MY KINGDOM FOR A SAIL. - Dr. Bud Desmond of Moncton, John Crossman and Royce Anderson, local lars, all "master mariners" went Thursday night of last week on a sand bar in Northumberland Strait. Time and tide in this case was anxiously awaited by man and on the flood Dr. Desmond's motor craft was set free from its anchorage. The three mariners left Burnt Church Thursday evening, Summerside, P. E. I. bound, on Friday, just two miles off the Summerside coast the engine "cooked-out" and the craft and crew were at the mercy of the high wind and rough sea. Tossed about all Friday night the crew ran out of prayers and donned the life-saving jackets. Daylight was a welcome sight Saturday morning. A rescue party brought the "sailors" ashore at Borden, P. E. I., and one member of the crew was heard to say "I am a land lubber the rest of my days." - Uncle H. says - "there's nothing like a sail to propel a craft over water." - North Shore Leader.

In Memoriam

MISS LOUISE MACDOUGALL

Her many friends and relatives were saddened and shocked to learn of the passing of a loved one in the person of Louise Ann MacDougall in her twenty-second year on Friday, July 30, 1948.

The deceased was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Neil MacDougall of Upper Prince Street, Charlottetown.

Although not in robust health for some time, she was able to be about and seemed well on the road to recovery until April of this year when she was stricken with the flu and entered the Prince Edward Island Hospital for treatment. She, however, soon returned home and was later advised by her physician to receive further treatment at the Provincial Sanatorium where some weeks later God called her to be at home with him.

The funeral service was held on Sunday afternoon, August 1st, from Trinity United Church, of which Louise was a member. The service, which was very largely attended, was conducted by Rev. Dr. Rice, assisted by Rev. R. J. Westaway of Cambridge, Mass. who was a close friend of the family. At the close of the service the lower-laden casket was borne to the Peoples Cemetery where she was laid to rest in the family plot. The pallbearers were: Blair MacRae, Keith Pickard, Stanley Machin, Winston Taylor, Hector MacNevin, and Claude Campbell.
