OTTAWA, May 30 (CP)—The Government, by order-in-council, has agreed to reduce the over-all cost of the construction program under the Canadian Army School of the Veterans Land Act by $1,000,000. It was learned today that the reduction will benefit those veterans who wish to take up homes built by the Act on small plots of ground on the outskirts of cities and towns. The small holdings were designed to aid veterans in low-income brackets by giving them a chance to do part-time farming, bee-keeping or other things. Veterans now will get their small holdings for varying amounts less than they actually cost the act administration. W. S. Woods, deputy minister in charge of the program, said that the reduction of the cost of the act will be "reasonable sales values" in each case. Mr. Murchison has reported that construction of homes under the clause has reached the point where completed units are available to veterans. He asked for adjustments to enable veterans to move into the order-in-council empowers him "to arrange sales to veterans in advance of the completion of the cost of which is in excess of $6,000 — the Act's ceiling on the basis of a minimum down payment of $800.

JUDY GARLAND TOPS DAZZLING CAST IN THE HARVEY GIRLS

An overflowing cinema cornucopia of plenty—music, romance, laughter, drama, thrills—Judy Garland and John HodiaK—Ray Bolger, Angela Lansbury, Preston Foster, Virginia O'Brien, Kenny Baker, Marjorie Main, Chill Willis—in Technicolor! The musical "The Harvey Girls" on the Capitol screen, the greatest "rootin'-tootin'" wild west musical ever to come off Hollywood's stages.

Not an entertainment device or opportunity has been missed in this story of a small western frontier town which finds itself face to face with law, order and civilization in the persons of pretty Harvey House waitresses. No documentary account of the early days of the Santa Fe Railroad, it nevertheless takes its story inspiration from some of the earliest experiences of the famous chain of Harvey Eating Houses that pioneered the west at the side of the Santa Fe.

Celebrating their seventieth year in 1946, the now famous Harvey Houses are a colorful chapter in that part of American history devoted to the winning of the west. Their unique systems of feeding trailblazers and travelers, together with the attractiveness of their waitresses, provides ideal story material.

Back again in musicals after an outstanding dramatic performance in "The Clock" Judy Garland makes the perfect heroine for this story of the 1890's. What she did vocally for the trolley car in "Meet Me in St. Louis" she repeats in the interest of the steam-train in a hit number, "The Atchison, Topeka and the Santa Fe."

Britain Expands

After 108 years of personal rule by the "White Rajahs," the independent state of Sarawak, in northern Borneo, becomes part of the British Empire. Sir Charles Vyner Brooke (top), present "White Rajah," has just destroyed his realm, shown on map below, to the British Crown. In 1899 the first white rajah, James Brooke, was elected to rule the country by the people and the native Rajah Mude, whose subjects proved more than he could handle. Brooke governed, financed and controlled Sarawak singlehanded. His nephew, Charles Brooke, succeeded on his death in 1868, and when he died, in 1917, the present rajah took over.

Dedicate New Organ At Kensington Church

Last Sunday morning a large congregation attended the service at Kensington United Church. The minister, Rev. Lewis M. Murray, after the invocation, formally dedicated in a very impressive ceremony the new Mitchell electric organ to the glory of God.

This being Rural Life Sunday, the minister chose for his theme, "Why Boys Leave the Farm" taking his text from the parable of the Prodigal Son, and delivered a most inspiring and thought-provoking message. The choir sang the anthem "Sing Unto the Lord" by Simper.

The evening service was again largely attended when the minister took for his theme "The Ministry of Music," the text being "I will praise you with my whole heart; I will show forth all Thy marvelous works. I will be glad and rejoice, and I will sing unto you, O Thy name, O Thou most high." Psalm 9:1-2. He spoke of the value and importance of music in the home, in the church and in the life of the individual.

"Music can touch depths in the heart that words or actions cannot touch. Music playing upon the soul can break down barriers, settle differences, heal broken hearts, stir consciences, cleanse the emotions, move the will. The person who meditates on the goodness of God will find his heart burning into songs of praise to God. He will want to tell others about what the Lord has done for his soul. His heart will rejoice."

A male choir of over twenty voices led in the service of praise and thanksgiving. The choir sang "Gates Lift Up Your Heads on High."

A sacred concert followed the evensong and the following program was given: Organ solo: "Twilight Shadows" —John H. Walker. Chorus by male choir: "Take Time to be Holy".

Duet: "Near to the Heart of God" —MacKenzie and Russell Mackay. Quartet: "Art Thou Weary?" —Rev. Lewis M. Murray, Messrs. Russell Mackay, Harry Brown and W. F. Taylor.

Chorus by male choir: "Will You Anchor Your Heart in Me?" —"The Lost Chord"—D. Roscoe Walker.

National Anthem. Miss Helen H. Walker, organist, presided during the services of the day. The minister at both services gave hearty expression of his appreciation to the choir and church organists.

6 Graduate From P. C. Hospital

Six young ladies received their diplomas at the graduation exercises of the Prince County Hospital held in the Summerside High School auditorium last evening.

The graduates were: Miss Mary Brotherton, Summerside; Miss Bernice Hanson, Tyne Valley; Miss Virginia MacLellan, Souris; Miss Mildred Lovther, Carleton Place; Miss Eileen Compton, St. Eleanors; Miss Etina MacKenzie, Summerside.

