

The Central Guardian

This column is reserved for news of local interest but advertising of a wavy nature may be inserted at a cents a word strictly payable in advance.

BUYING dressed Chicken and fowl daily. F. B. Conrad. L-3974-11-19-31.

POLICE COURT—In the Police Court Saturday a man in whose room in a boarding house a quantity of smuggled American cigarettes were found was fined $50. His Honor reserved his decision on the assessing of duty amounting to over $500. A drunk man failed to appear had his bail bond forfeited. Another drunk was fined $5 and the defendant in a sanitary by law case fined $2 and costs.

PERSONALS

Miss Margaret Callaghan left Saturday morning on return to her home in Quebec after a pleasant visit to friends in this province.

Hon. U. W. Comeau, Commaulville, Digby Co., N. S., arrived in Charlottetown Saturday. He is staying at the Canadian National Hotel.

Mr. R. L. McClure, Chairman of the Charlottetown Board of Trade, returned from the Maritime Board of Trade annual meeting at Halifax on Saturday evening. Dr. J. A. Clark returned on Friday.

Rev. Edward Meyer, C.S.S.R., of St. Peter's Community, St. John N.B., arrived in the City Saturday and is at present a guest at the Redemptorist Rectory. Rev. Father Meyer, with another missionary, who will arrive this week, will give a two weeks mission, which opens at Holy Redeemer Church at the High Mass next Sunday morning.

STOREY-MCLEOD

A very pretty wedding was solemnized at the Presbyterian Church, North Tryon on Wednesday evening, November 20th, at eight o'clock, when Miss Irene Storey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Storey, Charlottetown, became the bride of Mr. Ivan McLeod, also of this City, son of Mrs. M. E. Genge, North Tryon. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Dr. Genge.

The church was beautifully decorated with ferns and other potted plants. As the bride entered on the arm of her father, by whom she was given away, Leohengrin's Bridal Chorus was played by her sister, Mrs. J. F. Connolly. The bride wore a dainty dress of beige crepe trimmed with brown tulle and accessories to match. She carried a bouquet of pink Talsman roses with maiden hair fern. Her sister, Miss Isabel, who attended her wore a green crepe dress with black accessories and a corsage bouquet of Talsman roses. The groom was attended by his brother, Mr. Monroe McLeod. After the wedding a dainty buffet luncheon was served at the Manse, at which were present the immediate relatives of the bride and groom, Mrs. E. W. Campbell and Mrs. J. F. Connolly presided at the table. Mrs. John McKay, Miss Isabel Storey and Miss Lila Vaughan served.

The young couple were the recipients of many beautiful and useful gifts, attesting to their popularity. They will reside at Orwell, where they will carry with them the best wishes of their numerous friends for many long years of happy married life.

QUEBEC VOTERS

(Continued from Page 1)

withdrawal after nomination day of an opposing candidate, all government candidates will be opposed. Independent Liberals are responsible for a number of three and four-cornered contests. The election campaign got underway quietly but things warmed up as voting day approached. Demonstrations of the best to break up the number of Liberal meetings and were successful at Chicoutimi. There, a rally scheduled to be addressed by Hon. Hector Laferte, Speaker of the Legislative Council, never got started.

Demonstrators pulled the windows of the hall with sticks and stones and forced police to release four hecklers they had lodged in the cells. Here one of Premier Taschereau's meetings was interrupted by the smashing of several large windows with frozen potatoes and tomatoes.

At St. Anne Des Monts, Hon. John Hall Kelly, legislative councillor and minister without portfolio, had difficulty to get a hearing and was struck by a snowball.

Members of the merged Conservative-A.N. party were without incident.

Search Renewed For Sir Charles Kingsford Smith

(A. P. By Guardian's Special Wire) SINGAPORE, Nov. 24.—Fresh reports that Sir Charles Kingsford-Smith's plane was seen crashing in the jungles of Siam sent the Royal Air Force on a renewed search today for the Australian pilot and his co-pilot, Tom Petybridge. Natives of the village of Setul, Siam, near Perils, reported witnessing the crash-up. The search will be concentrated on the border of Siam and Malaya.

Another search is in progress on Sayer Island, off the Siamese coast, for the fliers who vanished two weeks ago attempting an England-to-Australia flight. They were last seen over the bay of Bengal in a storm.

Captain Hussey, commander of a plane which flew over Sayer Island, said he saw footprints on the sand. The Straits Steamship Company ordered the steamship Matang to send landing parties to the island.

