Great Demonstration Planned at the Funerals of Those Killed—Those Were Prevented However—Great Patriotic Demonstrations Held in Warsaw four Disguised Detectives Shot and Killed

St. PETERSBURG, Nov. 6.—(Special)—Sunday happily passed without disorders or bloodshed. The revolutionists had planned a great demonstration in connection with the funerals of those killed in last week's riots but Gen. Treppoff prevented this and the funerals were held in private.

In Warsaw great patriotic demonstrations were held by crowds numbering two hundred thousand citizens. The guards kept order and the military were present in the streets. The militia today shot and killed four disguised detectives found trying to provoke disturbances.

SAD TRAGEDY IN NEW BRUNSWICK

One of the Lumber Kings of the Province accidentally Shot While Going Through the Woods The Gun Caught in a Piece of Brush—Well Known Throughout the Province as Prominent Business Man.

CAMPBELLTON, Nov. 6.—(Special)—One of the saddest tragedies in years occurred Saturday evening when Kilgour Shives, one of New Brunswick's lumber kings and the manager of Shives Lumber Company was accidentally shot and killed.

Aid was summoned and all attempts made to carry Mr. Shives to shelter but he became conscious and had to be set down as he was suffering terribly. Then an eggine was sent to Campbellton for a doctor but Mr. Shives died shortly after the doctor arrived. He was conscious to the last giving directions as to his business, instructions for his funeral and messages of farewell to his wife and family.

TIE FOR THE CHAMPIONSHIP

Victorias and Abegweits Former Win Game From Prince Edwards

A goal from a drop kick by Blake gave the Victorias the game with the Prince Edwards Saturday afternoon and scored a victory for them in an evenly contested and at times sensational game. Gormley of the Prince Edwards crossed the Victoria line for a "try" the kick for goal failed and the game ended 4 to 3 in the Victorias favor.

The game was late in starting. It was nearly four o'clock when the teams were brought together, and because of accidents and delays it was finished in the twilight. The Prince Edwards, for the first fifteen minutes played one man short, but when he arrived the Victorias generously allowed him to take his place in the line. The Princes showed that since their first game they have steadily gained strength. They played with a snap that was surprising for a light team, and their back line, particularly Coyle, Ritchie, and Gormley, did excellent defence work. They held their opponents down to a draw in the first half and more than once looked dangerous, just as the whistle blew for half time J. Mahar who had been playing an excellent game for the Princes fractured a bone in his leg. He was attended temporarily by Dr. Brent Foley and afterwards taken in the ambulance to the City Hospital where the bone was set.

In the second half the Victorias dropped Reddin to even matters. The result of this half is told above, and the game ended Vics. 4, Princes 3. Blake's kick from the field counting four points. The play at times was of a somewhat ragged, but none the less interesting nature. The Victorias were without some of their regular players; on their half line were two new men, who nevertheless showed up to advantage. James MacMillan of the Abegweits refereed in his usual satisfactory manner, and the game was remarkably clean and free from roughness.

This match finishes the League series. The Victorias and Abegweits tie for the Provincial Championship and will probably play off.

The result of the series is as follows:

He had been educated and carried on an extensive practice in Boston where he is very well thought of.

GREAT AMERICAN HOTEL FOR LONDON

American capital has invaded London to erect a first class hotel of the American type and two first class theatres, at an aggregate cost of $1,500,000.

To be situated in Aldwych street between the Strand and Holborn, each of the theatres will form a wing to the hotel structure. Aldwych street is a new thoroughfare recently opened with much ceremony by King Edward.

Architecturally the hotel is patterned after the Waldorf-Astoria, in New York, and it will be known as the Waldorf. The theatres will be known as the Waldorf and the Aldwych. Shubert Brothers will manage the first and Charles Frohman the second.

Warning & White, the London branch of the New York firm of J. G. White & Co., are the builders, and A. Marshall Mackenzie of Aberdeen, is the architect. Containing four hundred bedrooms and two hundred bathrooms, the Waldorf Hotel will be sixty feet higher than either of the theatres. With a facade of white Portland stone on a base of Aberdeen granite, ornamented with a row of columns the front elevation of the building will be striking in appearance.—N. Y. Herald.

DRESS SUIT CASE DEVELOPMENTS

BOSTON Nov. 2.—Morris Nathan admits intimacy with girl, which may have been responsible for her condition.

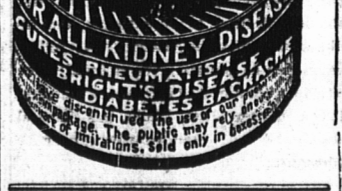

He admits that on Sept. 11, the day after she left home, he pawned her diamond ring at the Collateral Loan Company. This, the police presume, was to pay for the criminal operation. This was the very day the "P. A. Smith, M. D." certificate, mailed in Roxbury, was sent to Lowell.

Nathan admits that on Sept. 10, the date the dress suit cases were purchased, and the day on which, at 6.30 p. m., the girl's last letter to the mother, postmarked Salem, was put into the mail, he was in Boston and that he called at the "Mrs. Dr. Bishop" office in Tremont street for the purpose of ascertaining his sweetheart's whereabouts.

The police have no doubt the girl wrote the letter but they think Nathan addressed it and posted it at Salem, when he returned that evening to take up his duties with the company.

The police are inclined to exclude Mrs. Geary, the girl's mother, from any criminal knowledge of the case. A fair reading of the letters, in the light of all the knowledge of the case, would seem to make the seemingly suspicious references therein perfectly natural ones, the "doctor" mentioned being probably the "P. A. Smith, M. D." who forwarded the certificate of illness.

Nathan was arrested on a charge of abortion when he crossed the Massachusetts' line, Thursday afternoon. When he reached police headquarters he fainted and had to have the services of a physician.

CANDIDATES FOR THE MAYORALTY.

There Will Probably be Three Contestants For Honors Councillors Not Yet Out.

Considerable time will yet elapse ere the Civic Election of 1906 will take place, the date being the second Wednesday in February. Already however citizens are beginning to turn their eyes to the prospective candidates for civic honors, and although no citizens have as yet signified their intention of offering themselves for councillors, there is some definiteness as to whom the mayoralty candidates will be.

Several weeks ago Councillor James Paton, who has won considerable credit by his administration as chairman of the street committee, intimated that he was in the field for Mayor at the request of a large number of citizens.

This has been the only formal announcement yet made. It is understood however that Councillor Hooper, who has sat at the council board for twelve years, will also be a candidate at the solicitation of a number of his supporters.

His Worship Mayor Kelly has given no public intimation of his intention to be a candidate and to The Guardian representative who waited upon him on Saturday he said that in his opinion the time had not yet arrived for a public intimation from him on the matter. It is understood however that His Worship will be in the field for a second term.
