Handsome Wives Brings Happiness To Blind Heroes

(By The Canadian Press)

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia, July 16—One of the most interesting experiments in settlement of blind war veterans has been successfully worked out in Ventrenik, a village near here where all the husbands are sightless and the wives are happy and handsome.

Seven years ago the population of the country came forward to marry the blind soldiers and one of the happiest in this Balkan country.

Credit for the success of the scheme goes to its originator, Dr. Velyko Ramadonovich, head of King Alexander Institute for the Blind at Zemun. He and his wife are responsible for the happy marriages at Ventrenik where they are known as "father and mother."

In an interview Dr. Ramadonovich told of the interest taken by the late King Alexander in Yugoslav soldiers blind in the war. He gave a large part of his personal funds to help them and founded the Zemun institution.

The King, who was assassinated in France last year, agreed with a suggestion that a model village should be founded where each blind veteran should be able to work his own plot of land and become self-reliant. The men were ultimately given small farms with guaranteed markets for their produce.

On the King's suggestion that wives should be found for the veterans Dr. Ramadonovich and his wife worked for girls willing to become their partners.

"We needed 30 wives but we had applications from well over 60," he said, narrating this phase of the early arrangements for the colony. "Most of the girls came from Slovenia in northwestern Yugoslavia where the people are especially religious."

"What surprised me were the good looks of nearly all these girls. For each man we selected a wife and there was no personal choice in the matter. I said to each man: 'We have found a good wife for you, and to each girl we said: 'Here is your future husband.' Then they were married right away."

"Apparently we chose well for all our marriages turned out happily. Every marriage took place in our own chapel before a priest and best man to the bridegroom at the same time. Each bride had a bridal gown and bouquet, presented to

Apology Fails To Impress Audience

Mr. Claire Campbell's Explanation Of Liberal Failure To Get Subsidy Increase Not Taken Seriously By St. Anthony Electors.

The meeting at St. Anthony Hall, Lot 5, was more or less of a burlesque, in fact one man who attended said it was the most amusing joint political meeting he had been at for years. Mr. Campbell providing the fun as he tried to explain the subsidy question. The hall was filled to capacity. Mr. Bennett Peters was chairman. Mr. Claire Campbell was the first speaker, representing his brother, Mr. Thane A. Campbell, K.C., but he was, according to some of the listeners, a pretty poor apologist, as his knowledge of politics could go no further back than his memorable trip with ex-Premier Saunders to Ottawa to deal with the subsidy claims. And he was a little hazy on that at times. After interrupting Mr. Campbell several times during his speech he confessed his knowledge of politics did not go back very far. He amused the audience as he tried to tell them of ex-Premier Saunders' attempt to obtain a small portion of the subsidy due to Prince Edward Island.

Mr. G. M. Matthews, Conservative candidate, put Mr. Campbell in his place as far as the Liberals' claim to any very large amount of subsidies went. The Conservatives had obtained $375,000 from Ottawa as compared with $100,000 by the Liberals. Besides that, Mr. Matthews said, the Conservatives got $40,000 from the Canadian National Railways and considerable money for old age pensions and unemployment relief grants, besides large sums of money for education and libraries. It was a pity, said Mr. Matthews, that Mr. Campbell's knowledge of politics was so limited and he would know that the money obtained from Ottawa by the present government is the largest amount ever obtained by any government since Confederation. (Cheers.)

Mr. Henry Peters is proving an able debater on party politics and handed out some home truths on the questions of the hour.

After Mr. Aeneas Gallant had spoken Mr. Oliver Peters addressed the meeting on behalf of the Liberal candidates. Except for the fun caused by Mr. Campbell's play acting the meeting was very orderly and all the candidates got a good hearing. S.