Mr. O. R. Rogers, president of the Board of Trustees presided. In his opening remarks he said that the three years spent in training by the graduates have been the most arduous in the life of the graduates and he wished them all the happiness in their chosen profession.

The Florence Nightingale pledge was administered by Rev. William Blison of the Church of Christ.

The prizes were presented to the graduates by Dr. J. F. McNeil and prizes to the students by Rev. Howard Wright.

Mr. Rogers announced that the annual statement of the affairs of the hospital would not be read this time, but had been custom in the past, but would be given at the annual meeting of the hospital on June 13. At that time, a report on the financial drive would also be given.

Addresses Graduates The address to the graduates was given by Rev. Charles Carnegie, pastor of the Summerside Presbyterian Church. In his opening remarks he said that the clergy have singular opportunities to judge the patience, personality, tact and of a good nurse. Never in his experience in the ministry, he said, has he received more kindly courtesy and more helpful cooperation in visiting the sick than from the nurses and staff of the Prince County Hospital.

To the graduates he said, "Tonight in the receipt of your diplomas and hospital pins, you will be officially recognized, by those who know your qualifications and training, as members of a most noble profession and we, your relatives and friends, are here to offer you our most hearty congratulations on that recognition and to your rigorous and self-sacrificing years of training. But our thoughts, as I am certain, are also yours, for so much of the past and of your training, but of the future, of what lies ahead of you now that you are graduate nurses, have already said that these proceedings you are officially recognized as members of a most noble profession. Always remember that. Never allow yourselves to think of nursing merely as a means of earning a living. The salary or compensation that you will receive for all the care and skill with which you will attend a patient is, of course, a necessary consideration, but surely a secondary one. Your primary concern must always be the release from pain and the quiet, of mind that you by your professional qualifications can bring to one who is under your care and who at the time is in desperate need. Of your own choice you are now enrolled in this noble profession. Let it be your constant endeavor to live up to the glorious tradition of the blessed and tender art of nursing."

In conclusion, the speaker offered his most hearty congratulations to the graduates and wished them all that is best in the pursuit of their careers.

Mayor Arnett His Worship, Mayor J. F. Arnett spoke briefly. He said during the years of the British Government and have often been weary and discouraged but now they were being rewarded and are now qualified to carry on the work of their chosen profession.

Mr. Rogers announced that the annual statement of the affairs of the hospital would not be read this time, but had been custom in the past, but would be given at the annual meeting of the hospital on June 13. At that time, a report on the financial drive would also be given.

Addresses Graduates The address to the graduates was given by Rev. Charles Carnegie, pastor of the Summerside Presbyterian Church. In his opening remarks he said that the clergy have singular opportunities to judge the patience, personality, tact and of a good nurse. Never in his experience in the ministry, he said, has he received more kindly courtesy and more helpful cooperation in visiting the sick than from the nurses and staff of the Prince County Hospital.

To the graduates he said, "Tonight in the receipt of your diplomas and hospital pins, you will be officially recognized, by those who know your qualifications and training, as members of a most noble profession and we, your relatives and friends, are here to offer you our most hearty congratulations on that recognition and to your rigorous and self-sacrificing years of training. But our thoughts, as I am certain, are also yours, for so much of the past and of your training, but of the future, of what lies ahead of you now that you are graduate nurses, have already said that these proceedings you are officially recognized as members of a most noble profession. Always remember that. Never allow yourselves to think of nursing merely as a means of earning a living. The salary or compensation that you will receive for all the care and skill with which you will attend a patient is, of course, a necessary consideration, but surely a secondary one. Your primary concern must always be the release from pain and the quiet, of mind that you by your professional qualifications can bring to one who is under your care and who at the time is in desperate need. Of your own choice you are now enrolled in this noble profession. Let it be your constant endeavor to live up to the glorious tradition of the blessed and tender art of nursing."

In conclusion, the speaker offered his most hearty congratulations to the graduates and wished them all that is best in the pursuit of their careers.

Mayor Arnett His Worship, Mayor J. F. Arnett spoke briefly. He said during the years of the British Government and have often been weary and discouraged but now they were being rewarded and are now qualified to carry on the work of their chosen profession.

Potato Plant To Close Down Today

At the close of the day's work this evening the potato dehydration plant owned by Island Foods Inc. in Summerside will cease operations for the season and will have completed its third full year of operation. During the year 600 tons of dehydrated potatoes were produced, which represents about 18,000 bushels of raw potatoes or 250 car loads. This production was made notwithstanding the fact that the plant was shut down from November 23rd to January 2nd when the contract has temporarily cancelled by the British Ministry of Food. Up now the entire output of the plant has been under contract to this branch of the British Government and this year all of the product was sent to Germany to feed British Army of Occupation troops.

Whether this contract will be renewed in the fall is not known at present. In any event, the management is on the lookout for new markets either in Canada or by export on this depends the future of an industry which last year paid out approximately $8,000,000 in wages, certainly a most important factor in the economy of the town the size of Summerside. While operating at capacity which was most of the time, 160 persons, mostly women, were employed. A few of these will be kept on for an indefinite time.

While operating a Dominion Government inspector daily draws samples from the production and gives a certificate in keeping with his findings. Last year almost 98 per cent of the output was "fancy" which is the highest grade and the remainder was "choice" which is the second highest grade.
