MODISH SILKS.

Surah or silk serge, for many makers call what is practically the old time surah by the latter name, is making a strong bid for popularity, and it is made up into attractive frocks and three piece or two piece models.

A light weight net with irregular and only vague wate, design is used for silk coat and frock costumes, and much more often in combination with other materials than alone.

As for taffeta it seems to have reached the top note in favor, but instead of being made up in semi-tailored styles is seen more often in quaint models reminiscent of 1830, and in many cases with much fussiness of trimming details.

Minard's Liniment Co., limited. . . .

Gentlemen.—Last Winter I received great benefit from the use of MINARD'S LINIMENT in a severe attack of LaGrippe, and I have frequently proved it to be very effective in cases of inflammation.