Autonomy Coup In North China

(Continued from Page 1)

The manifesto continued "We solemnly declare we are absolutely opposed to any movement seeking to detach any region of China from the jurisdiction of the Central Government, or to set up special organs in such regions."

The document was signed by Dr. Hu Shih, often called "China's outstanding thinker," and the heads of Yenching and Tsinghua Universities.

The Central Government's silver nationalization program was assailed by Yin's proclamation, which also pointed to the asserted need of combating the Red "menace" in the North.

Besides the 18 counties within the original demilitarized zone of Hopei Province, the autonomous area includes seven others, in which there are no large cities.

The largest foreign interest in the zone is the Sino-British Kailan mine at Chinwangtao, on the northeastern coast of the Province.

MARTIAL LAW

TIENSIN, Nov. 24.—Virtual martial law prevailed in the Chinese City here tonight as municipal authorities sought to check the activities of autonomist agitators who were threatening to get out of control.

Chinese authorities claimed the self-government advocates had hired scores of gunmen for the purpose of creating outbreaks in various parts of the city following which the agitators planned to demand control of government offices.

They said posters and handbills advocating autonomy had been broadcast throughout the city from automobiles allegedly bearing the Japanese emblem.

CONCERT FETTER

WASHINGTON, Nov. 24.—State Department officials received with concern today reports that an autonomous government had been proclaimed in Eastern Hopei Province in North China. None would comment publicly.

MONTEAL WELCOMES GOVERNOR - GENERAL

Lord and Lady Tweedsmuir Capture Hearts Of French-Canadians. Is Honoured By McGill University.

(Continued from Page 1)

try is composed. I would not say that I have succeeded as much as I would have liked, and as much as I had hoped, but the thought is sincere and it will finally triumph."

It was a different man who appeared before the Canadian Club less than an hour after he had inspected a Guard of Honor from the Royal Canadian Black Watch Highlanders; received the official greeting from the city and acknowledged the cheers and waves from crowds which marked the route from Windsor station to the City Hall.

"Stupidity of the clever," might well be the subject of his remarks from which Lord Tweedsmuir said he wished to draw the moral; never distrust the instinct and judgment of the ordinary man.

The ordinary man might not be able to defend his views or prophecies by detailed argument, he said, but the whole basis of democracy was the "belief that the whole people in any great question are generally more nearly right than any aristocracy or clerical."

All through history, he said, would be found that the very clever people, when they forecast the future, are nearly always wrong. It was the plain man who was far more often right.

Only minutes later Lord Tweedsmuir again was back in formal dress. In the privacy of McGill University he received from Chancellor Sir Edward Beatty the honorary degree of Doctor of Laws; heard himself again described by Sir Edward and Principal A. E. Morgan as a man eminently suited for his high office through his generous contribution to educational, civil, military and political life.

Interesting Story

MONTEAL, Nov. 24.—Lord Tweedsmuir maintained his reputation as a noted raconteur during his visit to Montreal.

To the Canadian Club he said: "Let me tell you a story which I do not think has ever been told before: The great Lord Salisbury was in the habit of driving down to cabinet meetings with his wife, and being met by her and driving home in the evening. During Mr. Disraeli's last government, as he drove home one evening, he told Lady Salisbury there was danger of a cabinet crisis. 'The Prime Minister,' he said, 'wants to do something perfectly ridiculous. We discussed it today, and I think I have cursed his arguments to bits. So did my colleagues, but he was as obstinate as a mule. I have decided that unless he is prepared to give up his scheme, I must resign. Tomorrow we are having another cabinet meeting, and it will be very critical.'

Next night Lady Salisbury, when she called for him, asked anxiously what had happened. 'Have you got your way?' she asked. He answered 'No.' 'Then, are you going to resign?' Again he said 'No. This is what happened.'

The Prime Minister again brought forward his scheme and again we riddled it with criticism. We did not leave him a leg to stand on. But he was as obstinate as ever, and declared that at all costs he meant to go through with it. So I said to myself, 'if you have a man as able as Mr. Disraeli, who has a scheme which he cannot defend, and which he is still determined to go on with, then he must be right.'

I am not absolutely certain what the scheme was (said Lord Tweedsmuir drolly), but if it was the purchase of the Suez Canal shares, then it was not exactly a political blunder."

