Noted Opera Star A "Country Jake"

NEW YORK, Aug. 6.—(C.P.)—Suzanne Fisher, soprano of the Metropolitan Opera Company, likes singing best in her own tiny and place. Her favorite place is the top of an apple tree in the Shenandoah Valley of West Virginia, where she was raised.

"I always used to sing all the time when I was a little girl," she explained. "I had one tiny farm for sweeping, another for feeding the chickens, yes, even for the dishes—You see I'm just a country jake at heart." The "country jake" is slender with grey eyes and a mop of brown curls. She occupies an apartment in the "snooty" neighborhood of West 68th Street. In Memoriam

MRS. FLORA MACDONALD On Sunday evening, August 1, at 8.25 p. m. Mrs. Flora Macdonald, passed away at her home in Caledonia. She had been ailing for some months and just four days before had taken to her bed for the last time. She will be greatly missed in the home and we can only pray that He that emptied it of her presence will fill it with His presence.

Mrs. MacDonald, was 79 years of age being born in 1858 in Hazel Grove, P. E. I. Just 54 years ago she was married in Charlottetown and came to her husband's home in Caledonia, to take up her new residence. It was there that her husband passed away in 1901. In 1907 a son Samuel also died and a daughter, Margaret May, in 1914; two more sons, John N. and Alexander J. passed away in 1921 and 1932 respectively. Only one daughter, Christina, Mrs. P. J. Butler, of Boston, and one son, Donald J. MacDonald, of Edmonton, Alberta, are left.

At the time of her death Mrs. MacDonald, was living at her home with her grandson, Oliver and his wife. A few days before the end came a granddaughter, Florence came home from Boston to nurse her.

Of her own family one sister, Catherine, Mrs. Dr. McKay, of California, and a brother, Mr. Angus Nicholson, Hazel Grove, predeceased her in 1895 and 1925 respectively. Two sisters, Isabella, Mrs. Finley Macdonald, of Brookfield, and Margaret, Mrs. A. D. MacPherson, of Charlottetown, were present at the funeral. A third, Sarah, Mrs. James Paterson, of Charlottetown, the eldest sister, being 85 years of age, was unable to attend but her daughter, Miss Jennie Paterson, was present.

A short service was first held at the home at 2 p. m. on Tuesday, August 3rd, and then the funeral service was held at the Caledonia Presbyterian Church by the student-pastor, Mr. John W. L. Young. He spoke on Three Descriptions of Death as they are found in II Peter 1: 14, 15, and finally II: "An entrance shall be ministered unto you abundantly into the everlasting kingdom of our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ." A large gathering was in attendance at both the church and the home including most of the relatives from Hazel Grove and Charlottetown. At the conclusion of the service the internment took place in the Caledonia cemetery.

The pall-bearers were: Messrs. Alec R. MacDonald, Frank Nicholson, Russel Nicholson, Norman MacDonald all nephews of the deceased, and Pope Bagnall and Eric Ferguson.

MOUNTAINEER RESCUED ALIVE

Injured Calgary Youth, Trapped on Ledge, Removed.

(C. P. by Guardian's Special Wire) From a cot in Princeton Hospital, Thomas Griffiths, cage tender, gave The Canadian Press the following description of the 400-foot fall of a cage down the No. 1 shaft of Copper Mountain Mine, near here, yesterday. Seventeen men were injured. Griffiths suffered injuries to his feet.

(C. P. by Guardian's Special Wire) MORLEY, Alta., Aug. 5.—Trapped for more than 40 hours on a narrow mountain ledge, Humphrey Cooper, 21-year-old Calgary mountaineer, was rescued today. After a dangerous, difficult descent to the ledge, Victor Kutschera, an Austrian guide, brought Griffiths to the mountain top after he had fastened a rope sling after the injured climber.

Injured in a 700-foot tumble down the rocky face of End Mountain, Cooper was believed to have suffered concussion and fractured ribs.

A rescue party headed by Constable W. P. O. Soloway, of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police is bringing Cooper over the rough mountain trail to the base camp, 15 miles west of here. He is being carried in a stretcher and is expected to reach the camp tonight.

While weak, Cooper is in surprisingly good shape, according to the guide. Cooper fell to the ledge at 7 p. m. Tuesday while he was on a mountain hike 10 miles from the top of a Y. M. C. A. camp where he had been spending his vacation.

