WEST KENT SCHOOL PUPILS GIVE ANNUAL CONCERT

Strand Theatre Crowded By Appreciative Audience—Entertainment Was a Huge Success.

The annual school concert of the pupils of West Kent School was held last night in the Strand Theatre before an audience that packed the hall to overflowing. From all viewpoints the entertainment was a huge success and one of which the pupils and staff of the school may feel justly proud. From the initial chorus to the National Anthem the interest of the crowded house never tired, but was held by a smoothly moving program that was not marred by long waits which was a noteworthy and commendable feature, saying much for the labor and forethought of those in charge of its arrangement.

One of the pleasing features of the whole program was the choruses rendered by the entire school as follows: "O Canada," "Wind Song," "Hail Smiling Morn," and "The Empire Flag." There were a number of drills, all excellently rendered and in perfect time. A Wreath Drill by twenty-four primary pupils, an Indian Hunting Drill in native costume, by twelve intermediate pupils, "Dollies on Parade" with action songs by nine junior pupils, "We are Creepy Little Scarecrows" a motion song by junior pupils all revealed painstaking training and were most creditably performed.

Miss Ethel Henry and Masters John Squarebriggs and Robert Mason in the humorous dialogue "We Tried to Tell His Wife," and Master Lemuel Prowse in the reading "The Bald-Headed Man" were enthusiastically applauded. The school singing "Oa Floy I Gally Take My Way" with Master George Raymond in pantomime occasioned uproarious laughter and applause. Scottish dancing by Masters Clarence Walker and Gordon MacDonald received a warm hand. "Ghan-son Treest" was exquisitely rendered on the violin by Master Robert Hyndman and a piano duet, "The War March of the Druids," by Prof. Ball and Geo. Raymond was warmly applauded as was also "The British Grenadiers" by a male quartet. Physical exercises by the older boys, and timed to music was something entirely new and elicited warm applause and much favorable comment.

The two master pieces of the entertainment, however, were the one act playette "A Visit to the Oil Regions" and the grand concluding "Pageant of National Airs." These in themselves would have constituted a full concert. The former, as highly humorous comedy was acted by the following cast: Angelina, Evelyn Jenkins; Aunt Becky, Jean McLean; Ezekiah Hooper, Fred Pickard; Stanley Billoch, Lloyd Ward; detectives—Reginald Keys and George Raymond. The dramatic talent exhibited was of the first water and the conclusion of the piece was the signal for deafening applause.

Thirty boy scouts and thirty girls in costumes depicting the countries of the United Kingdom, took part in the pageant, during which the following appropriate choruses were sung "Men of Harlech" Loch Lomond, Come Back to Erin "O Canada," "Rule Britannia" and "The Island Hymn" Miss Elinor Cook took the tableau part of Britannia.

Much of the success of the concert was due to the good work of the accompanists headed by Prof. Ball. His assistants were Miss Bernice Stultz and Miss Kathleen Hornby, violins; Miss B. Agnew, Mrs. Vernon MacLeod and Master Walter MacNutt, piano.

MASSEY DOES NOT AGREE WITH GEDDES MOVEMENT TO OUST LLOYD GEORGE

(Canadian Press)
LONDON, Nov. 14.—An incipient revolt against former premier Lloyd George, holding the joint leadership of the Liberal party with H. H. Asquith, was today's development in the plain speaking which has surrounded that party since its poor showing in the recent election.

Mr. Lloyd George was rejected by the Conservative party in the famous caucus in Oct. 1922, which put an end to the coalition government and brought Stanley Baldwin into the leadership of the Conservatives. The Labour party never would have anything to do with Mr. Lloyd George and now while Mr. Asquith "is journeying to Egypt to consult the sphinx on the Liberal riddle," as Austen Chamberlain the Secretary of State for foreign affairs, facetiously remarked in a speech yesterday, Capt. William

Crow's Nest Case To Be Appealed December 4th

(Special to Guardian)
OTTAWA, Nov. 14.—Because the question at issue is held to be one of fact as well as of law the cabinet after prolonged consideration of the whole situation today declined to fix the 4th of December for a hearing of the appeal on the Crow's Nest case. The appeal was taken immediately after the Railway Commission had directed the removal of the Crow's Nest schedule operative since last July but the Premier and several of his colleagues being in the West at the time the only decision reached was to defer consideration until they returned. This is now followed by the fixing of December 4th for the hearing.

MANY WILL BE OUT OF WORK

(Canadian Press)
GLACE BAY, Nov. 14.—Coal shipments to the St. Lawrence are nearing a close. Only four more trips are in sight and by the end of next week the Dominion Coal Co. will have filled its Montreal and Quebec contracts for the season.

While no official announcement has been made it is understood work at the collieries will be curtailed considerably after the middle of the month, as after that only local Maritime and Newfoundland markets, with an occasional bunker steamer will provide an outlet for local coal. There has been some talk of foreign orders but nothing definite has been done in this connection.

There is to be a reduction tomorrow in the forces at the Glace Bay shops of the Besco. A hundred men or so will get their notice this evening that their services will not be required for the present. The shops have been working under reduced forces for several weeks past.

MONTREAL POLICE PROBE CONTINUES

MONTREAL, Nov. 14.—Alderman O'Connell, who had been mentioned by Chief of Police Heintz as intervening to prevent cases being made against local coal companies for short weight in their coal deliveries, testified at the inquiry into Montreal police affairs, now being conducted by Mr. Justice Coderre, this afternoon. Alderman O'Connell said he had intervened in one case because it was an honest company of good people, who did not want their names before the public in that light. Later it had been proven, he said, that the city scales had been wrong.

Honors Demos told of being ill-treated at the hands of Constables Gagnon and Dupuis, and his evidence was corroborated by other witnesses. They had, he said, searched him and finding no money, severely beat him up, and later they took him to the police station and laid a charge of assault against him.

Another witness heard was a former inmate of a disorderly house, whose name His Lordship ordered not to be published since she is now married to a respectable citizen. She stated that during the summer of 1918 she had taken $50 to Captain Sauve, on behalf of Miss Brown, at whose house she had been.

Islander Among Those Arrested for Halifax Robberies

(Canadian Press)
SYDNEY, N. S., Nov. 14.—Wilton MacNeill, 28, Alex. Willie Morgan and his wife Mary were arrested here this afternoon and are being held for the Halifax police on charges implicating them in the numerous recent house breakings and robberies in the garrison city. Two other members of the gang, a man and a girl are being sought tonight.

When the room the MacNeill's occupied here was raided, the police found opera glasses, half a dozen watches, many pieces of jewelry and a club bag full of miscellaneous valuables believed by them to be goods stolen from the Courtney residence and other apartments recently ransacked.

MacNeill says he is a native of P. E. I. and claims he was ever in Halifax and claims he has resided for the past seven years until recently in Toronto. Unfortunately for this story, the Chief of Police of North Sydney has identified him and his wife as a couple who gave them considerable trouble last year while the Sydney Mines authorities alleged that they worked a con game in that town in 1922.