The ordinary man might not be able to defend his views or prophecies by detailed argument, he said, but the whole basis of democracy was the "belief that the whole people in any great question are generally more nearly right than any aristocracy or clerical."

All through history, he said, would be found that the very clever people, when they forecast the future, are nearly always wrong. It was the plain man who was far more often right.

Only minutes later Lord Tweedsmuir again was back in formal dress. In the privacy of McGill University he received from Chancellor Sir Edward Beatty the honorary degree of Doctor of Laws; heard himself again described by Sir Edward and Principal A. E. Morgan as a man eminently suited for his high office through his generous contribution to educational, civil, military and political life.

ELECTION HIGHLIGHTS

(Canadian Press)

(By Guardian's Special Wire) Electors of Quebec got to the polls today to vote in provincial general elections. Following were the outstanding facts of the contesting parties closed their campaigns until Sunday meetings.

Constituencies—90. Contests—87. Acclamations—Lucien Lamoureux, Iberville; J. C. A. Turotte, Richelieu; Peter Bercovitch, Montreal St. Louis, all Liberals.

Withdrawals since nomination day—5. Candidates in running—206. Government—Liberal.

Opposition—Alliance of Conservative and Action Libérale Nationale parties.

Other groups—Independent-Liberal; 30; Independent Conservative, one; Labor, 2; Independent, 5; Labor-Liberal, 1.

Premier—L. Alexander Taschereau. Opposition leaders—Maurice Duplessis, Conservative; Paul Gouin, Action Libérale Nationale.

Polls open—9 a. m. Polls close—6 p. m. Women have no vote.

CLASS OR JAILS

JOHANNESBURG, Nov. 23.—(C.P.)—Commenting on native education on the Reef at a recent synod meeting the Anglican Bishop of Johannesburg said: "If money is not spent on building classrooms now it will have to be spent on building jails later on."

BAMPTON, England, Nov. 23.—(C.P.)—Prices ranging from $35 to $55 for Exmoor ponies were general at the historic Bampton Fair which originated 800 years ago.

A man walked into the store of the Nixon Oliver Drug Company, Lebanon, Tenn., the other day and asked for "four ounces of Literary Digest for indigestion."—Parke, Davis, and Company's Bulletin.

Declaring that suffering from incurable disease is useless and often degrading, Lord Moylhan, English doctor and president of the Royal College of Surgeons, shown above, is leading a movement, rapidly gaining a foothold in Britain, to give people "the right to die." Lord Moylhan plans to bring the bill, which he has drawn up personally before parliament.

MEMORIAL SERVICE FOR EARL JELICOE

A memorial service was held yesterday afternoon in St. Peter's Cathedral at the request of the Charlottetown Branch of the Canadian Legion for Admiral of the Fleet, Earl Jellicoe, until his death Grand President of the British Empire Service League.

The service was attended by His Honour, the Lieutenant Governor and his staff, Acting Premier, the Honourable B. W. LePage and His Worship Mayor Kennedy, O. B. E. Members of the local Legion Branch paraded to the Cathedral, and a large number of other citizens were also present.

On the arrival of the Lieutenant Governor the first part of the National Anthem was played on the organ.

The Rev. Canon Malone, M. A., vested in a black cope and attended by cross bearer officiated. The service commenced with the opening sentence from the Burial Service and the De Profundis Psalm, no. 130 which was followed by the petition "Grant him, O Lord, eternal life and let light perpetual shine upon him."

A short lesson was then read commencing with the 37th verse of the 6th chapter of Saint John, after which was sung the hymn "Now the Labourer's Task is O'er."

The text chosen for the address was the words, "They put themselves in jeopardy, and resting the enemies of their nation did their nation great honour." After reviewing the life of service of Earl Jellicoe to his country, the speaker said the text chosen was a most fitting one for a memorial service to the great admiral. The hymn "O'er" was then sung, which was followed by Prayers and the Grace, after which the beautiful Russian anthem for the Departed was sung.

After the service the members of the Legion marched back to their home. The Union Jack was as usual at the head of the parade.

The Dominion Command of the Canadian Legion B. E. S. L. requested the Provincial Command to ask all branches of the Legion to hold suitable memorial services for the revered Grand President of the British Empire Service League, which is organized in all parts of the Empire, and which the Prince of Wales has described as "the biggest British institution which exists."

The members of the Legion wish to thank the Rev. Canon Malone for his kindness in having the service at St. Peter's Cathedral.

