Miller's Worm Powders destroy worms without any inconvenience to the child, and so effectively that they pass through the body unperceived. They thoroughly cleanse the stomach and bowels and leave them in a condition not amenable to worms, and there will be no revival of the pests.

LAST TRIP OF SEASON.—The S.S. Canadian Miner which sailed yesterday morning at 8 o'clock on her last trip this season from Charlottetown to St. John's, Newfoundland, has had a wonderfully successful and satisfactory season not having lost a single animal or any of any kind on any of the trips. In Captain Blouie the steamer is fortunate in having a man who is singularly careful and particularly in regard to the safety and comfort of the live stock entrusted to his charge. When easterly winds prevailed, he took his ship through the strait of Canso, and in westerly winds he went around Cape North. The fact that during the season he carried over 1400 head of cattle, 280 horses and many sheep and poultry without the loss of a single one is something which has never been known before for generally a steamer even on a single trip is bound to have some loss. The agents here, Messrs. Buntain, Bell & Co., are certainly to be congratulated on the most satisfactory service maintained and no doubt next year there will be a considerable larger volume of trade between this province and the Ancient Colony. The labor union of Charlottetown are also to be commended for their splendid work towards towards making the service a success. They worked incessantly through storm and darkness and in every particular gave satisfaction, and this will no doubt be another factor working towards a good season next year. The steamer's outward cargo yesterday consisted of the following: 6390 bags of oats, 3080 bags potatoes, 100 boxes and bags of vegetables, 56 barrels of poultry, 268 boxes of butter, 6798 bales of hay, 20 boxes of cheese, 513 cases of eggs, 3 cases of celery, 54 boxes of meat, 117 qtrs beef, 6 carcasses of lamb, 8 hbls. oysters, 1 crate live geese, 8 head of cattle, 1 horse and 48 sheep. The principal shippers were Messrs J.S. Wedlock, Carvell Bros., Leonard Wood, Nelson Rattenbury, T.B. Woodman, Sims Packing Co., J.A. Farquharson, and Harris Abbott Co.

PAPER MONEY BLAMED FOR GRIP.—The epidemic of Spanish grip in a milder form than the usual run of disease, which is now sweeping through France, is blamed by the doctors on the recent enormous increases in the amount of paper money in circulation. Small bills are especially condemned because they change hands so often that they become filthy in a few days and are then perfect germ carriers.

CHAMBERLAIN'S

ASSISTS NATURE

A cold is the attempt of nature to rid the system of the poisons, which result either from a sudden chill closing the pores of the skin or from germs. The sensible way to treat this condition is to take Chamberlain's Cough Remedy which loosens the secretions and assists nature in restoring the system to a healthy condition. 35c. and 65c.

COUGH REMEDY

War Veterans Column

ADDRESS CORRESPONDENCE TO WAR VETERANS COLUMN, P.O. BOX 385, CHARLOTTETOWN

WARNING TO OTHERS.—The soldiers met by accident in the market place of a French town. They had been to a little concert and were not quite so clear headed as they might have been. The second found the first gazing up at a lighted window on the top floor of a tall building. Said the first: "There's something peculiar about the moon to-night, ain't there?" "That's not the moon," said the second: "It's the sun!" "Get out!" "Corse it is—the moon ain't up yet." They argued the point for some little time, each convinced that he was right. Eventually a third man entered on the scene. "Ere," said the first: "ere's another bloke; let's ask him." On being asked, the third man stared, puzzled at the light, and then shook his head doubtfully. "Sorry," he said, "I haven't the faintest idea—you see, I'm a stranger in these parts!"

OUR AIM.—The main object we have in writing this column is to try and make it useful to our comrades. We trust that our column will make use of the column in any way that we can, in either asking for information or making known their opinion on any subject. Please address us as above directed.

ST. ANDREWS DAY.—In response to the toast of the War Veterans Association at the St. Andrews dinner Comrade MacNutt stated that as the objects of the Association were often misunderstood he would set forth briefly the main objects, which should be known to all people. They are as follows:—To perpetuate the close and kindly ties of mutual service learned and undergone overseas, and to maintain a proper standard of dignity between all returned men. To preserve the memory of our comrades who made the great sacrifice, and to use our influence to see that suitable monuments are erected to their memory, to ensure that proper provision is made for our maimed, sick and needy comrades, and to see that reasonable pensions are given to the mothers, wives and orphans of our fallen comrades. To always maintain and inculcate a spirit of patriotism and loyalty to Canada, a spirit of patriotism and loyalty to the Empire and a spirit of loyalty to our King who sits on the Throne, who is after all the Key Stone of that great Arch, that immutable arch—the British Empire. To impress upon our members that they are to continue to serve Canada and the Empire in the time of peace in the same spirit of sacrifice and loyalty as they did in the time of war.

