—WINS 1ST PRIZE IN BABY SHOW—The following item of news will be of interest to friends and relatives in Prince Edward Island. The news was received in a letter to the Guardian from Mrs. Ralph Steele, Allston, Mass. Mrs. Steele writes that her little son, Robert Daniel, won the first prize in a baby show in Cambridge, Mass., on September 12th. There were over 400 babies in the contest. This is quite a feather in the little lad's cap. It will be remembered that Mrs. Ralph Steele was formerly Miss Affleck of Bedouque. Master Robert Daniel Steele is therefore the great grandson of Alexander Affleck of Seartown (and also his only great-grandson). Mr. Affleck celebrated his 90th birthday last year. Mrs. Steele, however, has resided with him since the death of her husband. On the other side of the family Master Robert comes of an equally illustrious family. His father is the late Daniel Steele, formerly of Summerside and now well known in sporting circles in Boston. Master Robert can also claim relationship to the late John Steele veteran horseman of Summerside and his only great grandson. Islanders congratulate Master Robert on his success.—S

In Memoriam

MISS SIMPSON

A lady of exceptional character and ability came to rest at The Charlotte Residence early yesterday morning in the person of Miss Jessie Campbell Simpson who had attained her eighty-eighth year. Miss Simpson came with her mother to make her home in Charlottetown soon after her brother, the late Reverend Canon Simpson had been appointed incumbent of St. Peter's Cathedral over fifty years ago. Previous to that she had travelled extensively in different countries of Europe and became an accomplished linguist. A large circle of friends, particularly amongst the members of St. Peter's congregation of which she was such a regular and faithful member, will cherish her memory and extend their sympathy to her immediate relatives, Mrs. James Simpson, Rev. Dr. Cuthbert Simpson of New York, Mrs. H. L. Palmer and Mr. Hugh Simpson and other nephews and nieces in the United States and Europe.

MR. BILLIE MOONEY

Citizens of St. Teresa's and vicinity were shocked and saddened when news came to them of the accidental death of little five year old Billie Mooney, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Mooney of East Orange, N. J. Little Billie was known to all, had made a wide circle of friends for himself, both here and in the neighborhood in which he lived in East Orange. To know him was to love him. Much sympathy was shown for his grandparents Mr. and Mrs. Peter Curran of St. Teresa's with whom the little fellow spent a part of last year, and another grandmother, Mrs. Jas. Mooney residing at Peakes.

At the time of his death, Billie, with an older brother was visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Pat Kenny, and with a number of children were enjoying the lovely waters of Lake Hopewong, N. J. It seemed as if the Angels couldn't resist Billie's winsome ways and bore his little spirit off to his Heavenly Father, for the children were so carefully watched, that an accident seemed impossible. First aid was rendered the little fellow when he was found in distress, and a doctor summoned, but God's ways are not ours, and little Billie went to join the Heavenly host.

There are also left to mourn, the grief stricken parents, and for Mr. and Mrs. Kenny, with whom the child was a great favorite. Flowers, letters and messages of sympathy tokens of love for little Billie and sorrow for his heart-broken parents, and four little brothers and sisters poured into their saddened home for which Mr. and Mrs. Mooney wish to express their sincerest thanks, and appreciate all that was done for them in their sad bereavement.

There are also left to mourn, a large number of loving aunts, uncles, and cousins, who will always cherish his little smile, and have fond memories of the little pet who budded on earth to blossom in Heaven.

Text Of Speech By Chamberlain

(A.P. By Guardian's Special Wire)

LONDON, Sept. 27.—The text of Prime Minister Chamberlain's speech today follows:—

Tomorrow parliament is going to meet and I shall be making my full statement of the events which have led up to the present anxious and critical situation.

An earlier statement would not have been possible when I was flying backwards and forwards across Europe and the position was changing from hour to hour.

But today there is a lull for a brief time and I want to say a few words to you men and women in Britain and the Empire, and perhaps to others as well.

But, first of all, I must say something to those who have written for me and myself in these last few weeks to tell us of their gratitude for my efforts and to assure us of their prayers for my success.

