In Memoriam

MARGARET STELLA BLAQUIERE

The angel of death visited North Rustico on May 11, 1938, and cast a pall of sadness over the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Blaquiere, when their youngest daughter, Margaret Stella, age 19 years, went to meet her Divine Creator to receive her eternal reward, after a short illness of one month.

She was visited several times by her pastor, Rev. J. D. McNeill, who also administered Holy Viaticum, that source of grace and strength which enabled her to persevere till the end and to meet death bravely and with perfect resignation to the Divine Will.

The Mass Cards, spiritual offerings and messages of sympathy expressed the esteem in which she was held by her many friends.

Besides a sorrowing father and mother, she leaves to mourn five sisters, Genevieve (Mrs. Emile Gauthier); Marion (Mrs. Fred Gallant); Bernadette (Mrs. Earl Gallant); Maud (Mrs. Alyre Gallant and Dorothy and two brothers, James C., and Bertram all of North Rustico.

The funeral was largely attended. The remains, preceded by the Children of Mary, was taken to Stella Maris Church, where Requiem High Mass was sung by Rev. J. D. McNeill, who also conducted the service at the grave.

The pall bearers were Messrs. Richard Gauthier, Henry Pineau, Austin Peters, Augustin Gallant, Alvin Gallant and Ben Doiron. — R. I. P.

IRISHTOWN'S WOMEN'S INSTITUTE

The Irishtown Women's Institute met at the school on the 10th of May. Ten members were present, also several visitors. Roll call was responded to by naming "a favorite vegetable." Reports by various committees were made, also new committees appointed. The Institute has purchased a very pretty gas lamp for the school. A flagpole is to be erected on the school grounds in the near future. During the summer months, meetings will be held in the school. Next month's roll call "an exchange of quilt patterns. Program of readings and contests followed after which the National Anthem was sung. Meeting adjourned.

CARELESS CHILD MAY BE CAREFUL ADULT

All children are careless. Some more so than others.

The boy is nearly always intent on something very important at the moment. The girl is full of plans and is more likely to have a dozen irons in the fire at once.

Tommy cares little about being punctual. His rabbits are more urgent than food. Phyllis just had to walk home with Laura because they were making up after a quarrel, and Laura had asked her. Music practice could wait, but not her chum.

It is well to teach the creed of "stop, think, and then act," but in a dozen ways every day, we trust to the gods to step in while our own adult thoughts are wandering.

No one with common sense will say that carelessness is right, or that we should overlook it. But much of our scolding and reminding is merely unpleasant and not constructive. The adult always acts as though he or she had been a paragon of care and caution in his green youth. The caution of age comes only with the lessons of experience. It is not a natural virtue. The child will learn with our gentle help; and twith the help of his own misdeeds. The burned baby seldom touches the stove twice.

Late Selling Offsets Rally In New York

By FREDERICK GARDNER
Associated Press Financial Writer

NEW YORK, May 24—Late selling undermined the stock market today after early attempts at a rally had met with little success.

Minor gains and losses were about evenly divided until the final hour when a revival of European war fears and lack of substantial hopefulness in domestic trade developments prompted speculative quarters to lighten commitments.

The list did fairly well in the morning, but support was timid from the start. The ticker tape crawled during the greater part of the proceedings. Activity broadened a bit in the concluding hour and leading issues finished down fractions to a point or more.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks was off .5 of a point at 38.6. Transfers totalled 416,700 shares compared with 328,020 yesterday which was the smallest aggregate in around 4 years.

Selected steels tilted forward in initial dealings, along with favored coppers, utilities, rails and specialties. Few were able to emerge with even modest advances.

The break-up of Czech-German peace negotiations at Praha was followed by reports that Reich troops were again on the march to the border and recovery sentiment for stocks seemed to again undergo a chill.

Canadian issues were mostly inactive. International Nickel dropped a point to 44, McIntyre lost fractionally while Canadian Marconi showed minor improvement.

There were one or two bright spots on the economic picture. Building material stocks were helped by a jump in residential construction. Steels failed to make the grade notwithstanding a midwest survey indicated steel consumption in that territory was running well ahead of production.

ATTENTION FARMERS NEAR CHARLOTTETOWN

Those who have not already placed their fertilizer orders would be well advised to do so at once.

Last year prices advanced the day the last boat finished discharging as additional supplies had to be railed at considerably higher transportation costs. A boat is due Monday, May 23.

We have a supply of lime on hand and want seed and table stock potatoes and can truck back what you have for sale when delivering your fertilizer.

Have on hand one ton No. 1 Ontario timothy seed, priced very special, also a limited quantity of Nova Scotia registered Ditmar certified turnip seed.