Mgr. MacLellan Is Signally Honoured

There was a large congregation from all parts of the Island at St. Paul's Church, Summerside, on Tuesday morning for the solemn investiture of Rev. Mgr. MacLellan, V.G., as a prothonotary apostolic of His Holiness Pope Pius II. This is one of the highest offices that can be given to any dignitary of the Church of Rome. His Excellency Most Rev. J. A. O'Sullivan, Bishop of Charlottetown, performed the sacred ceremony with all the colourful ritual of the church. Rev. Dr. MacMahon read the apostolic letter, Rev. Mgr. MacLellan making his vows before His Excellency Bishop O'Sullivan.

His Excellency addressed the congregation, speaking very highly of their pastor who had just been so signally honored. Rev. Dr. MacMahon, rector of St. Dunstan's, preached an eloquent sermon appropriate for the occasion. He spoke of the honor that had just been bestowed upon Rev. Mgr. MacLellan, V.G., as a reward of over thirty years of faithful service in the church. Mgr. MacLellan had fulfilled the duties of a priest, whose work is to teach and sanctify. These two things were exemplified in their beloved pastor.

Mr. J. E. Dalton was called upon to read an address of congratulation to Rev. Mgr. MacLellan, V.G., on behalf of the parishioners and Mr. Mark Gaudet presented him with a gift on behalf of the congregation. Solemn Pontifical High Mass was celebrated by His Excellency Most Rev. Bishop O'Sullivan, assistant priest, Rev. Dr. Murphy, rector of St. Dunstan's Basilica; deacons of honour, Rev. Francis MacQuarrie, St. Dunstan's University, Rev. Urban Gillis, Wellington; deacon of mass, Rev. Dr. Ellsworth, St. Dunstan's; and Rev. J. E. MacNeill, Tignish; Master of Ceremonies, Rev. Louis A. Dougan, St. Dunstan's Basilica; thurifer, Rev. A banquet was held at the Clifton Hotel at 12.30 in honour of Rev. Mgr. MacLellan and the different priests from all over the province who attended the service. S.

Address And Presentation

The ratepayers of Springvale School, accompanied by the Y. P. S. of Princetown Road, and the Christian Endeavour Society of Brookfield met on July 8th at the home of Mrs. Flora McLeod and presented Mr. W. Ira MacDonald, retiring teacher of Springvale School, with a lovely gift, and congratulatory address.

Mr. Everett Johnston acted as chairman, and especially in Miss Florence Dollar who read the following address:—

Mr. W. Ira MacDonald, Dear Sir,—The announcement of your departure from our midst came as a surprise to the majority of the ratepayers of Springvale School District, therefore, we, as your friends and neighbors for the past year have gathered here tonight to express our regret.

During the year you have occupied the position of teacher in our school we feel sure you put your best into your work. You have displayed talent, amiability of disposition and untiring sacrifice putting in many long hours in the schoolroom, which were not required of you.

Few of us as parents fully realize that a teacher, especially in a rural school, requires a double measure of tact, patience strength and poise to carry on their work. In a rural school, a teacher has to deal with so many different grades; all the way from A B C's to Geometry, and no matter how long a teacher tries to do his duty a great deal of his success depends on the co-operation of the ratepayers; especially the parents; for if the parents shirk their responsibilities to their children, no amount of hard work by a teacher will quite make up for the lack.

During the year you have spent with us by your untiring efforts on behalf of your scholars you have earned for yourself a place which will always stand as a testimonial to your ability as a teacher.

Your love will be felt not only in the schoolroom, but also in the hearts and Young People's Societies in both our churches. Your help in these capacities, and in the other spheres of activity was very much appreciated, and it is with feelings of genuine regret that we submit to your departure.

Being conscious of the interest you took in all the affairs pertaining to the good of the community we could not permit your retirement without showing in a more tangible manner than mere words our appreciation of you, and now we ask you to accept this gift as a symbol of our respect.

In conclusion we beg to assure you that in leaving us, you carry our best wishes and the sincere desire of every one present for your continued success.

Signed Florence Dollar, Edna Proude

On behalf of the Ratepayers of Springvale School, Y. P. S. Princetown Road, C. E. S. Brookfield.