A man walked into the store of the Nixon Oliver Drug Company, Lebanon, Tenn., the other day and asked for "four ounces of Literary Digest for indigestion."—Parke, Davis, and Company's Bulletin.

Declaring that suffering from incurable disease is useless and often degrading, Lord Moylhan, English doctor and president of the Royal College of Surgeons, shown above, is leading a movement, rapidly gaining a foothold in Britain, to give people "the right to die." Lord Moylhan plans to bring the bill, which he has drawn up personally before parliament.

Danger From Lava Flow Lessens

(A. P. By Guardian's Special Wire) HILO, Hawaii, Nov. 24.—Mauna Loa's red hot lava crept toward Hilo with renewed strength today but no alarm was felt because almost flat table land lay in its path.

In some places the fiery flood was surging along at 25 miles an hour, said ranger Kenneth Williams and Bob Lee on the volcanic park staff, who visited the eruption point yesterday. Its speed diminished as it cooled, however.

Observers said the cooling process and the gradually levelling contour ahead would stop the flow. It was nearly 40 miles from Hilo then.

OTTAWA QUIET

(Continued from Page 1)

who will lead the official Opposition in the next parliament, left two weeks ago for Calgary and, after a few days in his constituency, proceeded to California on the first rest holiday he has known for a number of years.

Outstanding in the immediate program of the government is the Dominion - Provincial Conference which opens two weeks from tomorrow. Arrangements are going forward under the direction of John Read, legal adviser to the Department of External Affairs. The agenda will not be made public for a week or so.

On Program

Constitutional jurisdiction as between provinces and the Dominion will be one of the main headings in the conference program and will be closely linked with problems of relief and re-employment. The matter of financial aid to the provinces will also figure largely. Most of the sessions will be held in camera.

Problems to which the government is giving close attention and on which official announcements are expected shortly include the trade difficulties existing between Canada and Japan, which started when the former government refused to comply with Japan's request that currency dumping duties and other artificial trade barriers between the two countries be removed. It has been learned that a practical basis for compromise has been reached.

Trade With Russia?

Reports that the government was considering resumption of trade with Russia lacked any official basis. Minister of Justice Lapointe acting Prime Minister, stated yesterday that he knew nothing of the matter apart from what he had read in the newspapers.

There has been no denial, however, that Russia would be included in the administration's program of trade expansion and one minister

A NEW WORLD OF GALA Entertainment. Globe Trot with RCA Victor for a new world of fascinating entertainment. To the proven Globe Trotter chassis, the RCA Victor engineers have added further refinements and improvements to bring a new high performance standard to all-wave radio. Hear what this better performance means in range—power—Tone Quality. You'll not only be amazed by the extreme ease and accuracy of tuning in foreign stations and the American short wave programs, but you will be thrilled with tone of remarkable clarity and realism. We carry a wide choice of models... at prices to meet every purse!

MILLER BROS. Ltd.

with METAL TUBES. MODEL C5-2 $89.00. with colorband dial and 12" super-sensitive speaker, extended music range, beautiful walnut-veneered cabinet. $5 DOWN places this marvellous new Globe Trotter in your home...to-day!

Proficiency of Chatterbox Pete, white Leghorn rooster, which won Massachusetts State Fair honors for William Plitt, Natick, N.Y., farmer, caused him to get offer to broadcast. He'll probably appear on an amateur hour.

was quoted as declaring "we want to trade with every country." Now that British general elections have been held and the new government installed, it may be expected that negotiations will be opened with the United Kingdom for new trading arrangements, paving the way for renewal in 1937 of the Ottawa Pacts of 1932. Premier King said some weeks ago that only for the incidence of the British general elections he would have visited that country on a trade mission before going to United States.

It is not thought likely, however, as was rumored in a London cable, the Prime Minister will visit London before the parliamentary session. His associates here stated they had no knowledge that the Prime Minister planned a visit to England in the near future.

was quoted as declaring "we want to trade with every country." Now that British general elections have been held and the new government installed, it may be expected that negotiations will be opened with the United Kingdom for new trading arrangements, paving the way for renewal in 1937 of the Ottawa Pacts of 1932. Premier King said some weeks ago that only for the incidence of the British general elections he would have visited that country on a trade mission before going to United States.

