"Captain Caution" At Capitol Theatre Summerside

Daring action is high lighted in big red epic, with roaring action of battles on the high seas, the thrilling, smashing action of two vessels fighting for supremacy is unfolded with terrific impact and amazing realism in Hal Ross's "Captain Caution" which opens this evening at the Capitol Theatre, Summerside. Starring in the film are Victor Mature and Louise Platt, and in prominent supporting roles are Bruce Cabot, Leo Carrillo, Bruce Cabot, Vivienne Osborne, Robert Barrat and Miles Mander. The screenplay for the production was written by the noted scenarist Grover Jones. One of the big jobs, facing the "Captain Caution" company was the rigging of the good ships "Olive Branch" and "Beetle" which take part in the sea battle during the War of 1812.

The film, a bang, rough-and-tumble fight between Victor Mature and Bruce Cabot in "Captain Caution" required two and one half days to film. Both actors used to do a lot of amateur boxing, but they agreed that this so-called sham battle was the most strenuous in which they had ever engaged.

—ST. MARY'S BRIDGE—The regular weekly bridge was held in St. Mary's hall this week. The hostesses were Mrs. L. A. Moore, Miss Marion Holland, Mrs. Keltin Cameron and Mrs. Grace Profitt. A number of ladies called at the tea hour and enjoyed a social half hour.—S.

—CORPORAL IRVING OF NO. 9 S. F. T. S., Summerside, left this week to spend his furlough at his home in Toronto.—S.

—This morning his batman, driver Tommy Hunter of Kelleher, Sask., and I sat with him for an hour while he wrote orders and messages about things he had seen and done in his vigorous newspaperman style of thinking, they amounted to plenty.

—Capt. Purrell's appointment as P. R. O. of the Canadian Corps was announced Oct. 25, 1940, by Defence Minister J. L. Brudenell, C. B. He took up the appointment Jan. 1, leaving his post of General Superintendent of The Canadian Press on leave of absence. He is recognized as one of Canada's most able newspapermen.

—Capt. Purrell was born in Brandon, Man., son of the late Philip Purrell, of the late newspaper, and editor of the Brandon Sun and King's Printer for Manitoba. He is a graduate of University of Manitoba, married and has three children.

—He started his working career on the Hanna (Alta) Herald, later going to Windsor, Ont., where he wrote for the Star. He joined the Canadian Press staff at Winnipeg in 1928, was named general news editor in 1932 and general superintendent in 1934.

—Mr. and Mrs. O. C. MacNeill of Summerside were in Cranau on Wednesday to attend the funeral of Mr. Warren Newsum.—S.

—Mrs. Anderson and little son leave by plane for Montreal, where they will in future reside. Their many Summerside friends regret to hear of their departure.—S.

—Rev. A. D. Shirling of Kensington and Rev. M. Hoddinott of North Bedeque will exchange pulpits next Sabbath, Nov. 2, according to instruction of Presbytery in order to present the claims of the M. and M. Fund.

—AS THE WIND BLOWS

—STOCKHOLM (CP)—Sixty policemen held back the crowd and the show was 15 minutes late in starting, when King Gustav attended the American movie "Gone with the Wind" for Red Cross benefit.

—The average German the rapid fall of France was a surprise and the declaration of war against Russia was unexpected and bitter blow, added Miss Lane. "The war on two fronts has the populace war prisoners, Polish, Czech and French, were to be seen at work all over Germany in fields and factories. Notices were posted that severe measures would be taken if people talked with them, or attempted to be friendly.

—Some British and Canadian prisoners were in Berlin in Berlin, the population drab. Goering was particularly hated and virtually everybody was in uniform of one sort or another.

—There are fewer salutes now and the belief is growing that this isn't going to be a short war after all," said Miss Lane. "Contrary to orders a large number of people measuring his words, not considering his phrasing as if he wanted the interpreter that he assigned to me to convey to me every syllable in its implication and direct meaning.

—For Hitler he had more than the anger he would necessarily have for a man who had double-crossed him; it was a personal hatred that I have seldom heard expressed by anyone in authority. I don't want to overdramatize the scene. I'm not sure at all that I can't.

—But the cold, implacable hatred he has for the German Fuehrer was clearly evident. Stalin's huge hands half clenched. I think that Joseph Stalin would have liked nothing better at that moment than to have had Hitler sitting where I sat. Germany would have a new Chancellor. On every other subject he was a steady, gracious, schooled diplomat.

—Hopkins disclosed that he talked with Stalin for almost four hours on the subject, "sit, which was the one he described as "sit."

—Not once did he repeat himself," Hopkins observed. "He talked as if he knew his troops were shooting straight and hard."

—Hopkins said "the Russians seemed fully as determined as the British to see this fight through."

—He seemed quite as certain that Hitler would be licked and all that he represents erased," he wrote. "But where the Englishman assures of that by his manner, his cool indifference to incidental setbacks and difficulties, the Russian is apt to go poetic.

—A young Russian flier replied to my comment about the effect of the approaching winter would have on the war: "There is autumn coming but there is spring in our hearts." He was saying merely what the kids of the R.A.F. had told me with their easy smiles and calm eyes, their tongues mute."

—Hopkins says that Stalin did not want the United States army or navy.

—"Russia wants to fight her war herself," he said. "Her manpower reserves are huge. But Stalin also told me, frankly, what Russia needs, that her main weakness may give all their strength to the cause which is ours as well as hers.

—"Stalin asks for tanks, for planes, for big guns, anti-aircraft guns, anti-tank guns, anti-submarine guns, and for the superb high-octane gasoline that America produces and is shipping to England. Stalin asked for huge quantities of barbed wire, too."

HOPKINS TELLS

—The week-end meeting will afford Mr. King and Mr. Roosevelt the first opportunity for a talk since Mr. King made that suggestion in a speech in London, a suggestion on which the President has not yet made any comment.

—The problems to the fore at the moment and which concern both countries are:

1. The delicate situation in the Pacific area arising from Japan's expansionist policy and uncertainty whether that policy will lead to either aggressive action on the part of the third member of the Rome-Berlin-Tokyo axis;

2. The problem of getting supplies to Russia and the prospects of continued effective Russian resistance to the German invasion;

3. North American defence, including co-operation between the forces of the two countries on both the Atlantic and Pacific, the engagement of defence establishments in the United States, the transportation of the forces of a country through the territory of the other;

4. The monetary exchange position in Canada and the United States;

5. Possibilities of a co-ordinated price and wage control system between the two countries with the United States following the lines of the market order for Canada in order to check inflationary tendencies which, should they become marked, might spread from one country to the other.

DID YOU TAKE A LAXATIVE TODAY?

Do you really know why constipation is so harmful?

You probably know that constipation sets up poisons in the large intestine or colon. But do you know that these poisons seep through the walls of the colon and infect the bloodstream? They set up toxic accumulations in kidneys and liver and are contributing causes of rheumatic pains, sciatica and back-ache.

Most laxatives only act in the colon. Kruschen does more. It is the laxative with double action. Besides ridding the colon of stagnating waste matter, Kruschen's mineral salts have a diuretic action. They flush the kidneys, help to clear the bloodstream of all poisonous matter, and so protect your whole system from the form of infection of rheumatic pains, sciatica and back-ache.

You can get Kruschen from all drug stores. Prices 75c, and 25c.

ten to the British broadcasts."

Coming out of Europe, she added, was like escaping from a horrible nightmare. The first thing she did was to first. Then plenty of movies—all funny ones.
