Douks Still On Hunger Strike
 (Canadian Press)
 NELSON, B. C., July 21.—More than 100 doughboy women prisoners were still on a hunger strike this evening in the Nelson jail, but it was believed the strike would be ended tomorrow.

The women are protesting against the recent deaths in Vancouver of two infants, but it is officially stated from Vancouver the babies were suffering from malnutrition when admitted into hospital following a hunger strike by their mothers in Okanaga jail.

FREE STATE OFFERS CANADA WIDE MARKET

OTTAWA, July 21.—(By the Canadian Press)—The Irish Free State offers a wide market for Canadian flour and bacon, and in return for reciprocal advantages in the Canadian market for certain commodities the delegates of that country were prepared to grant this Dominion substantial preferences. Representations along these lines will, it is understood, form the case of the Free Staters at the present Imperial Conference.

At the moment Canada enjoys a considerable market in the Irish Free State for bacon, it was declared here today by individuals close to the Free State delegation. They cited that in the first three months of the current calendar year imports of bacon from Canada had increased 25 times over those for the corresponding period last year. While it was true that the Free State itself was an exporter of bacon, it was equally true that Ireland was a heavy importer of cheaper brands. In supplying that demands Canada would be offered concessions, it is understood, under certain conditions.

Another element in connection with which the Free State delegation was free to bargain was wheat. Under present conditions little wheat is imported into that country, although considerable flour enters. For the purpose of encouraging the Irish milling industry, along the lines of the policy set down some time ago by Sean Lemass, Minister of Industries, the Free State now desires to import wheat and grind it in the 30 mills which are now lying idle. Provided that Canada would extend reciprocal preferences, the Free Staters, it is understood here, are prepared to give substantial concessions to Canadian wheat.

On the other side of the scale are the reciprocal benefits which the Free State will ask for its woollens, its liquors and malt beverages. The understanding here is that the delegates will ask that Canada grant certain advantages to Free State products in these various lines. This Dominion will also be asked to extend to the Free State the preferential benefits enjoyed by Newfoundland on exports of fish. Irish tractors are also on an export basis, and those close to the Free State delegates point out that Canada does a considerable import business in such agricultural implements with the United States. The switching of a portion of that business to the Free State would be viewed with pleasure in that country.

Bob Steele Stars In "Riders Of The Desert"

"Riders of the Desert" featuring that dynamic young Western star, Bob Steele, is the current attraction at the Capitol Theatre.

In this stirring outdoor film is depicted a picturesque and punchy drama of the last days of the Arizona Rangers, with Bob Steele presented as a veritable chip-off-the-old-block son of a sun-browned Ranger.

During the action which depicts the last stand of the forces of lawlessness against the stern men of the law, practically everything in the line of thrills is offered.

Dare-devil riding, fights that make current ring battles look like pink-tea parties, hair-breadth escapes, Indians on the war-path and other incidents keep the pulse of the spectator at a rapid beat.

Bob Steele is in the thick of the fray at all times and he is capably supported by an excellent cast. Gertrude Messinger makes a petite and pretty subject for Steele's romantic moments.

A little lad with a sunny face had just eaten a banana with great relish, and then looked up at "daddy" with the inquiring smile which meant trouble for his parent.

"Daddy," he said, "supposing I'd been twins?" "Well, George," said "daddy," "supposing?" "You'd have bought the other boy a banana too, wouldn't you? Fact, I don't see how you could have got out of it." "I should certainly have bought the other boy, as you call him, a banana," said "daddy," amiably. "Well, daddy, you surely aren't going to cheat me out of banana 'cos I'm all in one piece are you?"

Basketball, stiffness—Minnard's, relief.