It is not thought likely, however, as was rumored in a London cable, the Prime Minister will visit London before the parliamentary session. His associates here stated they had no knowledge that the Prime Minister planned a visit to England in the near future.

was quoted as declaring "we want to trade with every country." Now that British general elections have been held and the new government installed, it may be expected that negotiations will be opened with the United Kingdom for new trading arrangements, paving the way for renewal in 1937 of the Ottawa Pacts of 1932. Premier King said some weeks ago that only for the incidence of the British general elections he would have visited that country on a trade mission before going to United States.

It is not thought likely, however, as was rumored in a London cable, the Prime Minister will visit London before the parliamentary session. His associates here stated they had no knowledge that the Prime Minister planned a visit to England in the near future.

was quoted as declaring "we want to trade with every country." Now that British general elections have been held and the new government installed, it may be expected that negotiations will be opened with the United Kingdom for new trading arrangements, paving the way for renewal in 1937 of the Ottawa Pacts of 1932. Premier King said some weeks ago that only for the incidence of the British general elections he would have visited that country on a trade mission before going to United States.

League Sanctions Committee May Postpone Meeting

(Continued from Page 1)

Geneva as part of France's obligations to the League of Nations, if other nations are favorable to it. France is not an oil exporting nation and does not produce enough coal for her own needs. Protests against sanctions are growing in French business circles.

Ambassador Cerruti called upon Laval yesterday but officials said he was merely keeping contact and that "nothing new" had arisen.

BOYCOTT SANCTIONIST COUNCIL. ROME, Nov. 24.—(A.P.)—Italian resistance to sanctions swelled to new proportions today as millions of pledges to boycott sanctions were being rolled into the capital. Two huge Fascist organizations gave their word to stand by Il Duce.

Premier Mussolini and the British Ambassador, Sir Eric Drummond, had another 20-minute conference last night. "Contact is still being maintained," was the only comment from Government sources.

Diplomatic circles see much significance in constant ambassadorial visits, particularly in Paris. Papal Nuncio Magliano and the Italian Ambassador, Vittorio Cerruti, talked there again. Notes were received from Great Britain and France yesterday saying they would lead to sanctions despite Italy's protest against them and a Franco-British boycott sprang into life.

Regional leaders of Fascism, declared its 2,333,545 members had ceased to use products of sanctioned countries. The industrial corporation, one of 22 forming Italy's "corporate state," pledged its 2,194,961 adherents to resist sanctions "to the extreme limit."

Crown Prince Umberto himself ordered all foreign-made clothes eliminated from his extensive wardrobe and Italian-made suits of Italian cloth substituted. A government spokesman said Italy would await the League of Nations' next move before considering the question of withdrawal from Geneva. Speculation concerning the possibility of Italy's resignation if the sanctions list is expanded to include oil, coal, iron and steel he termed "speculative."

The British and French replies to Italy's sanctions protest were described by an official source as "routine." In any case it was asserted, they would alter Italy's program of defensive retaliation.

Cautious Trend On Montreal Exchange

(C. P. By Guardian's Special Wire) MONTREAL, Nov. 24.—Prices stepped cautiously forward on Montreal Stock Exchange Saturday as buyers kept a weather eye on Wall Street where rapid selling flurries depressed values late Friday.

The market ended with a large number of issues resting near new high levels reached during the week. Bulls found ammunition in declarations of renewed and extra dividends as well as payments on arrears. Paper stocks continued firm under impetus of reports of an improved statistical position in the newspaper industry and Henry Smith preferred gained nearly 1/2 and Smith Common, Dryden and Bathurst held steady.

Declaration of a dividend boosted Montreal Cottons preferred a couple of points and Canadian advanced—more than a point. Calumet wrung off fractionally while Bruck Silk yielded narrowly.

DEATHS

LORINERS AT CHURCH. LONDON, Nov. 23.—(C.P.)—White shirt fronts glistened in the heart members of the Worshipful Company of Loriners went to a church service at St. Lawrence, Jewry, before their dinner at the Grosvenor Hall.

MOLLIN—In this City, Nov. 24th, Paul Mollin, aged 8 months. Funeral this morning at 11 o'clock. Interment R. C. Cemetery.

CONNOLLY—In this City, Nov. 24 Mrs. Christina Connolly, widow of the late Daniel Connolly, aged 78 years. Funeral from her late residence, 9 St. Lawrence Street, Tuesday, Nov. 25th, at 8:45 to the Church of the Most Holy Redeemer, Interment R. C. Cemetery.

Conservative in its investments Liberal in its treatment of policyholders Confederation Life Association