PRINCIPAL'S REPORT
Mr. Chairman, Rev. Fathers, Ladies and Gentlemen:
To-day we arrive at the close of another school year, and it is my duty and privilege to present to you a resume of the activities of this school for the year 1942-1943.
The school re-opened last September, there were 87 pupils enrolled, 39 less than in September 1941. A large enrollment on the opening day is an indication that the parents and guardians realize the importance of their children's education. Each year many parents see and realize more fully how indispensable a good education is to their children. It is difficult to distract and discourage pupils may be avoided if pupils are sent to school on the re-opening day, and every day possible throughout the entire school year.
As teachers, we endeavor to instill into the youthful minds the ideals of honesty, integrity and truthfulness. The three virtues which influence a child are the home, the school and the church. Education begins in the home and is continued in the school and the church. We see the necessity of a good home environment. The children are primarily the parents' responsibility, and parents should and must realize the grave responsibility which is theirs.
Juvenile delinquency is on the increase here, as it is in most urban centers. The effects of the present war tend to make matters difficult in the school as well as in the home. Due to the fact that many fathers continue to be absent on military duty, we find that the necessary parental guidance and control is lacking in some cases.
With tardiness we are not contented to that during the early winter months, in homes distant from school and in the absence of their fathers, it is difficult to get children to school at nine o'clock Atlantic War Time. Probably in future the opening and closing hours may be advanced during the shorter and colder days of winter.
We still have some parents who allow their children to remain away from school, and we regret that children are permitted to leave school during school hours, without a sufficient valid reason. This endangers the youthful mind's spirit of indifference which is detrimental to the child's education.
During the months of December and January a mild epidemic of influenza was prevalent in the school. The health condition of the pupils in the junior grades. Good health is essential to each pupil to ensure his success. The many physical defects pointed out and reported to the parents, should be carefully checked and remedied where at all possible.
Dr. E. C. Keeping conducted an immunization clinic here and inoculated many children against that dreaded disease—diphtheria. May I remind parents that before a child may be permitted to enroll here, he must be vaccinated successfully.
Some parents leave all the teaching to the teachers. Some children begin school without knowing even their simple prayers. May I remind parents that each day a pupil receives homework assignments, something to do as well as to learn. Pupils in the lower grades especially require supervision in their homes with those assignments. Unless this is given the desired progress and advancement is greatly retarded in invariably every case.
Under our present educational set-up, too many pupils leave school without attaining the desired educational standard. This is due to several reasons, the chief of which are lack of perseverance, the inability to master the subject in the lower grades, and indifference on part of the parents. Each year we have between seventy and eighty beginners in grade one, and each year we have but ten, a few more or less, completing the work prescribed for the tenth grade. This is not a new situation here. It has existed for a long, long time. And until we have established here vocational schools, and as long as we expect pupils to pass the most difficult examinations of his lifetime, the entrance examinations,—just so long will present conditions continue to exist.
Under the very capable supervision and guidance of Mr. Barlow, the manual training department continues to do splendid work. The fact that many pupils who have very great interest and earnestness in this work, and hence little in their academic studies, is proof of the fact that the manual training room.
There are some men, former pupils of this school, who are today earning a livelihood as carpenters, who obtained the initial knowledge of their trade in the manual training room.
The past year has seen an increase in the use of motion picture films in our school, as an aid to education. Almost each month, during the school year, Miss Hilda Gillis, B. A. B. Paed., presented pictures depicting various phases of our war effort, refugees and industries, and other items of national importance.

Film Board we extend our sincere thanks.
Fitting observances of Remembrance Day and Empire were made. On each occasion an appropriate programme was arranged and a special service was held. Two months closed in February were conducted by Mr. J. Pius Callaghan. We regard this as a very essential part of a pupil's education and one which is too frequently neglected. When a young man or young woman enters public life without some previous training in this, he or she is indeed greatly handicapped. Two teams from the Grade X class delivered debates at three public functions, and received very complimentary comments from those present.

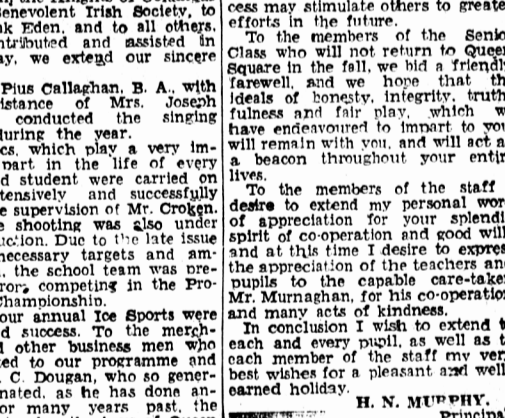

Of last year's staff, two members are not with us. During the summer, Mr. Ivan Walsh, B. A., had taken a leave of absence from his position as Lieutenant. On the completion of his course he went on active military service. During his brief stay with us, as a member of the teaching staff, he worked conscientiously and well, and achieved very creditable results. That he may return safely after the war is our sincere wish. Miss Gertrude MacAulay taught until September 15th, when she accepted an appointment on the staff of the Montreal School of Montreal. Miss MacAulay had done very creditable work in this school for a considerable number of years. By her cheerful disposition she had won her way to the hearts of the pupils and the members of the staff, and we regretted her going very much. In her new field of labour we wish her every success. The vacancies were filled by Mr. J. Reginald MacDonnell and Miss K. Doyle. Mr. MacDonnell, who is a member of the staff of the Holy Trinity School of Montreal, has had considerable experience in the field of education in this province, and Queen Square is indeed fortunate in obtaining the services of Mr. MacDonnell. Both he and Miss Doyle have fitted themselves in admirably, and have obtained a goodly measure of success during the year ended.

We were pleased to learn some time ago of the promotion of Major E. J. H. Morrissey to the despatching staff of the Royal Canadian Air Force in Ottawa. In whatever field of labour he worked in the past he had given of his time and talent unflinchingly and wholeheartedly, and consequently his promotion was not a great surprise to us, but a very pleasant one.
To the donors of medals, prizes and trophies on behalf of the school, I extend sincere thanks. It is indeed gratifying to compile such a lengthy list, made possible only by the interest and generosity of those who help stimulate that spirit of friendly rivalry and competition.
To the prize winners and to all others who worked conscientiously and well, I offer sincere congratulations, with the hope that your success may stimulate others to greater efforts in the future.

To the members of the Senior Class who will not return to Queen Square in the fall, we bid a friendly farewell, and we hope that the ideals of integrity, truthfulness and fair play which we have endeavoured to impart to you, will remain with you, and will act as a beacon throughout your entire lives.
To the members of the staff I desire to extend my personal word of appreciation for your splendid work, and to offer sincere congratulations and to wish you well in the future. I am sure that at this time I desire to express the appreciation of the teachers and pupils to the capable care-taker, Mr. Murnaghan, for his cooperation and many acts of kindness.

In conclusion I wish to extend to each and every pupil, as well as to each member of the staff my very best wishes for a pleasant and well-earned holiday.
H. N. MURPHY, Principal.
