WALL STREET MIRROR SAYS:

One way to look upon the market beginning today is that the worst of the depression is over, in fact, it might be said that with possibility a few bad sessions ahead that the market has entered a buying range.

It was called to your attention here on Dec. 27th that the short interest would start a sharp drive on prices on Jan. 5th and 6th.

MR. JOHN JELLEY

At his home in O'Leary after many months of intense suffering there passed to his eternal reward Mr. John Jelley at the age of seventy-two years.

The deceased had been in poor health for the past two years and for over three months was confined to his bed. His long and painful illness was borne with true Christian fortitude. He was tenderly cared for by his wife assisted by their daughter, Mrs. Thos. Woodbridge.

The funeral was held on Sunday the 21st from his late home to the United Church at O'Leary where an impressive service was delivered by Rev. Mr. Myatt of the Nazarene Church at Unionville.

The pall-bearers were Messrs Thos John, and Robert Harris, Herbert and George Jelley and Ernest Rogers. A very large number of people who had gathered to pay to the departed a last tribute of respect and esteem formed a long concourse which followed the remains to Springfield West where interment was made in the Baptist Cemetery.

The late Mr. Jelley was born in Freehold, Lot 11 and came to Unionville with his parents when a child. For upwards of forty years he conducted an undertaking business and also carried on a carriage-building business in O'Leary.

For the benefit of fishermen and inhabitants of towns and cities along the New England coast, a special forecast will be made for the Atlantic coast north of Sandy Hook, N. J. This prediction will come under the head of "conditions," replacing the former forecast for north and south of Sandy Hook.

Definite predictions for areas of the different States, it is believed, will make the weather reports simpler to understand in all New England localities.
