Prince County Nominates Conservative Candidate

Mr. J. F. Arnett Chosen At Enthusiastic Convention

Popular Young Business Man Unanimously Nominated To Contest Federal Election At Mass Convention Of Prince County Conservatives In Summerside Yesterday.

An exceptionally large and enthusiastic convention of the Liberal Conservative party held in the Agricultural Hall at Summerside on Tuesday afternoon, Mr. J. Frank Arnett of Summerside, was nominated as Conservative candidate for Prince County in the forthcoming federal election campaign.

The convention was represented by all the polls in East and West Prince, West Prince sending a record number of one hundred and twenty five delegates and East Prince ninety-eight delegates. They were supported by a very large number of enthusiastic followers of the Conservative party and others.

Mr. D. B. MacDonald, President of the East Prince Association, very ably presided, and in a brief speech expressed his pleasure in seeing such a large and representative attendance, especially as the weather was unfortunately not all that could be desired. He emphasized the need of all getting together and putting their shoulders to the wheel and bringing about a change of affairs.

The meeting was then declared open.

After the roll call of delegates, the appointment of a credentials committee and other routine matters, the following resolution moved by Mr. John Hackett, Tignish, seconded by Mr. Shelton Sharp, Bideford, and very enthusiastically supported by Messrs James E. Birch, H. B. Huestis, J. F. Arnett and others was unanimously passed by a standing vote.

Tribute to Mr. Wyatt, K. C.

"This convention of the Liberal Conservative party for Prince County, having learned with disappointment and regret that the Hon. J. E. Wyatt, K. C., has decided not to be in the field for re-nomination as our standard bearer for this County, and considering the many years of faithful and valuable services given by him to the cause of our party in this County and Province, this Convention desires to express publicly to Mr. Wyatt and place upon record its deep appreciation of his many services rendered and sacrifices made by him in the interest of our party, and to assure him of our continued esteem and good wishes for many years of health and happiness and that we may long enjoy his cooperation."

Declares Vote Moral Victory

ANNAPOLIS ROYAL, Nov. 5.—Rev. S. J. Woodroffe, rector of Saint Luke's church, gave a strong address Sunday morning in favor of Temperance Reform. Taking as his text, "The Lord God omnipotent reigneth," he stated that he considered the plebiscite vote on Thursday last, was one of the greatest moral victories ever won. "The president of the Temperance Reform was at one time one of Mr. Woodroffe's parishioners and he expected great things, as they had promised to stand behind the churches."

Unearthed

BUFFALO, N. Y., Nov. 5.—Discovery was announced yesterday of two bodies believed to be those of General Trideaux and Col. Johnstone, British officers killed in 1759 during an attack on old Fort Niagara, then held by the French.
Workmen restoring the old fort who were making excavations to locate the foundations of the old French chapel known to have been there came upon the bones Saturday. William W. Kincaid, president of the old Fort Niagara Association, said last night there is reason to believe the remains are those of the British officers.

Sees Great Possibilities For British Settlers In The Maritime Provinces

ST. JOHN, Oct. 5.—The Maritime Provinces should settle only the class of British settlers who have a few thousand dollars capital to enable them to start a hennery, a fox ranch, or some profitable sideline, in connection with their farming activities. Such was the opinion given here last evening by J. W. P. Cardell, free lance writer of England, who has just completed a tour of Canada for the British Broadcasting Corporation for broadcasting purposes.
Mr. Cardell, who passed through Saint John a few days ago in connection with a hurried visit to New Brunswick and Nova Scotia, arrived here again yesterday afternoon from Digby and left last evening on the Montreal train en route to Ottawa, where he will visit before returning to the Old Country.

He expressed himself as being very much pleased with the Maritime, and likened them to England, more so than any other part of the Dominion. His only regret was that he had not longer to stay and study the numerous historical places of the country.
Mr. Cardell felt that there was plenty of room and opportunity for British settlers in this province, but stressed the point that the authorities must be very careful in selecting their new citizens, as men without some capital back of them would find it more difficult to make agriculture as successful an enterprise as he could in the Prairie provinces. Immigrants with three or four thousand dollars could on the other hand make as good here as they

MACDONALD EULOGIZES OVER HIS VISIT

To United States And Canada—"No Ambassador Could Have Received a Warmer Welcome" Said Ramsay In House of Commons.