Heart-Breaking

Most of those letters have come from women—mothers, or sisters, or our own countrymen, but there are countless others besides from France, Belgium, and Italy, and even from Germany and it has been heart-breaking to read of the growing anxiety they reveal and of their intense relief when they thought, too soon, that the danger of our disaster was past.

If I felt my responsibility heavy before to read such letters has made it seem almost overwhelming.

How horrible, fantastic, incredible it is that we should be digging trenches and fitting gas masks because of a quarrel in a far away country!

It seems still more impossible that a quarrel which is already settled in principle should be the subject of a war.

Need For Patience

I can well understand the reasons why the Czech government has been unable to accept the terms which have been put forward by the German memorandum, yet I believe that, after all the talk of peace, it is not possible to reach a settlement by agreement under conditions which would ensure fair treatment to the populations concerned.

You know already that I have done all that one man can do to compose this quarrel. After my visit to Germany I can vividly how Herr Hitler feels that he must champion every German whose grievances have not been met before this.

He told me privately, and last night he repeated publicly, that after the Sudeten German question is settled, he does not want to join the German Reich.

Complete Surprise

After my visit to Berchtesgaden, I did give to the Czech government the proposals which gave the substance of what Herr Hitler said to me. I was completely surprised by his reply. He said that he would accept the terms of the proposals, but that he would not accept the terms of the proposals which would eliminate the whole value of the plan in seven years. Thus, at the end of the 10 years, the plan would be without value. This, in my opinion, was "ridiculous."

ENGLISH—MacBEATH WEDDING

CAMPBELLTON, N. B., Sept. 25.—The home of Mr. and Mrs. Donald MacBeath, Campbellton, was the scene of a wedding yesterday afternoon when the youngest daughter, Rachael Olive, became the bride of James Fraser English, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. H. English, Campbellton. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Dr. F. H. MacIntosh.

The rooms were decorated with a profusion of asters, gladioli and pinks. The bay window embrasure there is decorated with a swathe of white and pink flowers. The bride was banked with tall vases of autumn flowers. The wedding marches were played by Miss Mary Patterson.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a frock of light weight wool in leaf green, with a lightly shirred waistline, the bodice having a high neckline draped to shoulder yokes. An old gold ornament, a touch of contrasting color, and a corsage of yellow roses war worn. The bride's hat was of brown felt, with a wide and alligator.

Mrs. John R. MacLean, Souris, P. E. I., sister of the bride, as matron of honor wore a frock of black tulle with a white and pink girle tied in front and edged with multi-colored fringe, an off-the-face felt hat, suede shoes and white gloves. Her corsage was of deep red roses.

J. MacKay Anderson was groomsmen. During the evening of the register Miss Mary Patterson played Schubert's Serenade.

The reception was held when upwards of 70 guests were present.

In the dining room the bride's table was covered with a Cluny lace cloth and centred with a low bowl of pansies. The bride's hered wedding cake also decorated the table, and pansies were used on the buffet and about the dinner table.

Other guests at the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Troy and Mrs. Colin MacLachlan, who presided over the tea cups. Mrs. G. Wyers-Sanson replenished. Assisting in serving were Mrs. Edward Whitaker, Edmondston, Mrs. J. G. Emerson and the Misses Margaret Anslow, Charlotte Troy, Frances English, Frances Stewart and George Miller.

Late in the evening the groom left by car for a wedding night through Maine. For traveling the bride wore over her wedding dress a coat of blue boucle with beaver collar and cuffs. Her hat and other accessories were in brown.

On their return Mr. and Mrs. English will reside in Campbellton, where the groom is in business with his father.

Out-of-town guests at the wedding included Mr. and Mrs. Harold Merry, Moncton; Mr. and Mrs. Edward Whitaker, Edmondston; Mr. and Mrs. John R. MacLean, Souris; P. E. I.; Mrs. V. S. Grier, Montreal, Mrs. J. P. Brown, Little Rock, Ark., and Dr. W. H. Mann and Kenneth Mann, Halifax.