A doctor is waiting at the base camp to attend him, and after emergency treatment, it was expected he would be brought by the ambulance to hospital in Calgary.

Reticent On Subject Of Challenge NEWPORT R. I., Aug. 6 (C.P.)—T. O. M. Soppwith, after his second failure to lift the America's Cup, declined to say tonight whether he would challenge a third time for the famous trophy.

A suggestion he might follow the example of the late Sir Thomas Lipton, who challenged five times with his green Shamrocks, was waved aside by the British sportsman with this statement: "Just now we are looking forward to some grand, friendly racing over here."

He referred to races which will be sailed during the New York Yacht Club cruise starting Aug. 16. Both Endeavour 2nd, his second challenger, and the Old Endeavour with which he failed to lift the cup three years ago, have been entered in the forthcoming sailing contests.

So has Harold S. Vanderbilt's victorious Ranger, Gerald B. Lambert's Yankee and Chandler Hovey's Rainbow, the boat with which Vanderbilt turned back Soppwith's 1934 challenge.

"I expect it will be very good fun," Soppwith said. "We will have four very good Y. boats chasing Ranger. If she gets set upon by the British she will certainly sail away with it."

Turning to today's race, Soppwith said he was "very surprised we held Ranger as well as we did." "Endeavour sailed as well as she ever does, but you simply have a better boat. You have a very, very fast boat together with a very wonderful sail. If the air had come, light again, you would have given us a terrific hiding."

Soppwith attributed Ranger's speed to the shape of her hull. "She has a new hull in a new construction," he said. "We must turn to the tank test, Ranger, you know, came out of the tank."

Soppwith referred to experiments made with models in a tank before Ranger was built.

Under particularly sad circumstances the Guides and Brownies of St. Paul's Church, Charlottetown, have been called upon to part with two promising young members of the Company and Pack who were called to Higher Service on August 2nd 1937.

Shirley and Rosalie Hooper will be sadly missed by all who knew them, for to know them was to love them. Their sunny smiles and winning ways had won for them a host of loving friends of all ages.

To the sorrowing members of their family the Guides of Charlottetown offer their heartfelt sympathy in this their inestimable loss.

Post guide enrollment. First enrollment of P. E. I. Post Guides and Brownies was held on the lawn at the Red Cross crippled children's camp on Thursday, August 5th, by Mrs. J. Y. Reay, provincial commissioner, attended by Mrs. J. E. Harris, provincial post secretary, and Miss Mona Wilson, provincial secretary.

About twelve Guides and Brownies summering at the Brighton shore formed the horseshoe, three of them being chosen as the colour party. The new Guide recruits were presented by Helen Sherren, P.L. of the 1st Charlottetown Co. and five little Brownies discovered a recruit who wished to be enrolled as a Post Brownie.

The new Post Guides are Rosalie Doucette, Mimingham, and Myrtle Dymont, Campbellton, and the Brownie is Kathleen Gallant of Miramichi, Loretta Sawlow, a 2nd class Guide formerly of the 23rd Co. (Shirmer's Hospital), Montreal, who is also at the camp now will belong to the Island Company. The Brighton Shore Guides and Brownies spent the morning at the camp teaching the new recruits the tenderfoot test and sang some of their jolly songs for the crippled children.

The sixth and seventh Companies of Girl Guides from Trinity Church will enter camp at Brudenell on Saturday, August 7th, under the command of Mrs. Harry Cudmore.

Transportation for luggage will leave Heartz Hall at noon on Saturday and for the Guides themselves at two o'clock.

GOD BLESS OUR CAUSE

God bless our sacred cause, We plead for righteous laws Our homes to shield. Our land has suffered long From an accursed wrong, Whose roots are deep and strong, Nor do they yield.

Now let the people come, And work for God and home And temperance laws! We'll be no more deceived; Our land must be retrieved, And from this curse relieved! God bless our cause—Selected

FACE THE FACTS (R. J. McIntyre)

The Problem—The drinking habit and the drunk traffic, the first very ancient, the second comparatively modern. The first is the result of social compulsions, a desire for a cheap flight from reality, and acquired appetite. The second is motivated by avarice. Human greed for financial gain is the problem is personal, social, economic, moral and spiritual, one of the greatest evils of our age. We must end it or it will wreck our civilization.