VETERANS MEETING.—The regular meeting of local branch of G. W. V. A. will be held in the Home Friday night 10th inst. at 8 o'clock. Executive meeting at 7.15

HOME FOR AGED.—Some two or three months ago we reminded our readers that Halifax had a home for the aged some forty years ago. We hope that some of our wealthy and kind hearted men will take steps to see that Charlottetown does not linger longer in this very important matter.

VETERANS MUST PAY.—BOSTON, Dec. 2.—Men who fought with the Allied forces in the war and now live here must pay part of the bonus given by the state to its service men. This was the announcement by City Collector

Frank S. Deland, of his attitude toward the reported decisions by organizations of British and Canadian veterans to refuse to pay the combination poll and bonus tax this year because United States veterans are exempt.

WAR MEMORIAL.—The following is condensed from the "Architectural Record" which is the leading American Architectural journal published in the United States, and we publish same in the hopes that it may prove of interest to all those who are interested in seeing a suitable memorial to our fallen comrades erected in Charlottetown. Let us get as many views on the subject as possible.

Among the ultra-conservative notions which we are fortunately gradually discarding is that war memorial must be arches or columns or fountains or worse yet set images in uniform that promptly go out of date.

Size, value or beauty will not remove a monument, but the danger of this forgetfulness of the part of the very children of those who erected it, children brought up in the awe of its splendor and of the deeds which they record.

The Parisian walks past the Arc de l'Étoile, wonderful monument that it is, as free from impressive memories of ourselves—pass the numerous monuments that have been placed in public squares such as the Worth monument or even to our shame, he it said—the Washington Arch itself.

A way must be found to oblige us to keep fresh the memory of the deeds of our men in the World War. What shall it be? If the monument is given a purpose, however slight, that of a flagpole, of a lamp standard, of a public fountain, there is some hope that its usefulness will occasionally bring to mind the reasons for its existence. It is the monument falls in the field of sculpture, and assuming that it is as good a least as the Sherman Memorial at the Plaza, or the Shaw Memorial in Boston, we have the advantage of life and movement, of the satisfaction of real beauty and memory at once gets busy, thus preventing the dusty staleness of inscription loaded columns and obelisks.

A better solution is seen in a different direction—that of the useful memorial.

Our smaller towns by the thousand need a point of concentration of public interest let that be a community house erected as a memorial to the sons given to the cause. Let each such house contain a memorial hall or corridor, so placed that all who enter must pass through this place of memory, or else that the forgetting of the people take place in the presence of trophies and other visible emblems of the struggle.

In a great city, why not a memorial stadium, driveway or park? Why not a memorial playground or recreation structure for the children of those who fell in battle. Why not memorial branch libraries or bridges or municipal towers or art galleries.

If then the idea of memorial is properly understood by the artist and adequately incorporated by him in the useful structure, this lasting purpose of the building will insure the lasting memory of the men and deeds that made its erection worth while.

Evidence of Prosperity

New business written by the life insurance companies of Canada last year, as reported at Ottawa, reflects a very satisfactory condition in the country. The gross new business issued and paid for in cash in 1919 is given as $524,543,629, as compared with $313,251,556 in 1918.

Life insurance returns of this kind are most interesting as an index to the general state of the people. All classes are represented in the number taking out life insurance policies. The degree of thrift obtaining is also recorded to a material extent in figures which tell of the number who have decided to save in this manner.

An echo of the dread influenza epidemic is found in the fact that of the net death claims in 1919, 17.69 per cent was due to the ravages of the "flu" in the earlier part of the year. The increases in net amount of risks from $1,394,823,308 to $1,712,062,023, and insurances from $291,035,397 to $321,027,592, show that the life insurance business in Canada continues as a pillar of the national financial structure, showing soundness and strength.

Evidence of prosperity is to be found not only in statistics telling of money saved, but in figures showing the healthy development of the habit of economy which life insurance inculcates.

who was a good neighbor and a kind and genial friend. He will be especially missed both in the home and the community, because of the fact that up to the time of his illness which lasted about three months, which he bore with patience, he enjoyed good health and led an active out of door life, being a familiar figure to his many friends and acquaintances and at every one.
