. F. E. COOK, Maple Creek, Sask.

If you belong to that countless army of women who suffer from some form of female ills, don't hesitate to try Lydia E. Pinkham Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs.

How To Destroy The Dandruff Germ

BY A SPECIALIST.

That the Dandruff germ is responsible for nearly all the diseases to which the scalp is heir, as well as for balnness and premature gray hair, is a well known fact, but when we realize that it is also indirectly responsible for many of the worse cases of catarrh and consumption, we appreciate the importance of any agent that will destroy its power. We are, therefore, particularly pleased to give herewith the prescription which an eminent scientist states he has found, after repeated tests, to completely destroy the dandruff germ in from one to three applications. It will also almost immediately stop falling hair and it has in numerous cases produced a new hair-growth after years of baldness. This prescription can be made at home, or any druggists will put it up for you: 6 ounces Bay Rum, 2 ounces Lavona de Composee, one-half drachm Menthol Crystals. Mix thoroughly, and after standing half an hour it is ready for use. Apply night and morning, rubbing into the scalp with the finger-tips. If you wish it perfumed, add half a teaspoonful of To-Kalon Perfume, which unites perfectly with the other ingredients. While this preparation is not a dye, it is unequalled for restoring gray hair to its original color.

Caution: Do not apply where hair is not desired and be sure to avoid tonics containing poisonous wood alcohol.