The presentation was made by Miss Edna Proude.

Mr. MacDonald made an appropriate and feeling reply, expressing his heartfelt thanks and appreciation.

Rev. Mr. Palethorpe then addressed the gathering, pointing out to the parents the necessity of co-operating with the teacher if they wished their school to be kept up to the highest point of efficiency.

The remainder of the evening was spent in music and games. A very hearty lunch was served by the ladies, and after tendering the hostesses, Mrs. MacLeod a vote of thanks the happy event was brought to a close by singing "Auld Lang Syne."

Partner—But why did you engage that man as cashier? He squints, has enormous ears and a big, outstanding nose, and a mammoth mouth.

Manager—I know, but he will be easy to identify if he ever absconds.

Liberals Crushed By Hon. Mr. Sharp At Tyne Valley

Mr. Dennis Again Expressed Dissatisfaction With Saunderson-Lea Government — Conservatives In Fine Fighting Form.

In a vigorous ten-minute rebuttal at the Tyne Valley meeting on Monday night, Hon. G. Shelton Sharp answered the criticisms of Mr. G. H. Barbour and proved from figures that Mr. Barbour's statements were false and misleading.

Mr. Barbour's criticism that the Government had not acted in its rigid economy platform, in appointing five Crown prosecutors, instead of having one for the whole Province, Mr. Sharp stated that they had appointed five, giving the Liberal regime, Mr. Hayward, Crown Prosecutor received $3,000, while their five officers received $500.00 each, making a total of $2,500, a saving of five hundred dollars. (Cheers.)

Mr. Barbour had said that the Government had too many cars. Mr. Sharp replied that the Premier has his own car and the Public Health nurses' travelling expenses are paid out of the Public Health Insurance. The only other cars are for the Department of Agriculture and Public Works.

Mr. Barbour had proposed to effect economy by an allowance on mileage. That might roll up a large bill, Mr. Sharp contended.

In answer to the statements about the Long Creek Bridge Contract let to Elmer Sharbell and the statement that he paid the labourers 11 cents an hour, Mr. Sharp came back with the answer that Mr. Sharbell's tender was the lowest. The present Government had established a minimum wage of 25 cents an hour. The Liberals could have done that but did not. (Cheers.)

Mr. Sharp: "We appointed Dr. Murchison, an expert in mental diseases, and Dr. MacLaughlin accepted a subordinate position at a salary of $1,200 a year."

Mr. Barbour wished to know why, if I thought the Saunderson-Lea Government wrong in signing away fishermen's rights, did not fight for them against the matter instead of leasing oyster beds," said Mr. Sharp. Mr. Sharp scored a point there, with the explanation that he only leased a small area extending from his own property and did not do that until several months after the leases were advertised. (Cheers.)

Mr. Barbour's glaring misstatement as to permanent highway costs Mr. Sharp stated very emphatically was utterly misleading. Mr. Barbour asked why that was for a concrete bridge and not for the permanent highway which is costing $11,000 per mile.

Mr. Sharp scored another point, when in answer to Mr. Barbour's question that if the taxpayers of the Port Hill and some other places at this end of the district knew what Mr. Sharp was spending on a bridge in West Devon he would never be elected. Mr. Sharp stated that he did not want to be elected if he legislated only for the classes and not for the masses. These people paid their taxes and they were entitled to a square deal. (Loud applause.)

The meeting, presided over by Mr. Ernest G. Ellis, was very orderly. The commodious hall was packed to the doors with many listening outside.

Commended Government Record

Mr. Russell Rogers, the first speaker, was tendered a great ovation. In a very able speech he went over the record of the Government and laid particular emphasis on the benefits the Province enjoys under their rule. Car ferry rates had been reduced from $7.00 to $3.00 round trip for automobiles; Local gravel had been used in permanent highways; $150,000 had been for a time from the Dominion Government; Large sums had been expended for unemployment relief; $100,000 had been received from the Carnegie Corporation, and many other benefits. "Is that a good record?" asked Mr. Rogers. "Well if it is, vote for the Conservative Government on the 23rd and have a continuation of these benefits that have meant so much to the Province."

