Gardens For Unemployed Are Progressing
An illustrated lecture on Canadian National Parks was delivered in Prince of Wales College Hall last night by Mr. Robert J. C. Stead, Ottawa, Supervisor of National Parks and Information of the National Park Service of the Dominion Government. Premier Campbell presided and introduced the speaker.

The Premier announced that a sound tone picture of this Province had been made and was at present showing in Summerside. Later it would be available to theaters in this city.

Mr. Stead in opening his address spoke in glowing terms of the natural beauties of Prince Edward Island.

He went on to refer to the establishment of National Parks in Canada. The first was Banff and its establishment followed the discovery of hot sulphur springs by surveyors of the Canadian Pacific Railway in 1885. The springs were supposed to possess curative qualities for those suffering from rheumatic ailments. An attempt was made to exploit them for the purpose of control of the find for purposes of the use of the people of Canada and their dependents for ever. As a result the first Park in Canada was a private one with an area then of ten square miles.

The United States had done the pioneering work along the lines of National Parks, the speaker said. From that small beginning in Alberta had grown the present great system of National Parks in the Dominion. Mr. Stead went on to refer to the establishment of other parks in Canada mentioning the Jasper Park, with an area of 10,000 square miles, the largest on the North American continent.

Reference was made also to the establishment of the new park in this Province and to the one in Cape Breton. Parks were a valuable feature in attracting tourists and had been one of the experiences of Prince Edward Island. The park was suitably developed to warrant giving it publicity, tourist traffic could be developed by any government agency, Mr. Stead pointed out. There were many countries competing for the traffic and the Dominion was in a position to advise in many ways regarding the tools, seeds, planning out the garden, etc. One thing that the speaker stressed was that every gardener will go to the garden, the evenings and advise those who have had no experience as to the proper way of gardening. It is to Mr. A. L. Wright, the credit should be given for his undertaking, for it was he who first introduced this idea in the press; and he and his staff have worked steadily to bring the matter to a successful issue.

LAND WHITE WHALE AT VERNON
A white whale was landed on the shore near Vernon Bridge Thursday. Whales are seldom seen about the shore of Prince Edward Island and a white one here is considered a novelty. Dingwell McLeod, Louis Sullivan, James Nicholson and Eusebio McDonald of Vernon Bridge and Malcolm McLeod of Cherry Valley, were proceeding along the coast in a motor-boat when about eight miles off shore between Point St. Lawrence and Island when they sighted a long white object in the water. The men immediately obtained their shot guns and commenced firing at the object. After four hours, during which time about 40 rounds were fired, the men sailed up and discovered the whale. The white whale which they took in tow and landed in the vicinity of Vernon Bridge. The whale measures 12 feet eight inches in length, 40 inches around with 18-inch flippers and a 32-inch tail.

of her history.
"She must possess the great treasure of culture that came from old France and the institutions of ordered government that came from the British. She must realize how much the union of her great national legacies meant in the early days of settlement and the new land to the south, how they were consolidated through a railroad, insistence upon the tradition of Britishness, and the preparation for the preservation of the best there in these nations and the best there is within our own borders. She must be able to fight against brute force and might and ruthlessness, and if need be, for high purposes endure more."

"If the English speaking people can unite today for purposes of trade relations surely they must also unite for mutual security."

VALEDICTORY
By Lt. Governor DeBlais
"Your Honor Lieutenant Governor DeBlais, Dr. Steel, Your Worship Mayor Foster, Honorable members of the Government, ladies and gentlemen and fellow students.

"Once again it is our privilege to meet in the commencement exercises of Prince of Wales College. For many of us it is in reality a day of commencement rather than a day of leaving off. College life is ending, but the more important business for which we are destined is only beginning. At the present time our feelings are mixed. We rejoice that preliminary trials are over and that we are prepared to face the stern realities of life in a more capable manner. We regret to leave behind us the happy care-free days of the pleasant recollections of youth, and the pleasant associations of college life.

During the past year it has been our sad privilege to benefit by the final teaching of our beloved Principal, Dr. S. N. Robertson. Dr. Steel our president says that as long as there remains one who has passed under his supervision a monument more enduring than granite is assured and even after all his students have passed away, there will remain enshrined in the hearts of the people of Prince Edward Island a feeling of respect and veneration for the great educationalist. Always a supporter of the right and just, he was never with those in trouble. It might truly be said that as Wellington:

He never sold the truth to gain
Or paltered with the eternal God
For power.

It is gone and it shall be a memory that will guide us as we say in future years that we are his last students. His burdens have fallen upon the shoulders of Dr. G. D. Steel, our present Principal, and we rest assured that he is the man to guide our educational destinies, and in that light of trust, our present Principal will continue to carry on, true to his high ideals and great traditions of the past, and I wish to extend my congratulations to him and to the other members of the staff, upon the success of the past year's work which I am glad to know has been carried on in an exceptionally efficient manner.

As I sit in my office a few days ago thinking of what I might say to you, my student friends, I would be of some assistance as you travel along life's highway, I would like to know what message would Dr. Robertson want you to take with you when you leave this morning, and the flash, he would speak to me in the most important thing in life, the one and only thing that can help you to go through life successfully, and that you are able to take with you when the time comes for you to leave this world. Now, what is that all-important thing? Is it money? Certainly not. Is it popularity? No. Is it power? No. Is it education and high intellectual attainment? No. You all know that I have mentioned here the place of usefulness if properly handled, but there is something of far greater importance and it is that honoured word "Character," for character is the one thing that will give you the value of a non-satisfying, for without character a man is like a ship without a rudder, drifting with the tide, with the result that his life is a man of unstable character, guilty of dishonest practices, although he may have considerable capital behind him.

MRS. ROBERT CUMMINGS
Friends will learn with regret of the death of Mrs. Robert Cummings, at her home in the city on May 13th, of Mrs. Robert Cummings, at the early age of 49 years. Although in ailing health for a number of years her passing came as a great shock to her family and friends.

Born in England, a daughter of the late John Parker, she came to this province at an early age, and with the result that Mrs. Cummings was a kind and loving disposition and will be sadly missed in the home of her son, Mr. Robert Cummings, and her daughter, Mrs. H. R. Stewart.

She leaves to mourn her passing a sorrowing husband and two children, Miss Helen and Mrs. H. R. Stewart. Also a brother in England, Harry Parker.

The funeral which was largely attended was held from her late residence Sunday May 15, the service being conducted by the Rev. Canon E. H. Malone. The pall bearers were Annes MacMahon, John Duffy, Joseph Curley, Henry Sherman, Morley Smith and Mark Pound.

Gone but not forgotten.