The Proposed Solution—A deplorable situation which should cause all good citizens deep concern. Liquor is being released in a flood, artificial advertising to induce youth to drink, drunkenness, mounting, homes being wrecked, death riding the highway with grim fatalities, prisons and correctional institutions crowded to the roof, devaluation of human personality, corruption of our public life and the purpose of God hindered in the making of a better world.

Redemptive evangelism, temperance education, total abstinence, and legislation to meet the helpless addict, colossal ignorance drinking habit and the drink traffic. All must be used in the fourfold programme. The church must give consecrated leadership, must come to the problem with non-alcoholic breath, be radiantly persuasive and sacrificially exemplary. It must be motivated by a vital social passion, and impelled by a Divine dynamic.

Barriers to Progress—1. The wet press subsidized by liquor advertising. 2. The screen with its filthy drinking scenes, six days a week. 3. Inefficient religious organizations—the disciples sleep while Christ agonized in the Garden. The hesitating, vacillating politician elected on liquor campaign funds, and possessing a liquor revenue obsession. 5. The liquor interests, highly organized, united, entrenched and somewhat politically secure.

B. C. Temperance League is the approved agency of the church, and other organizations for coordinating and directing united temperance activities. It is the clearing-house bureau of information, the spearhead in the crusade. Its fundamental proposition is for every person who is opposed to the drink habit, and the drink traffic to unite with others of like mind, without reference to what any other question with respect to any other question. It constantly works to put on its program, but has been seriously handicapped for lack of funds.

The Movement Unique among philanthropic organizations in that it has organized opposition. This is not generally true of missionary, relief, hospital work, prison reform and other welfare proposals, but every step to promote sobriety and restrict the traffic is met by the power, wealth and influence of the liquor interests. We are persuaded that the solution of this problem would be one of the greatest contributions to human well-being and that should have, therefore, a somewhat paramount claim upon time, energy and Christian generosity.

Preserving Life—The movement against alcohol is more than a question of reducing the amount of drunkenness on our streets, relieving the work of magistrates of the police courts, or increasing the efficiency of industrial organizations. It is a question of preserving the life of nations from degeneration. It is a question of practicing the laws of life that nations may learn how to endure. (Dr. C. W. Saleeby). The work being done is protective and preventive. The fence at the top of the cliff is emphasized.

Meteorite Shower This Month

By Howard Blakelee, Associated Press Science Writer PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 5.—One million volunteer watchers are wanted to count the Perseid Meteors which will make their annual appearance the nights of Aug. 11 and 12.

The call for them was issued today by Prof. Charles P. Olivier, University of Pennsylvania astronomer. For several summers, spectators have been counting these meteors, giving the number seen in the Perseid Meteor Shower Society through Prof. Olivier.

The counts enable astronomers to get a better idea of the nature and habits of meteors, which are bits of dust, or chunks of stone or iron constantly flying free in space.

The Perseids are named for the Constellation Perseus, from which they appear to come. This Constellation rises in the northeast. The meteors may be seen in all parts of the sky, but the best place to look is northeast early at night and overhead from midnight on.

These meteors have never failed to appear each midsummer since they were first reported 1,206 years ago. Travelling 40 miles a second they burn from friction in the air with the momentary brilliance of stars.

"This August," said Prof. Olivier "the maximum of the Perseid Meteors occurs at a time when the moon will set in the early hours of the night, and hence will give an excellent opportunity for seeing the meteors at their best."

Chemical Warfare Talked By Nurses

LONDON, Aug. 5.—(C.P.)—Disquieting rumors of war had their influence on discussions at the International Congress of Nurses held recently in London. At a special session, delegates discussed protective measures in chemical warfare, gas and gas masks.

Miss Helen Bartholomew's Hospital Nurses, said any nurse would be thankful for the power to prevent use of gas in warfare and to prevent war altogether. "But we as nurses," she added, "like to be prepared for any emergency, even if we hope it will never happen."

Dr. N. Hammer of the British Home Office, declared gas warfare be robbed of all of its terrors by instructions and preparations against it. A population prepared was more likely to be spared than one unprepared and therefore liable to panic.

On this occasion you have not called me. I know you were delighted with it, or you would not be looking at the theatre, you could have switched off."