Mr. Dennis Dissatisfied With Liberal Government

Mr. Dennis said the Liberals appreciated the $150,000 but it is only an implementation of the Duncan Commission.

Defending himself for coming again before the electorate, he said the Conservative candidates are prating a lot about the record of the Liberal Government, but I say, "We have nothing to do with the previous Liberal Government. (Laughter.) That book is closed. It is evidently did not receive the approval of the people, as they condemned it to four years ago." He was not going to say whether their judgment was a little harsh. But they must do better than previous Liberal governments. We must lessen the interest charges. We are now dealing with the record of this Government. He then went on to belittled the efforts of the Government in rebuilding Falconwood. He understood the east, and west wings could have been used for patients.

Bank Teller—How much do you wish to deposit, madam?

Woman—Oh, I don't mean that kind of an account. I mean an account like I have at the store.

HAMILTON MEETING IS CONSERVATIVE

Messrs. McNutt and Arsenault Aply Refute Criticisms Of Liberal Opponents.

At the joint political meeting at Hamilton on Monday night Mr. Linkletter, Liberal candidate, classed the imported gravel on Island roads as an asset of the Provincial Government.

Mr. MacNutt in replying to Mr. Linkletter said that it could not be classed as an asset. It should not be charged to capital account, and could not be classed as an asset unless its usefulness lives the term for which the debentures were issued. (Loud applause.)

Mr. John Simpson presided at the meeting which was largely attended and decidedly Conservative.

Mr. Marvin Gallant spoke first for the Liberals, followed by Mr. A. F. Arsenault who very ably laid the Conservative case before the electorate and successfully answered the many criticisms of his opponent.

Mr. T. M. Linkletter was assisted by Mr. Walter E. Darby.

In answering the criticism of Mr. Linkletter that they had lost $10,000 insurance on Falconwood Mr. MacNutt explained that that was not the government's fault, but that they had put an additional $75,000 on Prince of Wales College, and were fortunate to have that when the fire occurred.—S

PLEASANT GROVE W. I.

The June meeting of the Pleasant Grove W. I., was held at the home of Mrs. James Hardy.

Meeting opened by singing "Old Black Joe."

Nine members were present and four visitors. Minutes of last meeting were read, approved and signed.

Sick committee reported one call made and fruit brought. A bill of 26 cents was presented and paid. New committees were appointed as follows: Sick, Miss Nora MacKinnon; Mr. Dr. MacLaughlin accepted a subordinate position at a salary of $1,200 a year.

Members decided to give a treat of ice-cream to the school children and visitors at the school closing.

Next meeting to be held at the home of Mrs. John Hardy, roll call to be answered by "Ways of Raising Funds." Lunch was then served by the hostess. Program consisted of a P. E. I. Contest.

had done the best it could under the trying years in which it held office. The subsidy claims, bond issue, education, and public health were all dealt with and the Liberal misstatements torn to shreds. Mr. Sharp concluded amidst a round of applause.

Mr. Barbour confined his remarks to criticizing the Mounted Police, Falconwood and the oyster fishing.

Seventeen bridges had been built at different times and three more are being built. After reading the names of each contractor, Mr. Sharp proved the falseness of the Liberal candidates' statement that the contracts had all been given to one man. Twenty-seven different men had been engaged in the construction of twenty bridges and the contracts had been in the immediate vicinity where work was to be done.

He denounced the Liberals for criticizing his actions for fixing up the Beaton bridge. There had been numerous requests for that work while the Liberals were in power, but the people were not on the main highway, so they received no attention.

Mr. Sharp said the present Government was legislating for the masses as well as the classes, and anything within reason was going to be done.

In his forceful speech he proved conclusively that his Government