LONDON, Nov. 5.—The Premier of Great Britain, Right Hon. Ramsay MacDonald, making an eagerly awaited statement in the House of Commons today upon his recent trip to the United States, expressed thanks to President Hoover, the Cabinet, the Senate and representatives for the welcome they gave him. They showed the best kind of friendship, he said by the candor with which they exchanged views and the straightforwardness with which they raised and discussed questions of delicacy. Mr. MacDonald remarked he would have little to add to what had been printed in the press. His discussions with Premier Mackenzie King of Canada had been only provisional. Although he had had to raise some questions that might easily have been presented to the public in such a way as to re-awaken old prejudices from beginning to end he had found nothing but thoughtful fairness and a desire to cooperate and to place facts and issues justly before the country. "No government or people could have opened their doors, their minds and their hearts more to a guest," Mr. MacDonald explained.

Perished

HELSINGFORS, Finland, Nov. 5.—Stories told by thirteen refugees who had escaped from a Soviet prison on an island in the cold White Sea, indicated that sixty other prisoners who had fled at the same time may have lost their way in the trackless frosts of the North or have perished in the snow.
The thirteen who made good their escape, after felling the guards who watched them labor in the forest, were discovered yesterday on the border by Finnish guards. Many were in a state of almost complete exhaustion and all had suffered severe hardships. They had little hope for the survival of their comrades of whom they had heard nothing since the escape.

(Canadian Press)
NEW YORK, N. Y., Nov. 5.—The following wireless from Kiel, Germany, is published in today's early edition of the New York Press: "Fifty-three peasant families, comprising 323 persons, whose ancestors migrated from Germany to Russia under Catherine the Great, and who, together with about 5,000 other peasants, desire to migrate to Canada, arrived here today aboard the Soviet steamer "Felix Deserinskii," without money or food. ### Education Not Getting Anywhere Says Dr. Sexton

President Of Can. Educational Assn. Makes Earnest Plea On Behalf Of Teachers In His Presidential Address At Halifax.

(Canadian Press)
MONTREAL, Nov. 5.—Trenchantly attacking present day education methods, Dr. F. S. Sexton, of Halifax, N. S., in his presidential address to the Canadian Educational Association, now in session here for a three day convention, declared education was not getting anywhere, was tinkering with old machinery, crumbling under the blighting force of dogma and tradition, lacking in progress, cursed with divided loyalty and quibbling in the ranks, badgered with routine, and harboring a sense of futility. It seems, he charged, as if business is mounted on a "thoroughbred" and education is astride a "Clydesdale," lumbering hopelessly in the rear. Discover and retain all these who have the gift of teaching. Give them prestige above all public servants and provide them with an income to live decently, to keep themselves growing and refreshed and to be relieved of the cares of debt and dependent old age.

TO TEST NEW SOURCE OF CITY WATER SUPPLY

Wells Have Been Sunk At Chosen Location Near Brackley Point Road.

Tests of the new prospective water source for Charlottetown by which it is hoped to considerably augment the present supply at the reservoir will be begun this week at the chosen location near the Brackley Point Road, about four miles from the city.
Twelve wells each about 22 feet deep have been sunk, and are connected by a one section main.
During the last ten days the suction pipe has been laid, and when pumping is begun an accurate record of the flow of water will be kept.

The site has been chosen from a number of possible sources of supply, and is admirably located in a long watershed sloping from the north, south and west with a stream flowing east. A surface test about a year ago, previous to the sinking of the well, and a test for the purity of the water have given rise to hope that in the project lies the solution of Charlottetown's water problem which, although it has never become serious, has been the subject of considerable anxiety.

Since the building of the reservoir the consumption of water within the city has increased greatly owing to the greater variety of use to which it is put. If the supply tests of the new source warrant, the water will be pumped to the reservoir over the ridge of high land separating the two watersheds. In order that a satisfactory supply might be ensured the tests are being held at the time when water is lowest.
